Brief Synopsis of the Ceremony at the Opening.

Review of the Exposition by the Director General Gives Figures Showing How Success Was Attained-Each State Contributed Generously In the Effort to Make the Fair a Success-How the Idea of Holding a Grand Exposition Was First Started, Agitated From Time to Time, and How, Through the Efforts of Newspapers, the Climax of Success Was Reached-Other Interesting News From the White City.

CHICAGO, May 1.-The World's Columbian Exposition was formally opened today.

If April 30 had not come on Sunday, it, and not the 1st of May, would have been the opening day of the exposition, for it will be remembered that Washington's inauguration occurred on the 30th of April. The gates were opened and a program occupying pretty much that time had been made and was followed. On this occasion the president and the duke participated together. Escorted by military and civil dignitaries, they drove to the grounds, passing by the various structures to the western door of the administration build-chinery in motion. After they had their hands shaken there, the visitors were conducted to the platform on the east side, where the formal ceremonies were conducted. There were some 20,000 invited persons,

The ceremonies were performed in the $14.00 to $40.00 open air, and the guests of honor, as well

2.00 to 18.00 as those of lesser degree, had to sit on damp benches. Thousands of men, women and children, each of whom paid 50 cents for the privilege, listened to the oratory. First came music, the "Columbian 25c. to 50c. March," followed by prayer, delivered by 10.75 Mr. Milburn, the blind chaplain of con-

Is With Jan. 1, 1894 .$33,248, The Work of Various States.

The work in the states has not been suffered to lapse. In a number of states additional apropriations have been made by legislative acon, and in others counties have set apart funds or exhibits. Colorado in 1891 appropriated $100,000, but owing to excess of appropriations by the legislature only $32,000 of this proved to to available. Since that appropriations have cen me to by the state and by different counties of the state, making a total available for the purpose of being properly represented at the exposition of $167,000.

In some of the states the women have taken especial interest in securing funds for the same purpose, notably in Delaware and the Dakotas. In some cases the state has made provision for the sale of buildings at the close of the fair, the proceeds to be covered back into the state treasury. Such is the case with Kentucky, where the governor is required to take charge, after the exposition, of all minerals, etc., and all unexpended balances of noney resulting from sales of buildings, all to be covered into the treasury.

In other states, as in Maryland, an additional appropriation has been made

As a Contingent Fund to be under exclusive control of the governo and to be used only in case of emergency. The legislature of Minnesota requires that at the close of the fair all exhibits not disposed of shall be turned over to the University of the State of Minnesota. The original law of North Carolina appropriating for the fair was imperfect, and the recent legislature has passed an enabling act, making available $25,000 for he purpose of being properly represented at the exposition.

In some states the counties, towns and schools have contributed, and concerts and other entertainments were inaugurated for the purpose of swelling the funds of the state, and in still other states contributions of building material for the state buildings were presented in large quanti-

There is not one step in this making of the loaf you ate today, but shows his work.

There are many men who pray to God for every whim that strikes them hoping to learn that seed time and harvest shall not fail. The prayer of daily bread is that all mankind may act as brothers, yet it is but five years ago that four-fifths of all the bakers in Chicago went on a strike, agreeing as far as they could contrive that the people should starve. What an infamous abuse of power. What a devilish use of power. The poor you always have with you. It is a great problem. One thinker tells us how vice makes men poor, and while he is explaining people are dying for the want of daily bread. Every year new charatable societies are being formed and bread is being cast upon the water and swept to the ocean, while thousands die on the banks. We are working to that end which God designed when suffering and famine shall finally give way, but it can never be done by machinery Boston Highlands, whose summer residence that seeks to replace the watchful eye of

A woman who could not afford to have all her rooms carpeted or refloored in hard woods, adopted this expedient for some of the seldom used ones. She selected at a paper-hanger's heavy wall paper, dark in color, and conventional in design. She laid the floor first with brown paper. Then she put down the wall paper by first coating it with paste and smoothing it down. When the floor was all papered she sized and varnished it with dark glue and common varnish, which deepened the color. When it was dry she scattered a f-w rugs about, and her paper carpets have lasted for years.

Its adoption measure of excise reform.

It is salutary because it will tend to restrict the evil of surreptitious drinkng in grocery, provision and drug stores which are patronized by women, and in which the charge for liquor is added to the cost of household commodities.

It is practicable, because it will augment the city's excise revenues without a corresponding increase in the number of saloons or in the amount of liquor

It is proper, because it will do away with the unfair distinction which has heretofore existed between ordinary saloons where liquor is sold openly and stores where the same article is sold privately.-New York Sun.

Colonel Shepard's Kindness. The late Colonel Elliott F. Shepard of

New York is gratefully remembered by the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Lafayette, Ind. He was trainbound in that city one day, and on nquiring his way to church a boy pointed out the First Presbyterian and incidentally remarked that it was to be sold for debt. This influenced Colonel Shepard to attend services there, and he dropped a $20 bill on the contribution plate. After the services he made the equaintance of the pastor, and before leaving the city he deposited with him a letter which he enjoined should not be pened until the next Thursday evening rayer meeting. This letter contained a heck for $500. With this as a nucleus the congregation lifted a debt of something over $6,000.—Indianapolis News.

The store of Charles F. Tucker at Ports nouth, N. H., was broken into Saturday night. The money drawer was rifled and quantity of tobacco was taken. The body of a man found in the canal at Waterbury, Conn., is believed to be that of James Turnell, aged 33, a butcher of Thomaston, who disappeared March 13. At a special town school meeting held in Barre, Vt., it was voted to erect a new school building at South Barre, to cost $4000. Free use of the schoolhouse was granted for religious worship.

A competitive examination of candi dates for the West Point and Annapolis cadetships from the Fourth Massachusetts congressional district will occur in the Hudson (Mass.) high school building June 3.

THE PERISTYLE. Under the stimulus of this rivalry, the project began to assume greater and more magnificent proportions, and when the question came up for decision in congress, it was found best to provide for a great international universal exposition, to be held during the summer of 1893, the anniversary of the date of the discovery of America, Oct. 12, 1492, to be celebrated by appropriate ceremonies.

The act of congress, which definitely selected Chicago as the city in which the exposition should be held, and which fixed the dates of the celebration to be held in 1892, and of the formal opening and

Congressional Action. Whereas, It is fit and appropriate that the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America be commemorated by an exhibition of the resources of the United States of America, their development, and of the progress of civiliza-tion in the New World; and

Whereas, Such an exhibition should be of a national and international character, so that not only the people of our Union and this con-tinent, but those of all nations as well, can participate, and should therefore have the anction of the congress of the United States;

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That an exhibition of erts, industries, manufactures and products of the soil, mine and sea shall be inaugurated in the year 1792, in the city of Chicago, in the state of Illinois, as hereinafter provided.

The President's Sabbath.

President Cleveland and party attended divine worship at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday. The church was beautifully decorated. Immediately after the service Mr. Cleveland returned to the hotel for a short rest, and about 1 o'clock took lunch with Judge Gresham and a few others at the latter's home. The party returned to the Lexington at 3:30 . m. The remainder of the afternoon was taken up with receiving callers who flocked to see the president. At 5:30 o'clock Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Bissell and Miss Herbert took carriages with President Higginbotham and were driven to the home of the World's fair office.

How the Duke Passed the Time. The Duke of Veragua attended divine services at the Church of the Holy Family. The decorations were superb, while all were illuminated with a profusion of soft and mellow lights. After the services the party divided, the ladies returning to the Auditorium, while the gentlemen went directly to Mayor Harrison's residence on Ashland boulevard. The duke was very hospitably entertained by the mayor for an hour, and they proceeded back to his nouse, where breakfast was partaken of. Shortly after the meal his grace visited the Lexington, where he paid his compliments to General Miles. A short call was then made on Archbiscop Feehan at This virtually closed the day for him, and at 6 o'clock p. m. he was once more in his room. In the evening the Duchess of Veragua and the other ladies of the party entertained a contingent of the lady board of managers of the World's Night Displays. More than 1,250,000 candle power will be the limit of electric light at the Columbian The study of that system which shall turn night into day for the sunny six months of the present year is one of the most interesting subjects connected with the World's fair. So complete and extensive are the arrangements that the simple view of the exposition grounds at night, regardless of every feature pre sented in exhibits, will be well worth a journey to see.

Ex-Senator Ingalls' Estimate John J. Ingalls, in his graphic and terse style, says of the fair: "It is a miracle in lath and plaster, stucco, pine lumber and white paint. The statues are shells. The columns are hollow. The marble balustrades grew in the forests of Michigan and Wisconsin. The mortar cracks and scales, disclosing the delusion. Distance lends enchantment, but the art is though the arches and portals are flimsy as surprised to learn how much they can save the shack of the pioneer on the prairie.

Admiration is not lessened by the thought that in a year the insubstantial pageant will fade and dissolve, like the vision of Prospero, leaving not a rack behind."

A Timely Topic. NEW YORK, May 1.-In the church of the Divine Paternity, yesterday, the pastor, Rev. Charles H. Eaton, preached a sermon on "The World's Parliament of Religion

Dr. Eaton spoke in an optimistic manner of the benefit Christianity would receive because of the great international congress which opens today. It is a triumph, he said, of the Christian religion over all other species of worship. It will show the divine inspiration of Providence which animates, guides, directs, and quickens writing of importance in the world. Agnostics look upon this fair in a different sense, They affect the belief that it will result in the destruction of Christianity. For his part, he said, the forces of Christianity tackle those of any faith, and whoever is triumphant will be embraced by the mul-titude. For his part he had faith in the ultimate triumph of the Christian faith which in the past had come triumphant

RELAY RACE.

Sturdy Bicyclers Leave Boston on Their Trip to Chicago.

Boston, May 1.-The crowd which com pletely blocked newspaper row yesterday afternoon previous to the starting of the first relay in the great Boston-New York-Chicago bicycle race was an enthusiastic one, the greater majority being young men in bicycle costume, who had been riding all day; and wbo came to see Guy Gary and his companion, George Quinn, start on the first four miles of the race. Promply at 5 o'clock Captain A. D. Peck of the Massachu setts club gave the word, and the men were off like a shot.

A better day could not have been chosen for the start. The sky was hazy, and the gentle easterly wind which blew only made riding more enjoyable. The finish at Chicago will be of great interest. Van Sicklen, the celebrated western scorcher, will have the honor of making the final spurt. Every one of the riders in the contest will be presented with a bronze medal, and in addition special prize gold medals will be presented to the couriers in the different divisions who do the most meritorious riding.

HARTFORD, May 1.- The first Connecticut riders in the great relay race met with adverse conditions in the rain and pitchy darkness. They reached this city 1 1-2 hours ahead of schedule time.

A Democratic Political Move. PROVIDENCE, May 1. - The Democrats of the state have in view, it is asserted. a new political move. Today steps will be taken towards applying for writs of mandamus against the town clerks and councils of every town and city in the state where no elections occurred. This will include Pawtucket, Richmond, Jamestown and Westerly. In Richmond only is there a Democratic hold-over. This will renew for decision a number of vexed questions relating to constitutional interpretations, including the argument that hold-over members of the legislature are deprived by the con stitution of the right to vote on its amend-

Serious Oil Explosion. Boston, May 1.-Margaret McCarthy, a widow, 32 years old, and who has four hildren, was probably fatally burned by ighting a fire with kerosene oil at her home, 21 Greenwich street, Dorchester, yesterday morning. The oil exploded, her clothing taking fire and her body and hands being fearfully burned. Dr. Towle attended her at her home and ordered her removal to the city hospital. The hospital doctors said she would probably die. Her husband died but a short time ago.

Nominated for Mayor of Laconia.

LACONIA, N. H., May 1.—The Republicans have nominated Charles A. Busiel as their candidate for mayor of the new city of Laconia. The polls were kept open seven hours, and the vote was nearly unanimous. Mr. Buseil is a well known hosiery manufacturer and director and member of the executive committee of the

Tells the Whole Story of the Wonderful Event.

Greatest Enthusiasm Prevailed-Presithe White City-Interesting Exercises bled with readiness to leap into action at the Dedication of the Magnificent beneath their cold and still exterior.

CHICAGO, May 2.-It is impossible to convey by words from the adequate conc ption of the framework in which Chicago's panorama of action was set. "It is the most beautiful scene in all the world," was the exclamation uttered by a man who has traveled in every clime and has seen nature adorned and unadorned by art in all its phase. No name has yet been formally, or even by common consent, conferred upon the theater of yesterday's action. That it will have a name in time is beyond question, for it is a place by itself, and, though composed of many parts, makes a distinct and magnificent whole.

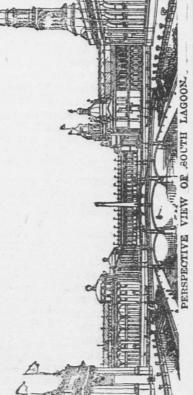

"The central court" as it is often termed, is in reality a vast unroofed court, but of dimensions so enormous as to make it seem as though a section of all outdoors had been set apart and enclosed within a closed had received with lavish hand all the beauty that arts most lavish and yet chastely guided hand could confer.

Imagine, if you can, this vast space would cause it to live itself and to send flanked by the white facades of the trenendous palaces of manufactures on one side and agriculture on the other. ead of this enclosure, crowned by the aspiring front and soaring dome of the administration building, while its foot out-bunting into which they were now rolled stretched toward the dancing waters of upon the top of as many flagstaffs and Lake Michigan, is

tice of columns supporting a graceful frieze upon which stands heroic statues. The place thus inclosed is laid out in awns, whose emerald hue is made still the scene of translucent and quivering brighter by contrast with the dazzling marble surrounding it on every side. In the centre of : Il, stretching from the front of the administration building to the ristyle and passing beneath that structure by flying arches into the lake itself, is the central basin, a long lagoon sparkling water. In this lagoon, at either end, are two of the most beautiful and imposing objects of art within the white

The first of these is the triumphal barge of state, magnificent, yet light and full of nction. Flanking this, directly in front of the administration building are the two ectric fountains which all summer long will throw jets of 50 feet into the air. At the other end of the lagoon, facing the fly-ing barge, rises the colossal statue of the Republic, 115 feet high, entirely covered with gold. The effect of this rich decoration, from the midst of its surroundings of almost universally pure white, is peculiarly striking.

Such are the meagre data from which the imaginate n of the reader, who was not there to see with his own eyes, must construct the main outline of the setting of the spectacle Into this vast field, in closed by beauty and beautified itself in every square each of its surface, poured cousands upon thousands of people. They first packed the space in front of More Thousands Came and they filled the spaces stretching down between the borders of the lagoon and the flanking buildings. Still more thousands came and they flocked into the porticos, crowded the peristyle at the far end of the lagoon and found points of view in more I fty and seemingly dangerous positions, and get there was no crowding, save, perhaps, at a few congested points. Every one was comfortable and could move with ease and could see adsolutely everything that there was to be seen.

The citizen far away on the peristyle at the foot of the lagoon could drink in as much of the beauty of the scene and appreciate as fully every detail of the ceremonies that was visible as though he were occupying a chair on the grand stand next to the president himself. He could see the gaily painted gondolas, pro-pelled by swarthy Venetians, skimming like tropical birds sippling waters from e basin. He could see flights of aquatic birds, now skimming the water and now rising in graceful curves high into the air. He could see the electric launches propolled by unseen power skimming swiftly as swallows from point to point. He could see the great gold figure of the Republic looking, with the pendant white drapery veiling her face, like some Persian beauty in the dreams of "Arabian Nights" might have been waiting with outstretched arms for the coming of her bridegroom. H could see the long lines and the groups The Multitude Was Countless and the of heroic statuary, seemingly silent, but the frequency by the spectators of the throng upon the plains far below their lofty pedestals, dent Cleveland and the Duke of Vera-gua Take In the Numerous Sights In imagine that these inspiring figures were themselves inspired with life, which trem-

brightness, and everyone knew that at that instant the dolphins, naiads and the flying horses surrounding the barge of Columbia would swim and play in the midst of jets and flying spray. What wonder, even, that the imagination should attribute an equal readiness to burst into life to all the multitude of graver figures and even to the massive buildings themselves, which have sprung as if in a night from sand. It was all these elements of anticipation which lent to the waiting throng an unusual attitude of expectancy.

As the momett of noon approached, thousands of men held their watches in hand and glanced from faces to prominent objects where the sudden flutter of a flag would show that the president had de-clared the exposition opened and had pressed the button which was to thrill the city with the spark of life. The strain of waiting wore more intense with every moment of delay, men almost held their breath and women were silent with the si-lence of tense eagerness. At last,

When the Climax Came, when all the flags fluttered, when the noble upturned face of the republic was rewealed, when the fountains shot into the air and the first gun of the salute by the revenue cutter anchored outside in the lake rent the gray atmosphere, this in-tense and silent expectancy cracked like an overstrained violin string.

At 5 o'clock the ladies of the party re turned, and Mr. Cleveland and the mem-bers of his cabinet went to the terminal station and entered their private car riage. The Earl and Countess of Aberdeen were presented. The countess was gret that his time had been so limited that ne could not visit it.

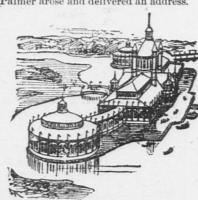

He readily consented to receive a delegation of Irish lace makers and maids. The countess presented him with a bunch of shamrock, fresh from the green isle, an Irish blackthorn, a piece of Blarney castle and an Irish point lace handkerchief for Mrs. Cleveland. At 8:15 p. m. an engine was attached to Mr. Cleveland's private car and it was taken south to Grand cross ng where it was attached to the Pennsylvania limited train for Washington.

The Most Satisfactory Feature of the day's proceedings from a feminine standpoint was the formal dedication of the Woman's building. Women who stood in the great throng at the Administration building, indifferent to the eloquence of the knowledge which everybody possessed of chief magistrate, breathlessly fought their series of lofty and noble facades, composed of porticos, columns, cornices, friezes, and the magic button. Everybody knew that the land crowded into the building, and when the hands of the clock began to point an effort to create a panic yesterday, but it failed, although the conditions were more favorable than heretofore or than they are likely to be for years. It was the general belief that most of the selling was forced iquidation due to the inability of specu lation on the bull side to respond to calls for margins and to large operators being unable to take up loans. Money was in sharp demand and loaned as high as 12 per cent, and in several instances, when loans were obtained, collateral was rejected and the collateral sold at a sacrifice.

FISHERIES BUILDING. A jubilate by Mrs. H. H. A. Beecher of Boston was the next feature of the program. Addresses were then delivered by the following distinguished representatives of foreign nations: Spain, Duchess de Veragua; Italy, Countess di Brazza; England, Mrs. Bedford Fenwick; Scotland and Ireland, Duchess of Aberdeen; Russia, Princess Schochoffsky. The hymn "America" and a benediction brought the exercises to a close.

Brokers active in Western Union and creating a market in which to unload, but that the efforts were unsuccessful. Houses which were disposed to work on the bull side liquidated their speculative accounts some time ago, believing it impossible to engineer an advance in the face of the heavy gold exports and uncertainty prevailing in regard to currency conditions, and bear traders said that they had covered the last of their shorts a week ago on the announcement by President-Cleveland that all the United States notes would be orders from the bull pools who wished to prises. sonce al their operations.

REMAINS OF BEASTS

Filled the Wretched Hovel of Hermit Murphy.

A SUSPICION OF FOUL PLAY

In Connection With the Death of His Brother.

NORTH ATTLEBORO. Mass., May 2 .- In a small, old fashioned house, 1 1-2 stories high, on the lake road in the town of Wrentham, lives a man commonly spoken of around town as "Dan Murphy, the hermit." For more than a dozen years Murphy has occupied his present quarters and had very little intercourse with the outside world.

The house sits back about 20 feet from the road and has a most forbidding appear ance. Within the past two months stories have been circulated around the town of Wrentham that a brother of Murphy's, who suddenly disappeared about four years

Was Buried There.

At the time it occurred the disappear ance of Murphy's brother created a great sensation, and he was searched for all around town. No connection with his brother's disappearance was laid to Murphy, as he appeared as anxious as any to find him. About a month ago Murphy was questioned by Constable Cook of Wrentham about the matter, and his answers were so evasive that the officer's suspicions were aroused. Deputy Sheriff Carlisle Brown of North Attleboro was notified about the case, and he arranged with State Detective George Seaver of Taunton to make

A Search of the Hermit's House. A party consisting of the above named officers went to Murphy's hermitage yesterday afternoon. The place was found deserted. An entrance was made by the backdoor. Everything was found in the wildest disorder.

The room was strewn with old half decayed carcasses of horses, etc., from which a terrible stench arose. A similar state of affairs was found in each room. One room however, apparently Murphy's sleeping apartment, bore evidences of refinement. some fine paintings adorned the walls. It was in the cellar that the remains of the man were supposed to be buried. No lamp was found in the house, so the officers were obliged to light a brand. The smell was something horrible. Bones of dead animals were piled up

To a Depth of Two Feet n some places. With some picks and shovels that had been brought along the officers began to dig up the cellar. Bones of animals were, however, so numerous that it would have been difficult to recognize human ones

The officers dug the earth up to a considerable depth all over the cellar, but were unsuccessful in their attempt. The party returned to North Attleboro late in

Constable Cook said the officers did not have enough evidence to warrant an ar-rest, but the matter will not be allowed to drop. Perhaps, he said, the body may have been buried in an outhouse. There

Upon this accepted theory, it might be supposed that Quincy people would not be alive to the advantages and worth of Norfolk Downs. The facts however are quite the contrary: Norfolk Downs is a distinct exception to the rule. Many of our best lots have been bought by Quincy and Wollaston people-for the very reason that they are acquainted with it and know its value.

And yet the proverb has its influence even here, for scores more of the LEDGER'S readers would buy were it not for just this "indifference of familiarity."

The value is there, however, none the less and is being recognized more and more every day. Where do you stand?

The Laugh Transposed" Would He Thinks, be an Appropriate Heading. Editors of the Daily Ledger:

I wish to call attention to an article appearing in the LEDGER's issue of the 28th ult headed "A Good Laugh," signed 'John." As the statement is decidedly erroneous and places me in a false position act and the committee went into executive I would hereby respectfully ask that you cause to be inserted in the next issue of the 'LEDGER," the medium through which it came, the following truth, which is the whole truth and nothing but the truth:

Formerly the mails had always been carried between the Atlantic post office and this station, by said office, because it labored under the belief that its location stood beyond the "limit line," to and from which the railroad company agrees to transport I substantiate this statement from information given me personally by Mr. Gurney, Jr., who spoke in the name of the local post office, to the above effect, long before ny resolve on the need of change.

Therefore I can consistently deny by saying that the mail was not carried be ween these two points with the intent of accommodation to the Station Agent.

Much less does it appear so, when considering their claim of time consumed in the THE PRESIDENT pressed the button, the performance of this work, which other wise could have been utilized to material gain. The former location of the post WHAT WILL the Atlantic division of the office undoubtedly obligated them to make treet railway do, now that no licenses the delivery to the ftation presumably the impression lastingly prevailed that the change of location had not shortened the distance.

Owing to some irregularity in the delivery of the mails here I wrote to the General supply of coal. Baggage Department of the R. R. Co., for information as to the extent of service that the Atlantic station was expected to perform in the handling of the mail-pouch; that, if carrying devolved itself upon the said station. I should then much prefer to perform the work throughout and thus make a safe and expeditious job of it. Had I not believed that a change should result to improve service to all concerned I would have remained silent and refrained from soliciting the work which now finds me performing. I also deny the statement of ities on any matter.

When it is more fully considered by Mr John" how the Atlantic Post-Office had BROCKTON WILL not obtain authority been performing, unknowingly, the work pelonging to another, at a material sacrifice, debtedness for abolishing grade crossings. for the very long period of from five to ten It has been referred to the next General years, more or less, I believe it will afford him ample reason to at once head off this article, "The Laugh Transposed."

I hereby unhesitatingly and cheerfully subscribe myself fully as being,

TAX DODGING.

The Attitude of Charles Francis Adams

The taxation of shares in foreign corporations was under discussion in the House Tuesday, and there was somewhat of a sharp debate on tax dodging. The committee had reported adversely. Mr. Wellman of Malden and Mr. Myers of Cambridge spoke against the report. Mr. Mellen of Worcester took the opposite and is reported as follows:

pay the taxes which the laws they made imposed upon him. It shows the downward tendency of the times when an Adams speaks of leaving Massachusetts to dodge its taxes. It isn't the rich men who make the state. John Adams and Samuel Adams were not rich men, and yet they hold a place in history and in the hearts of the people that many richer men of the same name have never gained."

NORFOLK CONFERENCE.

The Swedish Congregational Church of Quincy Admitted.

The 67th annual meeting of the Norfolk conference of Congregational churches was held at Stoughton, Tuesday, the churches being largely represented.

" Practical Temperance Work" was the theme of the morning, It was opened by Mr. Charles E. Pratt of Randelph and discussed by several. At the afternoon session Rev. E. O. Dyer of South Braintree reported a plan for a Congregational bureau, with a chief executive who should have a salary of $2500 per annum and a clerk of $500, with headquarters in Boston, said bureau to be under supervision of the Congregational churches and the Home and American missionary societies of this state. Rev. Mr. Dyer in speaking of the great need of such a bureau, stated that there were over 300 pastors without churches and over 100 churches without pastors in this state. The Swedish Congregational church of Quincy, was admitted to membership. A paper by Rev. N. B. Thompson of Campello on "The Attitude of the Christian toward Worldly Amusements' caused an animated discussion.

The semi-annual conference will be held with Pilgrim church at North Weymouth.

It is worth the piece of admission to the state, both historical and biographical, and is a souvenir of the World's Columbia. and is a souvenir of the World's Columbian designs in every conceivable form. Beautiful May flowers to-day.

All decrees of divorce shall in the first instance be decrees nist, to become absolute after the expiration of six months from the entry thereof, unless the court for sufficient cause, on application of six months from the entry thereof, unless the court for sufficient cause, on application of any party interested, otherwise ordered.

Sec. 2. Nothing contained in said chapter 194 of the acts of the year 1883 or in the rest of this act shall apply to cases where decrees nish have been entered prior to May 1, in the year 1893.

Sec. 3. This act shall take offert warm in that growing spot for anything less than a Fifth avenue rate. In the stage that plies between Montclair and Pine Brook I took my seat, with a few other men, and before we had reached the top of the hill the conversation turned upon building, for we saw houses in course of erection upon every hand. "It beats everything," said one man, "how this county is growing and spreading. I declare it beats everything. Why, one day you go out shooting in a certain field, and when you come out a month later you find a street through it and a half dozen houses in course of erection. Did you ever build a house?" that growing spot for anything less than

"What do you mean by wild results?" asked the man with the nile green wart. "I mean simply comic disasters-disasters that are comic because they make your friends laugh at you and go into convulsions of merriment even when you have their heartfelt sympathy. Now, bright illusion was quickly dispelled. I don't suppose I was in the house 15 minutes before I found it necessary to make a lot of repairs. The first thing I had to look out for was a leak in the roof and another in the cellar. The roof leak let after it had run down the winding stairs while it so completely filled the cellar that everything in it was afloat with the exception of the furnace and the coal." "How is it that it didn't run out of the leak which you have just said was in the cellar?" asked the thin man whose nos was decorated with a nile green wart.

"Because the leak in the cellar," re plied the building man, "was that my terious unknown aperture through which our firewood and the contents of the re

LOWLANDS FLOODED.

MUCH DAMAGE IN ARKANSAS

Houses Are Afloat and Crops Have Been Ruined.

CINCINNATI, May 3.-The Ohio is still rising. The wharf district known as "Rat row" is under water, but no serious damage has been done here.

At Miamisburg the great Miami river is higher than for two years and is still rising. Thousands of acres of wheat are under water, and farmers are away behind in planting oats and corn and potatoes. At Springfield hundreds of men are guarding the banks of Lewiston reservoir, the second largest artificial body of water in the world, which threatens to give way, the water being higher than ever known before. The loss will be stupendous if the break does occur.

At Zanesville both the Licking and Muskingum rivers are rising an inch an hour and now lack but three feet of the highest mark of 1884. Trains on the Baltimore and Ohio are being run on the Panhandle via Dresden between this city and Newark. A hundred houses are filled with water half between the first floor and ceiling, and in many of them the furniture is floating around promiscuously.

At Chillicothe the Scioto river and Paint creek are running over the banks, creating havoc to crops and property in the low-lands. The prospects for a speedy abatement are anything but flattering. Both the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern and Norfolk and Western are suffering great loss and traffic from the north and south is virtually suspended, owing to serious

The Sandusky river has overflowed its banks at Tiffin, and outbuildings and boardwalks are floating down the stream, and several houses nearest the river are in danger of being swept away at any mo-ment. Many families living in the lower portions along the river have been driven from their homes

The Arkansas Out of Bounds. LITTLE ROCK, May 3.—The Arkansas river has risen to within a little over three feet of the highest water mark of the great May flood of 1892. Several houses passed down the river. Several planta-tions are under water up the river, and people are working day and night on their levees, but have little or no hope of saving

The Arkansas river is running out hrough Auburn break into Lincoln county and flooding Gum Swamp between Read-ville and Verner. It is thought that by tonight the Missouri Pacific tracks will be covered for several miles and that through trains will have to be abandoned until the flood subsides. Telegrams from all river towns in this state say the river is rising rapidly and farmers in the bottoms are

In Kentucky. The Ohio river at Louisville has passed the danger line—24 feet. There is every indication that all the low farm lands be-tween Louisville and Cincinnati will be submerged and much damage will be done. Fences that have been constructed this spring will be swept away, and corn planting season, which has not commenced on ccount of soggy condition of the ground, will be further retarded.

At Ashland, Ky., owing to the high water from the Big Sandy river, the Peach Orchard mines were closed, and some 200 or more miners have been thrown out of work by this flooding, which will not be mastered for some time yet.

St. Paul Is Flooded. St. Paul, May 3.—The rise of the "Father of Waters" has at last become dangerous. It has passed the 14-foot mark, the line of danger, and hundreds of resi-dences on the river banks are partially submerged. The probabilities are that the rise will continue for another 24 hours yet. Wheat Under Water. CARLYLE, Ill., May 3.-The Kaskaskia river is booming at this point. The water is only three feet below the suspension bridge and lacks only a few feet of being as high as in 1892. Thousands of acres of wheat are overflowed. WITH $120,000,000 CAPITAL.

Elects Officers.

NEW YORK. May 3.-Some of the leaders in the sole leather trade assembled in the office of H. S. Clappham & Co. yesterday afternoon, when they completed the final details in the forming of a big leather trust. The trust is composed of 90 per cent of the hemlock and union tanneries in Pennsylvania and New York.

The trust will be capitalized at $120,000, 000, of which $60,000,000 will be common stock, $60,000,000 preferred stock and $6,000,000 in debenture bonds, which can be raised to $10,000,000 when the board of directors see fit. The officers of the trust are Thomas C. Proctor of the Proctor Leather company of Boston, president; Josiah T. Tubby, New York, secretary, and James R. Plum, New York, treasurer,

HAVANA, May 3.—The latest news in reare now between Puerto Delpadre harbor and Mamati. Seven colums of troops are in pursuit, supported by two Spanish ships of war. Not a single encounter has yet taken place between the government troops and the rebels. It is rumored that the rebels will surrender, if they are guar-Inteed that their lives will be spared.

Roosevelt Will Keep His Job. WASHINGTON, May 3.—Theodore Roose velt, civil service commissioner, tendered his resignation to President Cleveland soon after the new administration came in, but has been requested by the president to continue in office and has agreed to do so. Austrian Forger Captured.

CINCINNATI, May 3.—Jacques R. Adutt was arrested here. He is wanted in Vienna for forgery amounting to $60,000 on Russe & Co. Adutt had been arrested in Chicago, but escaped last Saturday.

A Stirring Speech by Governor McKinley of Ohio.

OTHER MEN OF PROMINENCE

Dilate on the Clories of the Republican Party.

Boston, May 4.—The Home Market club Bent of Taunton presided, and about the tables sat over 250 staunch Republicans from all sections of Massachusetts. The speakers were Governor McKinley, Senator George F. Hoar, ex-Senator Henry L. Dawes, and Congressmen Walker, Draper of Newton.

WILLIAM M'KINLEY, JR.

Among those present were ex-Police Commissioner Osborne, ex-Governor Goodell of Rhode Island, Colonel Albert Clarke, secretary of the club; Collector Beard, Chairman Winslow of the state committee, ex-Lieutenant Governor Haile, Railroad Commissioner Crocker, William B. Plunkett of North Adams, and many other well-known Republican leaders. Enthusiasm ran high, especially over the address of Governor McKinley, who, in substance, said:

Mr. President and members of the Home Market club:
The Republican party values its principles no more in victory than in defeat. It adheres to them at all times unwaveringly because it believes in them, and believing in them it executes the property of the principles of the property and believing in believes in them, and believing in them it executes them when in power, and believing in them, it battles for them when in power. They were not produced to tide over one campaign but to last for all time. The defeat of 1892 has not made them less true. We accept the verdict of that year with the true American spirit, but challenge an appeal to the American people whose view is never questioned, whose power of reversal is supreme. The Republican party in 1816 heeran its career. The Republican party in 1846 began its caree and it has lost the presidency but three times

Whenever it met defeat it has usually followed some great, new public measure which it has not had sufficient time to try. That has been the truth of all our defeats, and assembled here tonight we give notice that we do not intend to lower our colors. Let others lower their colors; we will not, for that is

Not Our Habit Nor Our History. If you could strike from the pages of history all that has been done by the Republican party, what would you have left? Nothing to be proud of. If you could strike from the pages of history all that the Democratic party proposed, promised and set out to do, what would you have left? Nothing to be proud of. At the time of the war, when the Demo-cratic party left power, the nation's credit was dishonored, its flag dragged down, slavery prevalent and the popular opinion was that popular government had failed. Taking it since the war, the reputation of that party has been to try to inflate the national debt and to establish British free trade. We are not afraid of contrast. During 33 years of Republican power the national debt has been diminished from $16,000,000,000 to $63,-000,000 when Benjamin Harrison went out of the president's chair. This country leads the world in manufacturing, agriculture and Since 1880 its Manufacturing Has Increased in value $40,000,000 and increased the employment of workmen by 40,000.

They say they will tear down that tariff. 1 do not agree with my distinguished friend (Senator Dawes) in hoping! that they will tear it down. I think too much of my country. I do not share in that sentiment. I hope they will not keep their promises. The Democratic party seems to be described in these lines.

To praise, propose, pretend, postpone And end in lettting things alone; In short to earn the people's pay By doing nothing every day.

I do not come here to make any speech, but in answer to an invitation from your president to pay a mark of tribute to my illustrious friend and your endeared public servant, exenator Dawes. We still believe that protection is not a robbery and unconstitutional; that reciprocity is not a sham, and that the state bank is not the best method to Secure Our Financial Reputation. Let those now in charge of public affairs in-terpret the election of 1892. It is not for us to interpret. There are those all about us who say the people have nothing to fear by a Democratic administration of affairs, and they point to the first administration of President Cleveland and say that business did not then sustain a shock.

But the condition of affairs has changed since then. Mr. Cleveland then carried out Republican law and not a measure was passed that did not have Republican approval. They promised to stop the so-called tariff robbery, but it has been going on for four months by their consent. Since election we do not hear so much about wiping out the tariff as we do about revising it.

Governor McKinley closed by exhorting the club to go forward in its mission of welfare to American industry. Mr. Dawes Introduced.

President Bent then introduced ex-Sena tor Dawes as a true, trusted and honorable public servant of a grateful people. Mr. Dawes rose and was given three rousing theers. He said in substantial part: It is a well known law that we should first exhaust the active list and then take up the retired list and your president has violated that rule. [Applause.] The bugle notes already echoing around this hall would stir the blood of an old soldier. I enlisted in the Republican party when it was instituted and I shall continue to follow it as long as I can see.

The contest the people will have to wage in belongs to its people and its people have the right to determine its use. The Democratic party was elected last fall on numerous promses-for it had nothing to offer.

ises—for it had nothing to oner.

It may at least kave the consolation that, if it does not keep them, it can renew them. I do not doubt the sincerity of that party, but the men that outlined its platform never drew up a tariff bill. The Democratic party is going to take off the tariffs on manufactured articles, which nets the government $250,000,000, and thus ruin American manufacturers, I hope that will be carried out. Its repeal would work a revolution that would end in the Democratic party being turned out of power within a year. Protection is the only remedy for strikes, s it gives more employment, which the la-sorer must have. The road the American people are to take is straight and clear, and they will part company with these theorists.

and Congressmen Walker, Morse and lined at the Vendome last night with Draper. A letter was also read from Sen-Governor McKinley of Ohio as the special ator Lodge. The meeting closed by giving guest of the occasion. President W. H. The reception committee having charge of the occasion was as follows: John Shaw of Quincy, William A. Russell of Lawrence, Rufus S. Frost of Chelsea, Charles A Stott of Lowell, Willis K. Hodgdon of Taunton and D. W. Farquhar

The Sunday Herald's Great Issue.

No student of the legitimate development of modern journalism can fail to recognize and admire the notable issue of the Sun- abscess formed and an operation for the day Herald. It contained sixty pages-the largest newspaper ever printed in Bostonand there was not an unattractive page in the lot. The illuminated cover was superb. There were 261 1-4 columns of high class advertising-the largest amount that ever appeared, to our knowledge, in any newspaper ever issued anywhere. Nevertheless, the most notable feature of the issue was the fact that the interests of the reader of news and special articles did not suffer, as so often happens in special editions, from the inroads of the advertisers. There was Maine: Rain; northeasterly winds, inthe making of a half-dozen good magazines in the Sunday Herald.

exemption from the debt limit law amended to "reference to the next general court," and this was accepted. Messrs. Lawton, Butler and Ratshesky opposed reconsidering the rejection of the bill authorizing the use of the McTammany voting machine and it was favored by Messrs. Stevens, Buckley and Baker. Reconsideration prevailed, 20 to 12. Without objection amendments were adopted, providing that towns may adopt the system by vote of the voters instead of by the selectmen, and that they may select any machine besides the McTammany one. The bill was then ordered to a third read-

When the house bill to regulate the width of tires on draught wagons was reached, the amendment that it should not apply to cities of over 30,000 inhabitants was rejected. The amendment, that it should not apply to wagons used wholly in Suffolk councy, was accepted; that striking out the exception of Suffolk county, was adopted; a motion to refer the bill to the next general court was defeated and the bill was then engrossed.

The Mighty Field of Human Effort at Chicago.

VISIT TO THE GREAT WORLD'S FAIR

Not a Spot in the Vast Enclosure That Is Not Replete With the Wonders of the Earth---Progress of the Work on the Grounds.

WORLD'S FAIR, April 26.—As yet one can only ramble about these great grounds and only ramble about these great grounds and buildings, flitting like a bee to sip a bit of parts and pieces of statues lying about in the honey of the flower of art and industry and energy here and there. While the twenty thousand workmen are hammering and sawing and painting, and thousands of trucks and scores of locomotives are pushing and hauling cars of exhibits about. anything like study of anything is impossible. Besides, one has the feeling on first entering this mighty field of human effort that he wants to run all around and through it all at once. The eye tells him instantly it is vast and wonderful. That is the great conspicuous fact which the perspectives of buildings, the forest of displays, the horizon of towers and minarets, ELECTRICAL TRAVELING CRANE. at once bespeak. But it is easier said than one. An attempt to merely walk from building to building, pausing but a second or two at each for a hasty glance at the ensemble, is in one hour enough to inform the visitor that human strength has certain limitations, and that even a run throguh this exposition must be the work of days and weeks, not of hours.

Another thing which the stranger within the gates at once observes is that no matter where he starts in he is sure to find things that catch his eye, appeal to his imagina-tion and cause him to linger, to look, inuire and examine. There is not a spot in the vast enclosure that is not replete with the wonderful, the powerful, the curious or at the corner of Granite and Town Hill streets. Apply to MRS. E. LARK, 2 Copeland street, West Quincy. April 29. the beautiful. It is impossible to make a mistake in the way of selection of what you shall see. Hennel enough for a city like Philadelphia or Boston—glances at our passes and ushers us within. "It's not worth seeing yet," he volunteers; "nothing is ready, everything in confusion." But we soon also the property of the proper mighty effort to accomplish in six days the work of installation to which a month should have been devoted, is just what we like. It is always pleasant to see other men work. It is inspiring to know that men can work as these men are working, B. White, Esq., corner Hancock and Elm streets in Quincy Centre, containing 13,000 square feet of land, a large consider the whole length of the huge building.

As one of these cranes comes near you it is seen to be a monster thing of steel and iron. Its length is sixty-five feet; it stands thirty or more feet from the floor, and in its giant grasp it bears a great wheel or other part of machinery weighing many tons. If pushed to its utmost endeavor it can pick up and run away with 40,000 pounds. It runs rapidly, too. As a rule great bodies move slowly, and this is particularly true in mechanics. But here is a great body that slides along on its rails with the speed of an electrical car. It is an electrical car, for that matter, for electricity is the motive power employed. These are the first electrical traveling cranes ever constructed, and of course the are American. The foreigners may excel us in art, but never in daring, in originality, in adaptability. Near by, I have said, the great crane is enormous. A minute later it is at the far end of the track, and there you can barely see it. At the distant end of the narrowing perspective contained within this mighty enclosure a locomotive looks like a wheelbarrow For the pecole who like big things this fair will be a perpetual delight. In Machinery hall, for instance, is a steam engine that beats all the steam engines that

INCOMPLETE STATUES. were ever built. It has 2,000 horse power when run at normal speed, and under pressure can be increased to 3,000. The Corliss engine at the Philadelphia exposition, which was in its day considered the ultimate of engine construction, had only

1.200 horse power. The great Krupp gun, now reposing on its carriage on the lake front, is visited by thousands. It really is worth seeing. It is forty-seven feet long, its diameter is six and a half feet, its weight one hundred and In similar manner is shown a miniature thirty-five tons, and it will throw a projectile weighing a ton sixteen miles. Each time the gun is fired the cost is $1,100. The Attentions Paid to King Humbert by European Powers Annoy the Pope. LONDON, May 4.-A dispatch from Vienna states that the Hungarian govern-ment has received important information, it is presumed from a Hungarian prelate in Rome, that the unanimity with which the European powers, including Russia, sent reports to King Humbert's silver wedding fetes has so dashed the pope's hopes that he has determined that the Curias attitude of hostility to the triple alli ance shall be abandoned, and that the first proof of this intention will be shown in confining resistance to Hungarian ecclesiastical reforms to points opposed to the dogmas of the church. Cardinal Rampolla, who has been the mainspring of the papal hostility to the triple alliance, will be allowed to resume his functions when he recovers from his illness, but will find

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Its Opening on Sunday Now Under Consideration.

ATTENDANCE FALLING OFF.

An Unnecessary Fire Alarm Rung In Yesterday.

CHICAGO, May 4.—The principal thing of interest about the fair yesterday was that in all probability it will be open on Sunday. The judiciary committee made its long-delayed report late in the afternoon and it favors Sunday opening. The closing and important paragraph of the document do nothing with the subject until the local directors repeal the Sunday closing rule. This they will undoubtedly do. They will make no fuss about it, and probably no announcement will be made for a short

One of the directors said that if the people presented themselves at the gates next Sunday with their tickets there was no do doubt but what they would Gain Admission to the Grounds. He said the Sunday closers would prob ably invoke the aid of the courts, but he was confident the position the directors take would be sustained. Commissioner Tousley of Minnesota announced that he had a verbal communication to make. It was that a concert was begun at Music hall at 2 o'clock, and if such commission ers as desired to attend would notify him he would notify the manager and the commissioners would be admitted at $1

This was considered by some as very sarcastic, but by others as funny. The latter laughed, and no further official notice of the incident was taken, but several of the sioners looked mad enough to conpire to blow up the concert hall and all that were in it. Some one moved that when the commission adjourn it adjourn to meet July 6, but the motion went over for the time being, and then up bobbed the continuous session again.

It was in the form of a resolution by Commissioner Allen of New York, who wanted a committee of four appointed to find out if there was enough money to permit the commission to remain in session until November. There was Much Interest Displayed in this, and the crushed hopes of the disappointed ones who wanted a continuous ession loomed up again. But Commis sioner Harris of West Virginia said the motion should be amended so as to find more committees. There was about $27; 000 set aside for committees, and it would be a good idea to do away with as many as possible.

This was a direct question and was eartily applauded. There was some more talk, including a small passage of words between Commissioner White of New Mexico and Commissioner Allen on the possession of the floor, and the whole matter was laid on the table. The judiciary committee adjourned at 2:20. It was resolved to report adversely the Eiboek resolution, and it is understood that nothing will be done about Sunday closing until the directors make a move. The attendance yesterday was smaller than the day before, although the weather

The different states editorial associations are busy preparing their programs and estimates of attendance, and the following is the list that is made up so far: California, May 6, 400; Texas, May 14, 150; North Dakota, May 13, 300; Oregon, May 16, 220; Indiana, May 16, 125, Montana, May 17, 160; South Dakota, May 21, 120; Alabaria, June 10, 350, and Michigan, July

An Order.

The following order was issued by Director of the Works Burnham and approved by Director General Davis:

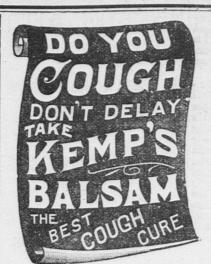

To Whom It May Concern—All work must be finished by May 12 for installation of exhibits and construction work. Work of absolute necessity not completed at that date must be continued after the hour of closing the exposition and discontinued at the hour of Music hall was fairly filled to hear the first series of the popular concerts by the Theodore Thomas exposition orchestra at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The concert began at 11 o'clock. The doors were opened at 10:15, admission being free, and the following program was given: March, overture, "Tanahauser," Wagner; air, Bach, "Invitation to the Dance," Weber; finales, Opus 55, the Schaikowski; waltz, "Artist's Life," Strauss; suite, "The Nations," Mosskewski.

The entire fire department of the World's fair was called to the casino at the south end of the peristyle on the lake shore yes terday afternoon. It was caused by electric wire men attempting to enlarge an augur hole with a red hot bar of iron. The workmen in the basement, seeing the flames and smoke curling through the hole, turned in a general alarm at the nearest box.

AN ANGRY GOVERNOR

Sends a Sharp Telegram to Secretary Gresham Relating to the President. PORTLAND, Or., May 4.-Secretary of State Gresham yesterday sent the following dispatch from Washington to Governor Pennoyer at Salem:

"Apparently unreliable reports indicate danger of violence to Chinese when exclusion act takes effect, and the president earnestly hopes you will employ all lawful means for their protection in Oregon." Governor Pennoyer immediately sent the following reply to Secretary Gresham: "I will attend to my business; let the president attend to his."

Governor Pennoyer, speaking to a re-"The Gresham telegram is an insult to

THE GOLD QUESTION.

Secretary Carlisie More Hopeful-Gold Coming Into the Treasury Slowly.

WASHINGTON, May 4. - Secretary Carlisle was at the treasury department yesterday. looking less careworn than when he left here. In answer to an inquiry about the gold situation, he said: "I made no absolute arrangement while away for the acceptance of any gold by the treasury. Affairs are in a satisfactory state, and the department is not anxious. There is plenty of gold which can be utilized." It is surmised that the secretary is quite likely to have a settlement before long with the New York banks. Gold is slowly dribbling into the treasury and practically none is going out these days, and there is a gradual strengthening of the re-serve. The official statements, however, lo not show that the gold reserve, so called, is again at the $100,000,000 mark, but some additional offers which have been accepted, but in which the transfers have not been completed, bring the total up so as to leave a very slight free gold

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

Spanish Forces Unadequate to Cope With the Insurgents.

LONDON, May 4 .- A Madrid cable from the captain general of Cuba confesses that his forces are inadequate to quell the uprising. Instead of the 12,000 troops he was supposed to have he has less than 8000, which, even under normal condition, cannot be considered strong enough, the cavalry, which are most required in a campaign of this sort, being especially weak. He adds that several insurgents have yielded, and repeats that the rebellion is not spreading, but is confined to the coun try around Holguin, 400 miles from

It is reported that the whole Spanish squadron at New York has been dis-patched to patrol the coast beyond Santiago, with orders to cut off the insurgents completely from communication with the Cuban exiles, and thus prevent the latter from executing their supposed project of sweeping down upon the island with rein-forcements for the rebels.

THREATENED OUTBREAKS

Against the Chinese to Be Guarded Against on the Pacific Coast. WASHINGTON, May 4.--Reports received by the Chinese minister within the past few days indicate the probability of outbreaks on the Pacific coast against the Chi-nese residents. The tenor of the reports was ommunicated to Acting Secretary Adee, wiring for electric lights, bells, and gas and upon the return of Secretary Gresham from Chicago, telegrams were sent to the governors of several western states, advising them of the existence of these reports, and requesting them to take meas vent any serious infractions of the peace. The authority for the report is not disclosed, but the action of the Chinese minster is taken, it is said, so that in case there was trouble and the Chinese suffered, the United States might properly be held for indemnity for losses sustained.

The fishermen resolved on the capture of the monster alive if possible. A run-ning bowline was made and deftly cast, he noose falling over the head and around he creature's neck.

Then began a fierce struggle for the stery, the men trying to haul the monster out of the trap, and the creature trying to pull the boat and crew into it. The truggle was a desperate one, and their oles were soon broken down and the netork torn into strings

The creature struck heavy blows with its tail, any one of which would have stove the boat to pieces had it been struck. It was hard to tell which was getting the better of the fight, until finally the weirmen saw that if the combat lasted much longer their weir would be totally destroyed. The shafting in the machinery hall has een connected with the big Allis engine which President Cleveland started on Monday. Not all the machinery which will be on exhibition during the fair period was in shape to be started yesterday, but there was enough to make a very lively buzzing and whirring of wheels. The most advanced exhibits are those of Germany and Great Britain. Many American firms have their machinery in place. Mexico started three of its largest engines yester-day, and nearly all of the dynamos exhibited by American firms are installed.

A Swell Affair. In honor of the Duke and Duchess of Veragua and party the elegant home of the Washington Park club was the scene of an elaborate luncheon at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The colors of Spain, done in flowers and bunting, were festooned on every hand, and the main entrance was espectially decorated with the American and Spanish flags. Plates were laid for 40. The luncbeon was given by Mr. Caton. The spread was elaborate. The nation's honored guests were highly pleased by the elegant reception.

Sunday Opening. It is still seemingly impossible for any one in authority to say positively whether or not the World's fair will be opened on Sunday next. The majority apparently believe that it will be opened. If anybody s in a position to give accurate informa tion, he is taking pretty good care to keep it to himself. Several persons expressed the belief that the grounds, having been opened heretofore on Sunday, an order would be necessary to close them.

Venice Reproduced. For the first time since the gondolas have flitted around the lagoons some of the gondoliers have appeared in their fanciful costumes. The uniforms, through some mistake, were not shipped at the same time the men left their beloved city, and only arrived yesterday in Chicago. Only a few of the gondoliers have their uniforms so far.

MEXICO, Mo., April 27.—Squirrel hunting in the southwest is not what it once was. The destruction of our forests is telling here as elsewhere. The two kinds of game found in the middle Mississippi valley are the western fox squirrel and the gray, but the latter, for the reasons mentioned, is rapidly receding. He is a lover of tall timber-a dweller in high holes. Here his young are reared. The gray is universally distributed east of the plains and in many regions has a tendency to black specimens much stronger than in others. The hunter is apt to regard the black as a distinct species, but the naturalist asserts that they are simply pelage varieties, which may occur in the same litter with their gray brothers, and that black

What surprises me, considering the vast number of ladies who preach the equality of the sex in everything, is that an effort is not made to secure equal rights in proposing. To marry is more important to a woman than to have a vote. Why, then, should proposing b limited to one sex? Men are naturally more bashful than women, and the re sult of the present one sided rule is that many a man remains single because he cannot bring his courage up to the pro posing point, and as a necessary conse quence many a girl remains husbandles An association of girls, each pledged to propose to any man whom she migh leem a desirable husband, would be fa

Ask a friend to put down four figures, him add these up and subtract the sum from the original figures. Then let him strike out any figure in the result and ures. You can instantly tell him what figure he struck out. The modus operandi is easy and depends on the esoteric qualities of 9. He puts down, say, 7,428. Add up these figures—21, which subtract and get 7,407. Cross out, say, 7. This leaves the sum of the remaining figures 11, which he announces. Mentally subtract 11 from the next highest multiple of 9, which is 18, and you get 7, which was the figure crossed out.-Philadelphia Times.

BLOODSHED IN PROSPECT.

A Mississippi Judge Declines to Take Bluff's From Whitecaps.

Jackson, Miss., May 5.—"Whitecap" outlawry reached a climax yesterday at Brookhaven. About 150 whitecaps, armed with shotguns and pistols, marched to the courthouse and surrounded it, forbidding the egress of any one. Judge Chrisman was told that the sympathizers of the 10 whitecaps who are indicted for arson had surrounded the courthouse and demanded the release of their friends.

Judge Chrisman at once adjourned court and started down the stairs. One of the mob presented a cocked shotgun at his breast and demanded that he stop. The judge said to some one: "Arrest that man." How Incumbents Were Dealt With by Cleveland and Harrison.

Washington, May 6.—President Cleveland has rejoiced the Democrats of West Virginia and many friends of the late Sentor Kenna, both Democrats and Republicans, by appointing his widow, Annie B. Kenna, postmistress at Charleston, W. Va. This appointment has been urged on the produces yesterday's story in full, with an president persistently by the West Virginia lelegation. The late Senator Kenna was ever a money saver and when he died he left a large family of little children and very little property.

COMPLAINTS OF EXTORTION

Are Investigated and Found to Be Well Grounded.

CHICAGO, May 6. - The fair will not be open tomorrow, and probably on no Sunday in May. No definite action in that regard was taken, and no orders issued, but President Higgenbotham said plainly that the gates would not be open tomorrow. The board of lady managers adjourned sine die last evening after another row, out first they went on record as favoring an open Sunday. This fact was shown by a test vote on the question.

Mrs. Ball of Delaware introduced a res olution that, no matter what action might be taken in regard to the rest of the fair, the woman's building be closed on Sunday. Mrs. Ryan of Texas immediately moved that Mrs. Ball's resolution be tabled. There was a long and hot fight, but finally Mrs. Ryan was victorious, and Mrs. Ball's resolution went on the table. Quite Right.

The council of administration deter mined to stop the robbery in the restaurants at the grounds. Some of them went out to buy a meal and found that the complaints of extortion and bad service made by the thousands of people who visit the restaurants were well founded.

The council therefore adopted a resolu-tion condemning the extortion prices, and officially notified the restaurant men that they must submit to the committee schedule of prices to be adhered to during the fair. The caterers must also keep in conspicuous places in their restaurants a large sign, informing the public of the cost of each article served, such prices not to be

A Terrific Explosion startled everybody in the west end of machinery hall yesterday. A header on the big 16-inch main blew out, and the escaping steam enveloped everything for 200 yards around. By the force of the explosion James Glassford, a switchman, was blown 60 feet, and was fatally scalded. Two other laborers employed by the Northwestern company was also scalded, but not fatally. The physicians have given up all hopes of Glassford's recovery. No cause can be assigned for the explosion. The big 16-inch main runs under the floor to within 100 feet of the west end of the annex, where it terminates with a 2-inch flange, which was bolted over the end of the main. The entire circle blew out, leaving just a rim of metal. The inner disc was blown 125 feet through the lower partition, and cleaned out six heavy 14-inch timbers which formed the underpinning of the floor. The floor itself was raised entirely loose from the joist and the escaping steam dug a big hole in the ground, blowing gravel and dirt out through the side opening of one of the depressed backs that enter the building at this point.

who have come to Chicago to represent their people at the World's fair have little of the appearance of the red man with whom the western people are familiar, and whose representatives are nightly engaged in mimic attacks on stage coaches and settlers' trains in Mid-way plaisance. The visitors from Maine, while they preserve some of the physical appearance of their western brethren in the matter of complexion and facial expression, nearly all show traces of the blending of the blood of the Caucasian with that of the native American. There are only 10 representatives of the tribe here at present—six men and four women—but this number will be increased to 18 if arrangements can be made to allow hem the privilege of running canoes on the lagoons

Dear Sir,-Early last March I received a letter from a portrait society in Brooklyn, Lucius W. Lovell Crosses the Great N. Y., stating that they were desirous to obtain orders for portraits in my locality, that if I would send them a photograph. they would send me a large portrait free of charge, providing that I would show it to my friends and influence them to send orders for their portraits. In the letter JUMPES FROM PORTLAND BOAT. they also stated that the portrait they would send me they usually got $10 for the same kind of work.

Thinking possibly I might get a good portrait cheap this way, I sent my photograph. In a few days I received a letter stating that it would be advisable for me to have it framed by them. With the letter of frames and prices; also the price of mat and glass which called for Fernice of Thursday evening, Mr. Lucius W. and glass which called for French plate. The Treaty With Russia. The principal point of objection in the proposed treaty with Russia is the exceedingly loose definition of political offenses in article 3, which exposes a large class of people who come to this country for a refuge from political, social and religious oppression to the malicious machinations of a foreign power, which affords no such guarantees of a fair and just trial under the law as those which

Mail and Express. Ungallant Criticism of Gladstone. An edifying exhibition of judicial taste and humor was given by Sir Richard Harington at a church defense meeting at Hereford recently. The county court judge presided, and in closing the meeting he remarked that there was only one person in the universe who would be dissatisfied with their proceedings.

"That person was usually described as an old gentlemen. He did not mean Mr. Gladstone. He meant the devil." Sir Richard's elegant persiflage was a fitting supplement to that of Mr. W. Morris, who, speaking on the same day at a meeting held under the presidency of the bishop of Hereford, suggested that if Mr. Gladstone persisted with the Welsh suspensory bill "he might be accused, probably rightly accused, of treading in the steps of Judas Iscariot." The Program For This Week at the World's fair is not a very brill-iant one and will not tend to attract a large number of people. This morning President Higginbotham entertained the visiting naval officers at breakfast in the choral building at the park. How the First Week Panned Out. The first week of the Columbian exposition was but little, if anything, more than a repetition of the history of early periods of other great international expositions. But for the whole week the exposition has done a fair amount of business. During the six days the gates have been opened 243,275 half dollars, or their equivalent, have been passed in at the ticket windows.

Those half dollars do not represent the total admissions, however. There are perhaps 25,000 passes that are in use every day, most of them, of course, belonging to QUINCY. workmen, employes and people connected with the exhibitions. The paid admissions, not taking into account the souvenir tickets that were sold before the opening day, were as follows: Monday, 155,832; Tuesday, 13,833; Wed-

His wife com-plained of malarial attack, and he pre-scribed doses of quinine, each containing increased dose died from the poison. The physicians who attended her in this last illness became suspicious, and an autopsy was made which revealed the poison. After a long trial, during which the curiosity and interest of the people were excited to the highest pitch, Harris was finally found guilty of murder in the first degree and condemned to death.

The revelations which have been made about the past career of this young man show him to be a most finished scoundrel. He married some years ago a girl called Lulu Van Zandt, whose health he utterly ruined by a criminal operation. She se-cured a divorce from him. Make Your Architect Work. Buildings which architects plan for their clients are generally more practical than those which they plan for themselves or which they arrange in an ideal spirit. Floor lans which an architect makes in his office furing the earlier years of his practice, when business is not pressing, are rarely as good as those which are developed with the assistance of a client. Especially is this true when the client is a little stubborn. DAD'S OLD GRINDSTONE.

Under a spreading russet bough,
Uncared for an alone,
Through summer's sun an winter's snow
Has stood dad's ol grindstone. An I in fancy see it now Almost with weeds o'ergrown.

How well I recollect each morn
That dad would call to me
At break of day to come an turn
The stone beneath the tree,
An every whirl she'ud squeak and groan,
An much exerted be.

My hands would blister, peel an tear,
But I made ne'er a face;
'Twas better to be blistered there
Than on some other place.
So while the lark songs filled the air
The grindin went apace.

I steal from town life oft in ruth An look the old scenes through,
And though it sounds a bit uncouth
I find these words come true,
"The work I dreaded so in youth
I now would gladly do."

I'm turning now the stone of life,
A-grindin fortune's blade,
With nicks an cracks extremely rife
An ruther poorly made, An oft the stone squeaks in the strife,
Like dad's beneath the shade.

Mr. Andrew Frosty chanced to reside total from 1,773 to 4,539. Miss Ellis, the on its front by which it could be distinleader for a week or more is number four, guished from another. Each had seven steps and a portico.

Tack on another item-Mr. Frosty was an awful thing for a man to be jealous of his wife at all, with or without readraw their cotton caps over their eyes and say good night to the world. Living | it had long ago struck 6. 2765 is no sort of an object to them.

But whether Mr. Frosty had any reason to be jealous of his wife is not what we are going to settle. And yet we nev-237 er thought he could have, for a more amiable wife than she made him it would be hard to find. Mrs. Frosty was young and leautiful, and her manner were very taking. It may be that these were Mr. Frosty's reasons for his jeal-ousy, but if so why didn't he marry a 33 plainer woman?

Not many doors off and in the same 8 row of dwellings lived Colonel Sawyer, 18 who rather prided himself on being es-15 teemed a gentleman. Without assum-15 ing to be what is popularly known as a ladies' man, he nevertheless was extremely particular in his carriage to ward them, aiming always to impre them with a sense of his perfect purit chivalry and truth.

No one in the neighborhood ever sus pected him of being capable of insulting any one-least of all a lady. Mothers held him up to their sprouting sons as an example of the lofty and true, and fathers spoke of him to their daughters and hoped that if they ever thought of marriage they would be satisfied with nothing less than a character like his Coming home musingly and with his nead bent one evening the colonel thought no such accident was possible as that he should mistake his own house especially as he had been in and out that way so many times.

Perhaps the very fact that he felt such a confidence was the greater reason why he should make a mistake after all. But to what he knew of the way home and thought he should reach there all in good time. The consequence was that Frank Goodhue, J. F. Merrill's, 27,341 he quietly slipped himself in through 9052 Mr. Frosty's front door, hung up his hat 6002 and coat in the hall and started for the 5936 dining room.

As all the houses in the row were so much alike on the outside their internal arrangements were pretty much on the same pattern. Mr. Frosty's hall seemed 435 like his own, and the dining room door opened where his did.

The instant he opened the door he be-173 gan to awaken to his error. The table 141 was spread in the middle of the room, 110 and Mrs. Frosty sat near the grate read-"Ah," he exclaimed, bowing and scraping confusedly, "I beg pardon! Really, Mrs. Frosty, I beg pardon!" In a moment the astonished lady was on her feet, her face flushed with the natural excitement of so unlooked for a visit. She knew not what to say.

"This is a ludicrous mistake, I declare, Mrs. Frosty," said the colonel. "Here I am invading your house when I thought I was safe and snug in my own. This comes of these houses wearing such similar faces. But it is my first mistake and I hope you will excuse me." Mrs. Frosty comprehended instantly and laughed heartily. "I may get caught so myself, you 18 know," she said, "and we are always 16 grateful for a call from you, Colonel Saw 14 yer. Now you are here and dinner will soon be on the table, why don't you sit down with us? I am expecting my husband every minute.' The colonel began to thank her and excuse himself on account of urgent engagements for the evening, but while he was doing so the front door was heard to

"There," said Mrs. Frosty, "my husband is coming now. You'll not be detained any longer than you would at home. Come, I think you'd better stay." Along came Frosty through the hall, and his sour face would have turned sweet milk in a twinkling.

The instant he caught the sound of a nale voice in the dining room his old suspicions began to flame up again. As soon as could creep along as far as the loor in his stealthy way and look in through the crevice and see who was there his rage burst all bounds and "Now, what does this mean, sir?"

The colonel had got over his astonishment enough to commence a calm explanation, when Mrs. Frosty, bursting into tears, threw herself before her angry husband and implored him to be silent, for it was a trifling mistake, and Colonel Sawyer would immediately explain it all. But the enraged man would hear noth-

A PROVIDENCE LOVE AFFAIR

Has Its Climax In a Sensational Street Scene.

PROVIDENCE, May 8.-Chapin avenue and Wendell street were the scene of an exciting shooting and stabbing affair yesterday. Walter S. Randall formerly lived in the village of Oaklawn, in the town of Cranton, just out of this city. In the same house with his parents lived

The Big Cycling Tournament Will Com-Off at Waltham on May 30.

BOSTON, May 8.-H. W. Robinson of the Massachusetts division, League of American Wheelmen, arrived in this city last evening with the pleasing news for the Associated Cycling clubs that their sand tion for the Decoration day races at the Waltham Bicycle park would be granted. Worcester has thought it advisable to withdraw their appeal, and have notified Mr. Miller that they would be pleased to have him grant a sanction for the races at Waltham, May 30.

This spirit of good will from the Worces ter boys, although coming at a very late day, ends what promised at one time to be a controversy of such magnitude as to cause the withcrawal of the Massachusetts division from the League of American Wheelmen. The races at Waltham will now be run by the Associated Cycling club instead of the Massachnsetts division, and the meet will be an open one. ew list of races will be made by the clubs and the list of prizes will be increased. of station 2 last evening saw flames issuing rom the windows of the large business block that is bounded by Purchase and Oliver streets and Atlantic avenue. He quickly pulled in an alarm, which was shortly followed by a second.

At 3:30 o'clock this morning Timothy McCarthy, an employe of the American Press association, saw a brisk blaze in the building numbered 161, 163 and 165 Fort Hill square, almost adjoining the fire department building.

The building is occupied by the Ellis Lubricating company, Massachusetts Elec tric Engineering company and several other firms.

Mr. McCarthy promptly gave the alarm, and the firemen, upon their arrival, ordered a second, which was quickly followed by a third. Owing to the inflammable nature of the contents of the building the fire was not subdued until after four hours' hard work. It was at one time thought that the whole block was doomed. The damage will exceed $100,000.

It has become apparent after two months' experience that the rules heretofore promulgated regulating interviews with the president have wholly failed in their operation. The time which, under those rules, was set apart for the reception of senators and representatives has almost been entirely spent in listening to applications for office, which have become bewildering in volume, perplexing and exhausting in their iteration and impossible of remembrance. A due regard for public duty, which must be neglected if present conditions continue, and an observance of the limitations placed upon human endurance, oblige me to decline from and after this date all personal interviews with those seeking appointments to office, except as I, on my own motion, may ecially invite them. The same considera-ons make it impossible for me to receive those who merely desire to pay their respects except on the days and during the hours especially designated for that purpose.

I earnestly request senators and representa-ives to aid me in securing for them uninterupted interviews by declining to introduce their constituents and friends when visiting the "executive mansion" during the hours designated for their reception. Applicants for office will only prejudice their prospects by repeated importunity and by remaining at Washington to await results.

"Lizzie Andrew Borden, what say you, to the first count of the indictment?"
With a calm, quiet dignity, full of resolution and courage, the defendant replied in distinct and measured tones: "I Am Not Guilty."

So it is with regard to the second count. Mr. Knowlton now said that there were ther indictments against Lizzie Andrew Borden, each the same as one of the counts of the first indictment, one alleging that she killed her father and the other that she killed her stepmother. Mr. Jennings said that the prisoner would waive the reading of these indictments, but Judge Hammond would not permit it, saying:

HIS STATEMENT HELD BACK.

The Sorrowing Mother Rudely Repulsed by the Warden.

SING SING, May 9 .-- At 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Harris received about 20 representatives in the parlor at her boarding house on State street. Standing in the middle of the folding doors, Mrs. Harris motioned the newspaper men into a semi-circle, and thus addressed

"Gentlemen: My boy has been killed because he was accused of murder. And what was the principal evidence against him? That he did not weep when his wife died. Look in my eyes. You do not see a ear there, do you? Not a tear has been there yet, and who of you doubt that I loved Carlyle? Carlyle is dead—but he is

"He has gone to a higher school where he will be educated and improved in mind. His death is a warning to every one of you young men. If you happen to do wrong run away, no matter how innocent you are or how confident your friends are in our innocence. Carlyle had done wrong. He was inclined to be fast, and had been immoral, somewhat, but not terribly so, but he never killed his wife."

Harris' Statement Withheld. Yesterday afternoon the reporters asked Warden Durston for Carlyle Harris' statement, as it is said to be addressed to the

as censor over the prisoner, even up to the moment of his electrocution.

Chaplain Weills admitted to the reporters that the statement was in his pocket, but he refused to give it out until he took it to the warden. He said the statement had been partly rewritten by Harris, as the warden objected to a portion of its contents.

Chaplain Weills took] the statement to Warden Durston at 4:30 p. m. A few min-utes later Mrs. Harris sent her son Allan to the prison to Ask For the Statement. To Allan the warden said sharply: "I haven't got it. I can't be bothered attending to the requests of Mrs. Harris. I've formally opened last evening, and the got the prison to run. Tell your mother board of directors gave a reception and that as soon as I get the statement I will give it to her."

Young Harris went away much broken of the New England veteran firemen's At 5 o'clock Mrs. Harris, with another tournament, to be held in that city next lady and Allar, drove to the prison. They At 5 o'clock Mrs. Harris, with another took with them a wreath of flowers to place upon the coffin. The wreath bore the inscriptions: "At Rest" and "Innocent."

Warden Durston refused to allow them to take the flowers to the coffin. Then Mrs. Harris asked for the statement made by her son. The warden, who remained seated, with his hat on, replied that he Had Not Got the Statement tested that he must have seen the statement, for she had been told that the chaplain had left it with the warden. Warden Durston finally said that he had mailed Harris' statement to Superintendent of Prisons Lathrop at Albany. "But," said Mrs. Harris, "you promised my son that you would hand it to me."

"I can't help that," replied the warden. "And I can't get it at Albany?" "I don't know." "Oh, this is terrible," said the agonized oman, and she seemed nearer to breaking down than when the news of her son's death reached her. Supported by Allan she withdrew to the carriage. Before entering the carriage she decalred that Warden Durston had disregarded his own promises and the dying request of her son and was now endeavoring to prevent the statement from ever being pub-Warden Durston said afterward that he

The Duchess de Veragua Royally Entertained.

CHICAGO, May 9 .- A large crowd of people visited the fair yesterday. The numbers were far greater than on any day BREWER'S CORNER-Miss Bartlett's, since the opening. The bright sunshine was largely accountable for this. The na-WOLLASTON-Wilde's news stand and Fional commission committee appointed to investigate the second music row, caused ATLANTIC - Brancheid's News Agency by the order of Director Thomas rejecting from his orchestra a piano made by a firm he did not like, held a meeting yesterday, but transacted no business. Chairman Lannon had asked Director General Davis SOUTH QUINCY-Quincy Adams Depot. to appear, but he was ill and unable to be at the fair grounds when the commission met. Judge Clendenning stated that the first business was to determine exactly what authority the music bureau has. The exhibiting piano makers and dealers met yesterday to formulate a statement of their side of the case, which would be presented to the national commission and to the local directory. Lovers of music enjoyed a festival at the White City yesterday which was undoubtedly the finest and largest ever given on the grounds. At 9 o'clock Adolph Leise-gang's band took possession of the band stand No. 1 and soon had a good sized audience, who seemed to heartily enjoy the program. In the agricultural building Michael Brand's orchestra shook the miniature corn houses and wheat mountains at 11 o'clock with enjoyable numbers. After lunch the musicians again took their instruments, Leisegang struggling with a very interesting program, while Brand mustered enough ourage to go through with a long program, which was enjoyed by the crowd.

Concerning Rates For Children. In the philosophy of a World's fair diector there is no room for a thought of half-rates for children who go to Jackson park. When the rules were adopted and the rates of admission fixed, it was decided that there should be no special rate for children, but that all over 6 years of age should pay 50 cents. All children under 6, accompanied by parents or guardian, are admitted free.

There is a good deal of dissatisfaction with the arrangements among the public, and complaints at the gates are frequent. Fathers of large families are seldom millionaires, and the charge of 50 cents for half a dozen children is an important item when the family starts out to see the fair, President Higginbotham, on being asked why no special rate was made for children, said that such a rate would result in the utmost confusion at the gates. There would be disputes as to the ages of the children, and many adults would be represented as mere infants, in order to save the difference in rates. The directors, he said, had given the matter very careful consideration, and had come to the conclusion that a special child's admission was undesirable.

The rule regarding admissions cannot changed without concerted action by the directors and the national commission.

HARRIS' STATEMENT.

A Remarkably Clear Presentation of His View of the Case.

WISHED HIS WIFE TO LIVE.

Says That Affidavits Were and some other details of the preliminary Signed Unread.

ALBANY, May 10.-The following is the last statement written by Carlyle W. Harris, which was given out yesterday from the state prison department:

SING SING, May 6. Notification has been brought me that Gov-ernor Flower has refused to interfere with the execution of the sentence of the lower court n my case. Evidence has come to light that ny wife was, for years before her death, addicted to the use (or misuse) of the drug from an overdose of which she died. I am sentenced to death upon the suppos tion that I substituted a capsule containing five grains of morphine for one of harmless capsules prescribed for her ten days before to pay the balance, and suit was instituted, which is still pending. O'Brien fied as soon as his peculations became known and was not captured until January last. or death.

Now it is self-evident to anyone having the nowledge of medicine that no one addicted of morphine could be murdered with five His case will shortly come up for trial, and he is here endeavoring to settle with the ains of that drug, because for such a poison

Would Not Be a Fatal Dose. Upon this fact was based my motion for re-trial, which Recorder Smyth denied and later opointed to investigate the credibility of the witnesses who had volunteered testimony as to my wife's habit. Their evidence re mained unshaken, and though the prosecution attempted a rebuttal, they did not dare

H. Warner, the famous patent medicine o prosecute in open court the witnesses whose affidavits were the most important of those on which Recorder Smyth denied my motion for retrial. I refer to Eunice Rockwell, Rachel on my trial, as I have shown, and to Dilworth Choate.

Hence it was established before the government. ernor's commissioner by the testimony of Dr. Kinmouth, Dr. Woolman, Miss Jackson, Miss Waddell and others that my wife purchased rphine of them, and that she foolishly used o quiet neuralgie p . It is not claimed d never has been, that my wife wilfully de stroyed herself, for she was beloved and happy. But the fatal mistakes of those who self administer morphine are matters of ecord all over the world. When charges of murder were first preferred against me I delivered myself at once into custody, demanding an investigation. Again on the 20th of April last, although under sen-tence of death, I Refused to Take Advantage of a free opening to escape. As to this las matter Keepers Murphy and Hulse and other orison officials will bear me out. So how is it n a case where so many facts and the entire together with the petition of over do is to carry out existing laws." All I have to havior of the defendent all invite executive 50,000 citizens, among whom many who are ominent in the national esteem, such lemency should be denied? Because the oction of the court was not justified by the acts in the case, and hence the public outcry nust be silenced by a seeming justification of the court outside of the facts. Where there war had been over nearly 30 years. the court outside of the facts. Where there was no doubt of guilt Governor Flower has not hesitated to interfere, as in the case of James Minnaugh about a year ago, but in that case the facts justified the court and there was no Recorder Smith clamoring to be upheld.

Carlyle Harris, living, would be a daily menace to the career of Smyth, Wellman and others. Dead, he will soon be forgotten and the affairs may go on as before. There is an idea in the minds of many that at the time of my wife's death I desired marrying with some other woman. Such a person has never been sion of the annual convention of the Nather woman. THE QUEEN'S DRAWING ROOM.

A Trying Ordeal That Was Something Like a Football Scrimmage. The first drawing room was a very large one, but there was exceedingly lit-16 the beauty among the company. 10 dresses and jewels were magnificent. The ADAMS BUILDING, queen was tolerably punctual in entering the throneroom, and Lady Spencer at once commenced the function by presenting the "females" of the diplomatic corps, after which Sir Christopher Teesdale brought up the "males." One of the foreign ministers wore a blue uniform entirely covered with gold embroidery, with numerous orders and a huge gold key fastened on to the back of his coat. The queen then sat down on her state chair and proceeded to receive the entree people, who were headed by some members of the government, who wore the privy councilor's uniform.

There was a great crowd of entree ompany, as an exceptionally large number of special permissions had been granted by the queen, but her majesty staid on for a few minutes after the general presentations had commenced and then retired, when her place was taken by Princess Christian, next to whom was the Prince of Wales, and then the Dukes of York and Edinburgh.

Several ladies had their trains ing in front for some yards, and two or three narrowly escaped awkward falls. Others had their bouquets utterly destroyed, and many entered the throneroom with disheveled heads, torn veils, broken feathers and crushed sleeves. Some ladies indeed presented as lamentable an appearance as if they had been engaged in a free fight. Two had most palpable bruises on their arms, and another complained, with pardonable acrimony, that she had received a severe blow on her neck from the cocked hat of "some savage" who had attempted to push past her. The saloons in which the company waited were dreadfully cold, for the fires, which had apparently been lighted just at the last moment, were neither numerous nor large, and it is difficult to understand why, in such inclement weather, there should be such rigorous economy at the palace in regard to wood and coal.-London Truth.

A New Field of Contest. Man's desire to excel his fellows prompts him to strange and weird contests for much varying championships. There have been trials in devouring eggs oysters, quails, pumpkin pie and other edibles. Men have starved themselves to skeletonic shadows likewise for the same ends. Some western cities afford perpetual arenas where skill in skinning sheep or dispatch in sticking hogs wins the stakes. Northern and eastern beef cattle—The supply was very light, but what cattle were offered were of a good quality and sold readily at values which were very satisfactory to arovers. The supply was so light that the sales quoted could not be taken as a criterion of the standing of the market.

Milch cows and springers—The supply was light and the demand slow. The bad weather in the country and the slow demand for cows were accountable for the light receipts. Speculators and jobbers did not buy rapidly as they were not willing to pay the prices asked.

Veal calves—Trade was lively, and a clearance was effected at values ½c off from those obtained last week.

Sheep and lambs—The receipts from the west went direct to the slaughter house of G. A. Sawyer. The remainder were sold at values showing no change from last week.

Swine—The receipts from the New England states were bought by agents of the packing companies. Values for the day were quoted from $\frac{3}{3}\tilde{0}$e pr lb., dressed weight. No western swine were offered as all the stock was taken direct to the slaughter houses.

Meaning of the Word "Either." The legal meaning of the word "either" has been gravely argued in an English court of record. A certain testator had left property, the disposition of which was affected by the "death of either" of two persons. One lawyer insisted that 'either" meant both, and in support of his views he quoted Richardson, Webster, Chaucer, Dryden, Southey, the story of the crucifixion and a passage from Revelation. The judge suggested that there was a song in "The Beggar's happy I could be with either, were t'other dear charmer away."

In pronouncing judgment the court ruled that "either" meant one of two, and did not mean both. He said that it might have that meaning occasionally in poetry, but never in an English court of crowded meeting of Pantmakers' union 12

The occasion was also notable because of the many Distinguished Speakers Present. Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of London, one of the most fluent of women orators, captivated the audience by her wit and her conception of the suffrage question; also Miss Kirstine-Frederiksen of Denmark, a bright little body, who, in her native tongue, has talked to her people many years on the subject. and after three-fourths of an hour in the freedom of conversation the supper was announced. From this time until 7 p. m. he 500 or more present enjoyed the de-icious edibles that had been prepared. The supper tables were 36 in number and were presided over by well-known ladies representing different localities. The stage was well covered with repre entative women from various cities in At 7 o'clock Mrs. Livermore rapped for order, and in a witty way introduced the president of the evening, Hon. George F. Hoar, their champion. In introducing Lucy Stone Mr. Hoar said: "I should like to challenge any opponent of woman suffrage to tell me a reason, if he has any, why Lucy Stone should not vote."

received a great ovation. She spoke of the women a chance to vote, and then she said: We have the large, growing sentimentwill find it all over the world. It is not only the public sentiment that is growing, but the people are coming to us. In New York state there has actually been passed a law allowing a woman to have just the same right to her babe as the father has. That law has not been made in Massachusetts, but we are grateful for what the men in the Massachusetts legislature have done for us."

Rev. Dr. Gordon, pastor of the Old South church, said he had signed all the petitions of this association sent to him Mr. Beecher, who once said: 'Man as man is superior to woman; but that woman as

nd that both taken together they are more han a match for either taken separately.' Te must not forget that woman by her ndowment as wife and mother has imarted a spirit in the progress of new ideas hat would have been lost without her." Miss Fredericksen said that she never nought she would address an American udience and they must excuse a really oor speaker, but she said she would chalnge every one of the audience to go over Denmark and address an audience in e Danish language. Over there they ave not the influential ladies with them, hey must struggle along without them. Colonel Higginson said that the coming of woman suffrage is less of sentiment now han a few years ago, and is Getting Upon a Firmer Basis. Mrs. Chant, after thanking the president for the kind way he mentioned England in introducing her, said: "The political kingdom has been the hardest of the lot unlawful to print an English version of to conquer," and in England she felt tent, was put under bonds for trial for free to say that on the woman suffrage

Sheriff Huriburt and Other Officials Pay Him a Visit.

LIKELY TO BREAK DOWN.

The Death Watch Over Him Night and Day.

CONCORD, N. H., May 11.-Sheriff Hurlburt of Grafton county, accompanied by the governor and council and the secretary of state, visited the state prison yesterday. The sheriff stated that the only object of his visit was to make an inspection and further consideration of the plans and arrangements for the execution of Almy. General Hurlburt made a short visit to Almy appeared well and has got over most of the irritation that he experienced enough with Almy to observe that he has begun to weaken a little, and I am of the opinion that he will break up generally before he ascends the scaffold."

The time was not set for a hearing, and consequently this set-tles the question that General Hurlburt will be in office on Tuesday next and will

Last night Almy went to bed early and, his thoughts may revert to the Warden mestead and the pleasant days spent in the company of Christie at the farmhouse at Hanover only two short years since. Almy is in a meditative mood. There is no doubt about it. He says little, and in fact there is not much cause for saying a great deal.

Those who have seen him know that

He is under the espionage of a death watch, a hitherto unknown and supposed unnecessary element in the precautions for the care of murderers.

Eight persons have been hanged in the New Hampshire penitentiary since the law requiring all executions to take place in the state prison went into effect, but this the first instance in which it was deemed essary to have a death watch put over a condemned prisoner.

Almy's guards or watch are John A. Pillsbury and A. Anthony Colby of Almy is morose. He says nothing. He is surly, cross and ugly. He doesn't like to be under the charge of watchers. He knows what it means and realizes fully that the warden and state officials do not mean that he shall cheat the gallows. Almy says nothing to the death watch. He has been asked if he wanted light in his cell, and he said to the guard: "If I Want Any Light I Will Tell You." The chaplain, Rev. Mr. Wilkins, did not see Almy yesterday, because he was out of town. He did see and had a long talk with the condemned man Tue-day. Almy is inclined to be a scoffer, but the chaplain hopes to bring him to realize the hereafter before he ceases his ministra-

After being out 12 minutes the jury returned with a verdict of guilty. Dearborn was sentenced to imprisonmen during his natural life in the state prison at Charle-town, one day solitary and the residue at hard labor. Hubbell will go free, having turned state's evidence.

Struck by an Electric Car. Boston, May 11. - An electric car accident, which will likely result in the victim's death, occurred yesterday afternoon at South Boston. Jeremiah Donovan, 78 years old, was the victim, and at the time of the accident was crossing Broadway. An electric car was going along that thoroughfare at a fairly rapid rate, and although the motorman did his best to stop the car in time, he was unable to do so.

The car struck the old man and he was thrown under it. It was found that Donovan had sustained a fracture of one leg thought that the embarassed firm will be below the knee and had also received severe able to pay dollar for dollar. mjuries to his head. Bad Wreck on the Fitchburg.

Will Contest His Father's Will. NEW HAVEN, May 11.-Yesterday morning the hearing in John McDonell's protest against the admission of his father's vill was begun, and the case promises most sensational developments. John A. McDonell died a month ago, leaving an estate of $50,000. He had seven children, to whom he bequeathed $5000 each, except to his son John of Miller's Falls, Mass., to whom he gave but $50, because of certain impudent letters sent to the deceased. The protest alleges that undue influence was brought to bear against the contestant.

THE TEMPER of the Legislature as to the duties of municipalities towards water companies was shown on Tuesday, when the House, by a large majority, voted to substitute the Newburyport water bill presented by the minority of the committee on water supply as a substitute for the reports of the committee, leave to withdraw, on the petition of the city, for leave to establish a water supply.

The action is of special interest to Quincy at this time and should have weight with the commissioners, who are now holding hearings to determine what this city shall pay for the works of the Quincy water company. No fancy prize shall be put on the stock, and the future prospects of the city, or the value of the city, shall not be considered. A fair value is what is to be determined. The provisions are of interest. The substituted bill provides that the city of Newburyport may take, by purchase or otherwise, the waters of any pond stream, spring or well within the limits of the city not heretofore taken or purchased by the Newburyport Water Company, and the Artichoke river in West Newbury, and may obtain water by means of bored, driven, artesian or other wells.

The city is authorized to issue bonds, notes or scrip not exceeding $400,000 to be sold for not less than par, and to be known as the Newburyport Water Loan, may establish a sinking fund to be paid in thirty years, or provide for the payment of the loan by annual proportionate payments within the time prescribed.

A board of five commissioners shall be appointed, who shall fix a rate for the use of the water which shall produce annually, as near as may be, a net surplus equal to two per cent, of the total amount of bonds, notes and scrip issued under this act, after paying the current expenses of operating the water works and interest on loans, and the payment of new construction, not exceeding $10,000 in any one year.

The act shall be submitted to the voters of Newburyport for their acceptance or rejection, within six months of its passage, nd if the act is accepted, the Newburypo Water Company may within thirty days thereafter notify the mayor of its desire to sell its plant and property to the city; the property in case the water company and city cannot agree, whose award shall be final, but said commissioners in fixing the price shall not take into account the value of the franchise of said company, the value of the city of Newburyport and its nhabitants as a market for the sale of water, or the earning capacity of said property, but shall only ascertain the fair value for use by the city of the property, and the city may dispute the valuation placed on property put in as capital stock, and if the same is shown to be excessive, the valuation may be reduced by the commissioners

This can be easily proved if a person will take the trouble to observe how many towns, where large numbers of men ride on bicycles to their places of business.

The bicycle is helping to solve The Tenement-House Problem, as it enables the workman to live in the suburbs where he has some of the advantages of country life, and yet he can ride to his work in the city. A tax on bicycles would be a burden placed directly upon thousands of the better class of mechanics to whom the machine has become a necessity, as much so as their tools or household effects which are exempt from taxation.

If the bicycle, which increases the amount of work that may be performed by the body, is a fit object to be specially taxed, then every other machine, device or tool which increases the amount of work that may be performed by muscular effort, is a fit subject for taxation. In the minds of some persons, and prob. ably in the mind of the assessors, a bicycle is a bicycle, whether it be a poorly constructed, unsafe machine, the value of which does not exceed $10, or whether it be one of the most perfect make with pneumatic tires; the value of these tires alone being greater than the whole machine of another make. Their lives have been spent with nature.

Born to good health, as the saying goes, they keep it.

Think how they live, eat, sleep, travel about, exposed to climatic changes, poisonous night airs, damp sleeping places, food half cooked, and eaten with utter food half cooked, and eaten with utter disregard of all common rules of health. Yet, look at them! Pictures of health. Chronic Rheumatism? Never. Malaria and Chills? Very rarely. Indigestion? Occasional symptoms perhaps, but Chronic Dyspepsia, utterly unheard of. While any of the numerous afflictions of the liver, kidneys or bladder, so frequently found among the whites, is rarely heard of among the Indians. Why is it? >

For centuries these children of nature have studied her ways. For centuries they have known where to look in the forest and field for a certain cure for the ills which arise from the disobedthe ills which arise from the disobedience of nature's laws. At the first sign, the first symptoms of sickness, they resort to their "Sagwa"—the most potent, remedial combination of roots and herbs known to the Indian or any other race. A combination so valuable that the learned professor of Physiological Chemistry at Yale college commended it and could offer no suggestions.

MASSACHUSETTS LE Matters Disposed of In the Senate World's Fair Commission.

Boston, May 10.—Under suspension of the rules the report of the conference com-mittee on the representation of the state at the World's fair, June 17, was accepted by the senate. Mr. Salisbury moved to reconsider the rejection of the amendment giving the registrar of probate of Worcester county an increase of $300 over the salary reported by the recess committee, which was $3000. Reconsideration prevailed, 15 to 10. The amendment was then carried. The bill was engrossed.

The house adopted the order extending to May 17 the time within which the gas investigating committee shall report.

The house passed to be engrossed with-out debate the bill to prevent foreign corporations from issuing stock or other se-curities based on domestic corporations. The house rejected unanimously the bill to put all the expense of altering highways upon abutters. The resolve for a constitutional convention was referred to the next legislature. The house concurred with the senate in striking from the wide-tire bill the exemption of Suffolk county. Without debate the house ordered to a third reading the bill for a tax on the fran-chises of street railway corporations. Mr. Rosnosky had the World's fair resolve taken from the calendar on the ques-tion of agreeing to the report of the conference committee to send eight senators and 20 representatives. The report was agreed to, 82 yeas to 34 nays. A rollcall was refused.

Mr. Darling had discharged from the orders the bill to authorize the Newton and Boston Street Railway company to issue new stock and bonds. He had it amended so that the capital shall not exceed $30,000 a mile instead of $35,000, and so that no bonds shall be issued under the act unless approved by the railroad commissioners. The bill was then passed to be engrossed. A similar amendment was made to the bill to authorize the Pittafield Electric Street Railway company to issue bonds, and it was then passed to be engrossed. Like changes were made in the bill to incorporate the Essex County Street Railway company.

The bill to compel the burying of electric wires in Boston was advanced one stage

ONE MORE FOR WASHINGTON.

The Bostons Batted Very Well, But Stivetts Was Off Once Again. WASHINGTON, May 11.-The lovers of hard batting and sharp fielding have been treated in the past two days to exhibitions which were exciting enough to satisfy the most exacting of baseball patrons. Souther's Periodical Store, 1 Granite ONE TERM FOR PRESIDENT.

Wants the Republican Party to Make New Departures.

Louisville, May 11.-It was in Mc-Cauley's theater that the National Republican league assembled yesterday morning. After the preliminary business, Hon. James S. Clarkson, the president of the league, was presented and made the annual address. During his speech Mr. Clarkson said:

As we begin here today the march of victory in 1896 we have neither complaints nor apologies or explanations to make for the de-feat of last year. Indeed, the Republican party feels even better over the situation than the country itself. The Democratic party that saw in the Republican policies only rob-bery of the American people have now been in power two months, and the robbery still oes on by Democratic consent and under

All these suggestions were loudly applauded. He concluded his address, which had occupied over one hour in de-

Sir Charles Russell Takes Up England's

Side of the Case. Paris, May 11.—Attorney General Sir Charles Russell of coursel for Great Britain before the Behring sea tribunal of arbitration began his address yesterday in behalf of the British case. The court room was thronged with English and American esidents of Paris and with visitors from abroad. Sir Charles began by bestowing generous praise on the arguments of Messrs. Carter and Coudert of counsel for the United States as full of intellectual

He thought that Mr. Carter's line of gument had taken him into the misty douds of metaphysical and ethical dis-cussion, which had no bearing upon the requirements. ase. He had also built strongholds which vere legally indefensible.

Sir Charles remarked on the change of front in various parts of the American argument. The courage, not to say the audacity, with which American counsel had propounded as propositions of law propositions which had no legal foundation, had greatly interested him.

Sir Charles agreed with the Americans that it was preferable that the seals should e exterminated rather than that the tr anal should swerve from the straight lin of the law. The whole question had been xaggerated. The counsel for the United tates had dwelt upon the cost of Alaska and the value of that territory to the Inited States on account of the seals, but t the time of the purchase of Alaska the Inited States did not take the seals under onsideration.

This statement by Sir Charles led to a ong discussion as to the correctness of the assertion. Baron de Courcel, president of the council, American Arbitrators Harlan and Morgan and Hon: E. J. Phelps of he discussion and brought out various points relating to the purchase of Alaska.

ALMY'S LIFE HISTORY

Prison Chaplain.

DEATH ON THE SCAFFOLD

Is Thought by Some to Be a Matter of Uncertainty.

CONCORD, N. H., May 12 .- "They care a good deal more for my soul than they do for my poor body." So said George H. Abbott, convicted under the name of Frank C. Almy, for the murder of Christie Warden, when the letter of Congressman Morse was shown him.

Coming, as did the letter, in the critical point in Chaplain Wilkins' endeavors to have Almy turn from his agnostic views, it had the effect of making Almy more communicative, and when he had read the letter he began to bemoan his fate.

"All my life," said Almy, "has been a life against itself; my love affairs have always resulted in murder; no matter where I went or what I did, dire calamity befell

These startling words were the prelude of a wholesale confession made recently to the chaplain. It was by a quiet, pains-taking method that "Parson" Wilkins drew Almy on to sinking sand, and step by step the murderer's life history was re-Away back in the fall the chaplain had labored diligently to effect a spiritual change, but he was repulsed by Bitter Agnostic Argument. "I have heard all of this," he replied to the chaplain

"Where?" "In this same prison."

Then he proceeded to tell Mr. Wilkins how he had heard all of the talk between Isaac Sawtelle and the chaplain.

Almy's cell was directly underneath Sawtelle's, and great care was taken by the chaplain that the guards were out of hearing distance, but he had no idea that the "boy" as he calls Almy, could overhear.

A Rev. Mr. Grover if Nashua appealed to the governor to see 'f he could not go and visit Sawtelle. Mr. Grover went with the chaplain, and according to Mr. Wilkins' statement Sawtelle "laid out" the Nashua clergyman.

The result of all this was, as the chap-ain tersely put it yesterday afternoon, 'Frank was primed for me on the subject

"I worked along a little at a time, first tinued Mr. Wilkins, "until he had told me his theories, and I can truthfully say that, unless he did so yesterday or this morning, Almy has not asked for a cleansing by the blood of Jesus Chr'st."

"I am not as bad as old Sawtelle," said is $1000. Almy one day to the chaplain. "Why, he killed his brother, and you know that Was Not Half His Crimes.

I overheard his confessions. I killed Christie Warden, the dearest, purest creature on earth; my first love, an inno-cent woman, whom I revered. I know not how I did it, but the devil was in me, that is, if there is such a thing.
"Everybody hates me; I have not a friend on earth; I am the despised of men; I committed a terrible murder. It is no wonder they all turn from me and anxously await the day when I am no more.' It was in the midst of one of these visits that self-destruction was referred to. Whatever it was the chaplain will not at present disclose, but last Friday he left Almy in his cell and immediately called Deputy Robinson.

However uncertain or apparently meaningless may have been this warning, it was immediately acted upon. Then followed one of the queerest and most mys-terious injunctions ever given out at the prison. The chaplain was told A Death Watch was to be put on "the boy," and Warden Colbath said: "You must not visit Almy tomorrow." This was Sunday, and the chaplain obeyed. Such a thing was never before done. The chaplain has always been allowed the freedom of the place and visited anybody and everybody at such times as he saw fit. Not in so many words did the chaplain say the boy had told him all, but he says, "I have all Almy's history, and if certain parties had kept quiet, I would have his whole life written up in a truthful and concise manner. He wanted me to do so, and I encouraged him all that I could. "Why Almy has not come out flatfooted and said, 'I am George Abbott, chaplain,' is like this," the chaplain went on. "He says, 'God knows I am bad enough and have led a miserable life under the name of Almy, and the world looks upon Frank

C. Almy

As a Merciless Wretch.

I do not want to make myself out still greater a demon, and by not saying I am Abbott, it leaves some doubt, and to a few the thought is convered that a Armenians who work for small wages; also few the thought is conveyed that I am sorry for the past and would like to forget carried stories to the proprietors.

The chaplain has made a thorough investigation of Almy's, or Abbott's, early life, guided in many cases by the talk from the outside, and, as he sat in his comfortable home on Jackson street, he said he found that Frank had told the truth in

"I was up in Vermont and on that mountain where, when a boy, he kicked up such a high old time. I found many things just as the boy told them."
Chaplain Wilkins' talk showed conclusively these points: Almy has admitted that he is Abbott; has made a confession of all his life; has intimated that he would sommit suicide, and firmly resolved to die as he has lived, a thorough agnostic. On the street and in the stores there

The rain fully demonstrated that there are still leaky places in the roofs of several buildings, and two or three exhibits in the manufactures buildings were declared almost ruined.

The Nicaragua Canal construction company has completed its model of the Nicaragua canal in the gallery of the building and placed it on exhibi-tion yesterday. The model has been very carefully planned and shows the nature of the canal country very well. The total length of the canal represented is 170 ments and adopted chem. Belgium Opens Her Show.

A reception was held in the Belgium ex-hibit section in the manufactures building which marked the opening of the exhibit to the public. The reception was not a formal one, and there was no speechmaking, but invited guests were simply and cordially welcomed by the president of the Belgian commission, A. Veruysse, Commissioner General A. Simonis, Deputy Commissioner General Edward Guerette, and Secretaries Raymond Leghit and B.F. Simonis and Ramond Vaxelaire. Among the guests were Duke de Varagua, Mayor Harrison, President Higginbotham, Director General Davis, the foreign commis action of the Republican majority, was met with rebuffs from the leaders of the sioners and many prominent citizens of Chicago.

The gate tender, Michael Douovan, attempted to save the man, but The electrical building will not have all its exhibits in place before June 12. Chief Barrett's order to have all ready by Saturday night, on pain of having the space taken from those who failed and given to some one else, has been received with a shrug of shoulders. The delay, the exhibitors say, is not due to them. The responsibility, according to them, rests upon the installation department, which has shown a marvelous capacity for keeping loaded cars on the grounds.

An Unfortunate Accident. The fruit exhibition of New South Wales was received at the fair yesterday, after being on the way 52 days. The exhibit was delayed between San Francisco and Chicago by accident, and as a consequence 10 out of the 18 cases of fruit were spoiled and had to be thrown away. Two cases of the passion fruit, which is unknown in this country, were entirely ruined. Boiled Down.

ed at length when given at Wollaston a repetition is unnecessary. The sweet face of Charlotte Corday peering through the grating of her cell was thought by some to have been the best. There appeared the 'Princes in the Tower," by Millias; the Immaculate Conception of Murillo; St. Cecilia, by Raphael, "Three Fates" by Michael Angelo; the Magdalen by Murillo; Beatrice Cenic, and Mater Dolorosa by Guido Reni; "The Winged Angel," "Blind Nydia with her basket of flowers." the pure Roman Vestal with her lamp, and as many more.

Mr. James F. Harlow presided at the organ and his music lent charm to the evening. There was also a cornet solo and in connection with one of the representations, singing. MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE

Storage Battery Street Railways-No Pensions For Probate Judges. Boston, May 12.-Governor Russell

signed the resolve authorizing the state to be represented at the World's fair. At the meeting of the executive council it was voted that the party should leave Boston on Monday evening, June 12, and return the following Monday, June 19. Adjutant General Dalton was given entire charge of the arrangements for the delegation.

At the meeting of the executive council the nomination of John J. McDonough to be judge of the police court at Fall River was unanimously confirmed. Henry P. Wolcott of Cambridge was reapported by the governor as a member of the state board of health. Levi E. Wood of Fall River was appointed special justice of the second district court for Bristol county. The bill to wind up the endowment insurance companies was again brought before the senate, having been recalled from the governor. It was afterward put over until next Wednesday.

The house bill relating to co-operative banks was referred to the next legislature.

The third debate in the house on the storage battery bill was opened by Mr.
Dennis. The debate was quite lengthy.
On passing the bill to be engrossed there were 84 yeas to 74 nays on a rising vote. A rollcall was ordered, and there were 106 yeas to 76 nays. Mr. Golding gave notice

Debate was resumed on the bill to amend an act providing for the retirement of the justices of the superior court so as to include judges of probate and insolvency, the question being on ordering to a third reading. The bill was rejected by a large majority.

Georgie Haddock sat on the players' bench while the Bostons were practising, and surveyed the scene of beauty before him. It must have had a Sad effect upon him, for Georgie did not pitch good ball, He gave no less than eight bases on balls in five innings, three in succession in the fourth inning. Then the crowd got impatient, and there were cries of "Take him out." Then Kennedy was put in, and with better results, but too late to save the

The illustrations here given represent the plans and front elevation of two semide-tached dwellings suitable for the suburbs of a city or for a village or town. The plans are almost exactly alike, with the exception of the variations in the form of he bay windows in front, which make the building very attractive in appearance A cellar extends under the entire and has a concrete floor 3 inches thick.

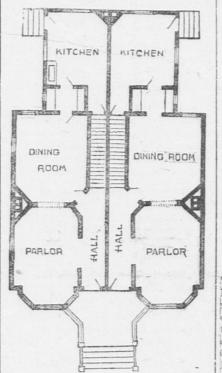

FRONT ELEVATION.

In this case the entrances are close together and sheltered by a handsome gabled rch, which harmonizes with the chief aracteristic feature of each house. From he porch you may pass into either hall. On ach side of the halls are the parlors, with an archway separating the latter from the former; also one between the parlor and lining room, arranged to be hung with oretty portieres, which always give a rich ffect. There is a door communicating with the hall and dining room, which is a most desirable feature. The main staircase, at the back end of the hall, leads to the econd story. This staircase is 3 feet wide, with a neat hand rail firmly secured on one side. A staircase which passes up between two partitions costs less than an open stairway, although it is not as handsome in

The dining room is lighted by two windows, one at the side and one in the rear. From the dining room you enter the kitchen through the pantry. Underneath the main staircase is the entrance and stairs to the cellar, which are convenient and lead directly from the kitchen.

The kitchen is equipped with a portable range, to which is attached a "water back" and hot water boiler, which supplies the kitchen sink and bathroom in the second story with an ample quantity of hot water,

MR. BLOUNT'S STORY

Indicates That Peace Once More Reigns In Hawaii.

A POLICY OF DELIBERATION

Will Be Pursued In Settling the Points at Issue.

WASHINGTON, May 12.-The state department has just received voluminous lispatches from Commissioner Blount at BREWER'S CORNER-Miss Bartlett's, Hawaii, in which he depicts the situation of affairs from the inception of the revolution which placed the provisional government in authority down to the time of his arrival on the island upon a thorough investigation from all sides, and since upon personal knowledge of events as they have transpired.

> He makes no recommendations, but leaves the president and the secretary of state to draw their own conclusions. He does not think it in the logic of the situation that the monarchy should be restored. The provisional government is becoming more in harmony with the wishes of the people every day.

The commissioner, having refused to use his office to restore the queen, and having intimated that the Washington government was not so inclined, set aside that phase of the question, which also met with ready acquiescence. The mercantile and commercial interests, he reports, are largely in favor of some stable government brought about through the influence of the United States, whether it be on an independent basis or under the Jurisdiction of the United States. The provisional government and inhabitants of the islands, as well as the foreign residents, now fully understand that the United States government will not tolerate any interference by any foreign power. The knowledge of this purpose has given the provisional government a prestige against the intrigues of local or outside

The retirement of Minister Stevens and the appointment of Commissioner Blount, who is now familiar with the conditions on the Islands and the policy of this gov-ernment, is admitted in official circles to mean a policy of deliberation in the final determination of the relations of the country to the United States. Commissioner Blount reports every-thing as peaceful and no apprehension of a disturbance of existing conditions.

GREENVILLE, Miss., May 12.—The first break in the levees restraining the Mississippi river occurred on the Arkansas side, about 14 miles below this city. crevasse is in a small levee, against which was about seven feet of water. The width of the break is about 200 feet, and it is widening rapidly. While this break will inflict considerable damage upon that section of the country, the relief given to the levees on the Mississippi side will be material. The county of Chicot, in which is located the scene of the crevasses, will mainly be the sufferer.

About 5000 acres of land in that county, lanted in cotton, will be inundated.

The total amount of damage is impossible to estimate, but as the crop is in a forward condition it will be great. Efforts to Rivas and Sanjuan del Morte. The govtie the ends of this part of the crevasse will be made. The levees on the Mississippi side are in excellent shape. Guards are patrolling them night and day.

More Trouble For Waiters.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The waiters are again excited. According to President Tucker, there was a lively scene at the Hotel Legerot last night, when he was ordered from the premises by the propri-etor. Tucker had gone to the Legerot to see if he could not get the proprietor to come to some agreement. A mass meeting will be held Sunday night, which will be a lively one.

he President Contemplating a Plan to Prevent Political "Log-Rolling." WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Star says that men who have talked with the president and have observed the political drift would not be surprised if there should be before long a radical reform in the political methods of patronage distribution and the curtailment, if not the abolishment, of the system under which congressmen are the active and persistent seekers of patronage

There may be an agreement between the president and members of his cabinet not to recognize congressmen who recommend or solicit appointments, but to call on them whenever it is thought proper for the opinion of the congressman as to any applications on file for the positions under consideration. It is pointed out in favor of the proposed change, that under the present system congressmen do not get ime to attend to their public executive duties, for the reason that they have to constantly press the claims of their constituents for office.

Moreover, in some districts a congressman's ability is no longer gauged by his said that Mr. Cleveland has been seriously impressed with the situation which has been forced upon his attention, and has given to it much consideration in his few eisure moments.

TRACEY OF ILLINOIS

Is Unanimously Chosen President of the Republican League.

LOUISVILLE, May 12.—The convention of Republican League clubs was called to order by President Clarkson. The committee on resolutions made its report, which was received and read. It touched upon almost every question of public inerest now before the country, including resolutions of respect to the memory of the late James G. Blaine.

James Blount, a colored delegate from Alabama, offered a few criticisms on the Republican party for its seeming neglect of the negro in the south. A resolution that all immigrants be de-nied admission to this country who could not read in the English language was postponed. A resolution was adopted de-nouncing the action of the Union League lub of New York for refusing admission o membership to a Hebrew.

When the resolution offered by Dr. Blackwell, favoring woman suffrage, was read, a motion was made that it be adopted. This caused a furore all over the house. A division was called for, and the resolution was adopted by a vote of 375 yeas to 185 nays. The committee had reported the resolution and a solution. The first ballot for president resulted as follows: M. H. DeYoung, California, 406; W. W. Tracey, Illinois, 902; General W. H. Hastings, Pennsylvania, 413. Tracey's lection was made unanimous.

WASHINGTON, May 12.-Interesting deails of the extent of the revolution in Nicaragua have been given to the press by | Oil Cloths, ecretary Gresham. They show the revolutionary movement to be successful in the steps so far made. The revolutionary army consists of between 3000 and 5000 men under the command of the best generals in Nicaragua, while the government roops number but 2000 men, who are weak and demoralized.

The revolutionists are in possession of Managua, the capital, and five other cities, and of both ends of the canal and of the vessels on it. The five cities above referred to are Masagua, Contaleques, Grenada, on the town of Managua and have been repulsed each time.

In view of the serious turn of affairs and the immediate necessity for the protection of the lives and property of citizens of this country in the vicinity of the canal, supplemental orders have been sent to the ommanding officer of the United States teamer Atlanta, now at New York, to hasten the departure of that vessel to Greytown, the nearest town to the scene of the trouble.

Think how they live, eat, sleep, travel about, exposed to climatic changes, poisonous night airs, damp sleeping places, food half cooked, and eaten with utter disregard of all common rules of health. Yet, look at them! Pictures of health. Chronic Rheumatism? Never. Mal-

Chronic Kheumatism? Never. Malaria and Chills? Very rarely. Indigestion? Occasional symptoms perhaps, but Chronic Dyspepsia, utterly unheard of. While any of the numerous afflictions of the liver, kidneys or bladder, so frequently found among the whites, is rarely heard of among the Indians.

Why is it?

For centuries these children of nature here studied her ways. For centuries have studied her ways. For centuries they have known where to look in the forest and field for a certain cure for the ills which arise from the disobed-ience of nature's laws. At the first sign, the first symptoms of sickness, they re-sort to their "Sagwa"—the most potent, remedial combination of roots and herbs known to the Indian or any other race.

Making Arrangements to See the Opening Game-Railroad Legislation. Boston, May 13.-The senate adopted an rder for meeting at 1 o'clock Monday, so the members can witness the opening ball game of the season. Mr. Buckley moved to reconsider the substitution of the bill to prevent double taxation of personal property without the state. Reconsideration was refused—9

Without debate the house passed to be ingressed the bill to tax street railway mpanies on their corporate franchises. Immediately after the chaplain's prayer an order for a session at 11 o'clock Monday was offered and instantly adopted without a word from any one. It is to be presumed that the change of hour is in order to permit the members to go to the opening of the baseball season Monday afternoon. On the senate bill to authorize the organization of insurance companies to se ure against accident to property an amendneut was adopted to except fire and marine disasters, boiler explosions and break-age of plate glass. Another amendment forbids life insurance companies to engage in the business. The bill was passed to be Mr. Buck was against the senate bill to put the release on probation of persons

THE PRINCE IS DEAD.

A room in the palace is shut. The Ring And the queen are sitting in black. All day weeping servants will run and bring, But the heart of the queen will lack all things, and the eyes of the king will swim With tears which must not be shed, But will make all the air float dark and dim, As he looks at each gold and silver toy, And thinks how it gladdened the royal boy, And dumbly writhes while the courtiers read How all the nations his sorrow heed, The prince is dead.

The hut has a door, but the hinge is weak, And today the wind blows it back; There are two sitting there who do not speak; hev have begged a few rags of blacks They are hard at work, though their eyes are With tears that must not be shed;

They dare not look where the cradle is set; They hate the sunbeam which plays on the But will make the baby laugh out no more; They feel as if they were turning to stone; They wish the neighbors would leave them

Warner Miller Replies to Mr. Guzman's Charge of Aiding the Revolution.

NEW YORK, May 13.-President Warner H. Miller of the Nicaragua Canal company, in referring to Mr. Guzman's state ments at Washington that the revolu-tionists were aided by New York and outside capitalists of the United States who had large interests in Nicaragua, said: I do not know to whom Mr. Guzman re ers in his intimations. "The facts are that the canal company has had nothing to do with the political situation and has furnished neither arms, ammunition or means, directly or indirectly, to the revolutionists. Not the slightest particle of truthful evidence could be shown that the company had in any way interfered with the affairs in that country. I have no fears regarding the safety of the property of the company, which will, I believe, be conserved under ill conditions. The treaty of 1867 between the United States and Nicaragua gives this government the power to protect the transit route of the canal. They can, when it is deemed necessary, land troops for the purpose of protecting the property and take possession. The canal company s giving itself no concern, as the United States government has already sent its men-of-war to guard this company.

"It is true that the revolutionists have seized the steamers belonging to the canal company on Lake Nicaragua, but up to this time they have not disturbed those on the San Juan river. This was to be expected, as the control of Lake Nicaragua is essential to their purpose."

The Turkish Village Discouraged. If things do not change for the better here is every prospect that the Turkish village will very soon take unto itself wings and fly away from the plaisance to ome place where backsheesh is more plentiful. As a matter of fact, despite its sedan chairs, its Odeon with the dancing ouris and its scenes of oriental life, the Turkish village is not a financial success. There is not a more dejected man on the Midway plaisance than Effendi Robert Levy. Business is dull. It is very dull; no money comes in and lots goes out.

THE CHOLERA SCARE.

No Indications That We Are to Be Visited by the Scourge,

WASHINGTON, May 13.-The cholera outlook is distinctly better in the Marine hospital than it was six or eight weeks ago. This does not mean that the country will not be visited by a cholera outbreak or that any precautions will be relaxed, out merely that the indications are less threatening than they were. It was said at the Marine hospital service yesterday that no cholera reports had as yet been re-ceived and that matters were progressing satisfactorily.

It was feared that there would be an early and violent outbreak in France, but the reports received from our medical officers there indicate that the disease has ecreased lately in the districts in which t had appeared and that there is an imospital service was apprehensive that there would be cholera reported before of the disease, it is said, can be taken as a

At the same time it is felt that even if no cholera cases make their appearance luring the next month, it will be necessary and wise to continue to guard against a ssible outbreak. Should the next 30 days be safely passed, however, it will give a decided feeling of relief and will enourage a feeling of hope that we may possibly escape a severe visitation from the scourge. Moreover, a decided advantage will have been gained in that it will be easier to combat the disease for the re maining days of the summer than it would have been had an outbreak occurred at the very beginning of hot weather.

DEMOCRATS FAVORED.

Result Will Be Watched With Interest. PROVIDENCE, May 13.-The supreme ourt yesterday handed down a rescript on the contested election case in the town of South Kingston in favor of the Democrats and practically ordering a new elec-tion in that town. This leaves the whole question of state officers for the next year in an uncertain condition. Each party ha 53 members of the legislature which will new election in South Kingston for sens tor and representative there is an election for a senator in North Smithfield.

Whichever party captures the elections will control the state next year, elect their governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer and all the minor state officers.

CHICAGO, May 15.-Closed tightly were he gates of the World's fair yesterday. Although everyboly must have known that admission could not be had, thouands of persons walked along the outside of the exposition fences.

Angry Concessionaires. Concessionaires of Midway plaisance aw the magnificent display of electric ights in the fair grounds Saturday night, and mourned because they were forced to shut down for want of light. Just half a dozen lights represented the work of the exposition officials in the Midway for a fortnight. The German village paid $16,-000 three weeks ago for electric lamps, and at 7 o'clock counted 'ts receipts by the zlare of a lantern.

THE FAIR FIRE DEPARTMENT. The concessionaires of Midway held an informal meeting to protest against the failure of the exposition officials to give them light. Manager Bloom of the Algerian village was particularly aggrieved. He declared that there was no good reason for the delay, and that every night spent in darkness represented a loss to the conssionaires of Midway of at least $10,000. Manager Henneberg of the panorama of the Bernese Alps said that he had placed his case in the hands of his lawyers.

The Ducal Party will devote this week to the fair, and few engagements have been made. Wednesday being the birthday of the King of Spain, the duke will attend a dinner given by the Spanish commissioner, and on Thursday the party will dine with Mrs. Marian A. On Saturday evening the party will visit the military tournament at Tattersall's, in company with a small social gathering. The duke will probably renain in Chicago two weeks longer. For several hours yesterday the Boston Symphony orchestra rehearsed the concert music. A tour of the grounds followed. The Boston musicians spent several hours among the various buildings and afterward made a tour of Midway

WALLSTREET DOINGS

Defended In a Sermon by a New York Clergyman.

STOCK BROKERS ARE HONES!

Their Earnings as Legitimate as Those of a Preacher.

NEW YORK, May 15.-Rev. Addison C. Peters of the Bloomingdale Reforme church preached a sermon last night to stock brokers. He said:

"Across the island in New York, in 1765, wall of stone was erected to keep off the Indians and along the line of that wall a street was laid, called Wall street. It is the mightiest street in the world today. People talk of its being a street that runs from Trinity church to the East river. It eaches from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the lakes to the gulf. So many bad things have been done in Wall street that with some people it stands only for high-toned scoundrelism. o up and down that street and look at he names on the signs and the names of the many institutions, and you will find he names of more tried and true men than you can find in the same space in any part of the business world. Stocks have come one of the essential means of ou nmercial and political progress; they re therefore as

The murder was horrible. Both Flan-nery and the murdered girl came from Jersey City, and it is claimed that Mary Sexton had supported him for some time, although she was only 19 years old. The girl also paid her mother's rent in Jersey City and helped the family. Both she and Flannery formerly lived at Jersey City with their parents. Mrs. Sexton, the girl's mother, is a widow with four children. She said that she had often heard her daughter say that she was afraid of Flannery. Flannery's mother said that when her son got drunk he was like a madman. The police say that there were two war rants out for Flannery's arrest in Jerse;

The Confirmation of Eckels. The confirmation of Mr. Eckels as comptroller of the currency is a victory for Mr. Cleveland, who played a high game and won. It is now known that it caused no little feeling on the part of Secretary Carlisle, who did not think that Eckels was a fit man for the post and said so. Nevertheless he would not antagonize the president in the question of confirmation. Persons who well know the feelings of the president say he is greatly encouraged as to the future, including the senate's reputed hostility The line of battle against the president was formed, and word sent that if he would save himself from defeat, he should withdraw Eckels' name. To which he is said to have replied, in substance, that if senators chose they might reject the nomination, and he would see them later. This had the effect of producing a sober second thought, and Eckels was concomptroller say he will astonish Wall

He Swindles the Americans Evidence of the extent to which William Lord Moore carries on his next of kin swindle in America continues to reach me from time to time. One of the latest cases to hand is from a gentleman in Texas, who fortunately saw my warning in time to prevent him being duped into paying the "tax on legacies and bequests" mentioned in the bogus decree of the supreme court of chancery with Really I think that it is time for the police of some nationality to attempt to deal with the swindler, and, so far as I can see, the American police have the first claim upon his liberty, for it is evident from the correspondence in my pos session that this latter victim fell into Moore's hands through an advertisement of a New York claim agency. William Lord Moore is well known at Scotland Yard, and I am convinced that if it were asked for every assistance would be given in ridding the country of this rascal.-London Truth.

Do not need to be told the many advantages of owning a summer cottage at one of the picturesque shore resorts in their own pleasant little city. They know more about it than we can tell them on a whole page of the LEDGER. But we come forward once more to call their attention to the many claims to pre eminence as a summer resort possessed by

HOUGHS NECK.

The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication, with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is-one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

THE RESULT

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893, a church to be built very soona desirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by a public-spirited citizen-a dozen new buildings now going up and as many more contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land advancing steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished in a legitimate and permanent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of

THE END IS NOT YET.

Look ahead three years and consider the possibilities of this resort if the improvements continue at the same rate, and you will see a town rivaling Winthrop on the opposite side of the harbor.

We think we are safe in saying that we are offering

Better Lots at Lower Prices

Than can be had at any other seashore resort within the same distance from Boston and as easily accessible as this.

Quincy is now fast recovering from the serious setback occasioned by the great strikes of last year, and a new era of prosperity is dawning on the historic old town. Our many customers here will testify that during the shut down we did not crowd them at all for payments on the lots bought on easy terms. We waited for better times, confident that our forbearance would be appreciated, and are pleased to say that our confidence was not misplaced. We are anticipating a good business in Quincy during the coming season, and feel sure we

We shall hold regular sales every Saturday afternoon all summer, and special sales on all the holidays. Salesmen will also be on the property on Sunday to show the lots, and our terms will be the same as heretofore,

With liberal discount for cash. The chance for investment is still good, as our ers, and after reading the result of the decision it was whispered about Chinatown prices are still reasonable, and good lots can yet be had for anywhere from five until every one of them had been informed to ten cents per foot or from $200 to $400 a lot.

THE CHINESE TO GO

The United States Supreme Court Sustains the Geary Act.

ATTORNEY ALLEN'S VIEWS.

The Chinese of Boston Greatly Agitated.

WASHINGTON, May 16.-The supreme court yesterday, through Justice Gray sustained the decision of the New York courts in favor of the constitutionality of the Geary exclusion act. Justice Brewer alone dissenting.

The opinion was announced by Justice Gray. The announcement that a decision in the case was expected attracted a large attendance of spectators, and the fact that it was the last day of the term accounted for the presence of an unusually large attendance of attorneys, including Attorney General Olney, Solicitor General Aldrich, Senators Pugh, Dolph and Cockrell. Ex-Justice Strong and several members of the diplomatic corps were interested spec- Crane, p...

Justice Gray, in announcing the judgment of the court, said that the power of this nation to restrict or prohibit the immigration of any aliens into the country, or to require such aliens already in the country to remove therefrom, was a well settled principle of international law, and New York... was confirmed by an unbroken line of decisions in this court. The legislative power of the government had not transcended any of its Constitutional Limitations

n the act under consideration. It was within its power to determine the regulations under which these aliens should be permitted to remain in the United States, r, failing to observe these regulations, they should be required to leave the country. The provisions of section 6 of the act, which are the part of the law particularly at issue, were not inconsistent with the re- At Chicago ations and duties of the legislative and udicial departments of the government.

The mode of procedure set forth in the otion is similar to that in other well established proceedings, such as the habeas corpus and naturalization, fixing the re- St. Louis quirements of citizenship and the like, in which the judicial branch of the government accepted the determination of the executive upon the questions involved.

As to the requirements that the Chinese in this country should At Lewiston-Lewiston, 14; Lowell, 6. stablish that right by the evidence of one | At Portland-Fall River 5: Portland 1 credible white witness, Justice Gray said that it was within the power of the legislature to Determine the Character of Evidence that might be received in a case at law and what force should be given to the testimony so offered. Not discussing the wisdom nor the justice of the act in question, which was beyond the province of the judicial branch of the government, it remained only to say that the tice Brewer announced that he felt compelled to dissent from the view of the maome length, declaring in substance that Adams. the act of 1893 was unconstitutional, and that if it were upheld there was no guarantee that similar treatment might not be accorded to other classes of our population than the Chinese.

Justice Field, who delivered the opinion of the supreme court of the United States in the first case under the exclusion act, also read a dissenting opinion. He held that there was a wide difference between exclusion of immigrants and the deportation of alien residents, and he characterized the act in the strongest language as inhuman and brutal, and as violative of the constitution in every section. He regretted to say that the decision of the court was to his mind fraught with the gravest dangers to the priceless constitu-

Attorney Allen and the Anti-Chinese Law. Boston, May 16.-When asked yesterday afternoon if he would proceed immediately to the enforcement of the Geary anti-Chinese iaw, District Attorney Allen said that he would wait until he received advices from the attorney general, as he had been ordered to retard its enforcement some days ago until further directed. How the News Was Received.

The Chinese colony on Harrison avenue are very much disturbed by the decison rendered by the United States supreme court yesterday sustaining the Geary act. BOSTONS AT HOME.

First Game at the South End Grounds a Victory For Them.

Boston, May 16.-The opening of the eague season of 1893 in this city took een made to inaugurate the event in fitting style to welcome home the champions A cloudy sky, with an east wind de terred a large number from attending, yet nearly 10,000 were present. Governor Russell and members of his staff, many state enators and representatives, Mayor Matthews and members of the board of alder-men were at the game to urge on the Boson men to victory.

The game was a very fair one, with hard and timely hitting, several fine bits of fielding, yet Crane's usual tendency to wildness unnerved both himself and the other members of the New York club to the extent that six runs were scored in the sixth nning, deciding the game then and there. In the first inning Long drove the ball high over the left field fence for a "homer." Four hits, a sacrifice, and a base on balls gave New York four in the fiftl, but in the sixth Ward's men went to pieces, and this with two very timely hits by Lowe and Nash gave Boston the game.

Each club scored a run in the eighth, while three hits and a wild throw by Mc-Carthy netted two runs for New York.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

BAY STATE DAY JUNE 17.

The First Concert held in Festival hall was given yesterday. An excellent program, rendered by an orchestra that is unsurpassed, brought out only 300 people, of whom 16 were members of the Chicago orchestra, who went in on deadhead passes. With a fine concert every morning there is apparently little desire among visitors to pay a dollar in the afternoon, even to hear such a magnificent body of musicians as the Boston Symphony orchestra. Thrift is a feature of visitors, exhibitors and fair managers alike. C. M. Loeffler was the soloist and

Regarding Sunday Openings. The committee of the local directory, ppointed with power to act, held a meeting last night and decided to present a resolution that the exposition buildings be pened on Sundays. This will be sent to the national commission with the request that that body concur. Without authority of the national board the buildings cannot be opened. This action will prob-ably heap coals on the fire built by the opponents to the Sunday opening, for, from a mere open park, it seeks to make the entire fair wide open on Sundays. It is now said that the national com! missioners may look favorably upon the plan, for many of those who de the directors' first action had been or record as Sunday openers, but fought the spirit of the resolution because the comission had not been honored by being asked to pass upon it. The directory insists that the grounds will be open next Sunday, and the local board is probably right in its claim, for it is conceded that, so far as the gates are oncerned, the commission has no right to say a word about the fair.

TOILET SOAPS.

Low priced Toilet Soaps are made generally of cheap material like soap grease and other refuse, then perfumed highly to mask the true odor, often causing an endless amount of skin diseases which are attributed to other causes. We have conceived the idea of having a soap made_up for us of Pure Olive Oil, unscented, from the Holy Land which we positively guarantee strictly pure and healthful for the toilet and bath; just the soap to wash the baby with, making the skin healthy and the complextion fair. This Scap we shall sell for 5 cents per cake or 50 cents for a one dozen box. Besure and see that our name is stamped on each cake as all others are spurious.

THE EXECUTION.

The condemned man, surrounded by deputy sheriffs and accompanied by the warden, Captain George W. Colbath, and the chaplain of the prison, Rev. E. R. He took his place on the trap, his knees were pinioned, the noose was adjusted, the black cap shut out the sunlight from his eyes forever, the sheriff in solemn phraseology announced that he was about to exeoute the law, the drop fell and Christie George McClure of West Quincy was Warden's falsehearted lover had paid the were also empty wine and beer bottles.

Story of the Crime. Andrew H. Warden was a prosperou vinced that Almy was not his true name Early in the season of 1891 he was discharged after he had in vain implored Christie to marry him, and threatened her with death if she refused. His threat was to make some calls, having arranged with Fannie and Christie to meet them in the evening. This was carried out. They started for home at 9:30 o'clock, Fannis walking beside Christie, directly behind Mrs. Warden and Miss Goodell. When they reached the foot of a hill in a ravine Almy sprang from the shadow of a tree and, stepping up beside Christie, said: "I have come a thousand miles to see

Christie made no reply, but grasped Fannie's arm, and Almy, addressing Mrs. FOR SALE—By North Weymouth Land Co, New House, 7 rooms all papered; "Yes," replied Mrs. Warden, "I know "Yes," replied Mrs. Warden, "Y you; don't trouble Christie." Almy had in the meantime seized Christie by the arm. "I want to see Christie alone," he continued, and when Mrs. Warden exclaimed, "We must not let him harm Christie," he and followed her sister into the pasture. When Almy saw her following he shouted: "Go back, or I will shoot you," and at that moment Christic cried, "Help, Fan, he is pulling my clothes off."

Fanny kept on, despite the warning, and Almy shot at her. She felt the wind of the bullet as it whistled by her ear. She topped only for a moment, when he fired again, and a third shot was directed at her, when she essayed to go on. By this time Almy had reached the clump of willows with his burden, and almost simul- hiding place. neously a young man named Emmett Marshall appeared on a knoll on the op-posite side of the ravine. He was immediately seen by Almy, who peremptorily rdered him to halt. Marshall started for assistance, and immediately after two more reports of the revolver were heard, preceded by sounds as if blows had been struck. Then Almy broke from cover and ran over a hill on the west side of the ravine. Fanny went to the willows and found

The other bullet entered the body in the small f the back, passed downward through the abdomen and came out. That death was practically instantaneous is probable ecause of the terrible wounds and from the fact that there were no signs of life when her sister reached the body. That there was a struggle and a severe one is clearly evidenced by her hands, both of which were cruelly torn and bruised.

Almy's Escape and Capture. If the ear h had swallowed him up Almy's disappearance after committing the awful crime could not have been more mysterious. Every nook and corner in the United States and Canada, figuratively speaking, had been thoroughly searched for the murderer. Finally on Aug. 18, more than a month after the crime was committed, Mrs. War den, while looking for some chickens in he barnyard, discovered a small opening in the underpinning of the barn, which she thought might lead to the chickens' hiding place. She removed a small board, and found on the inside an empty jelly tumbler, and further in 12 cans which had cently contained salmon, oysters, peaches There were 17 cans in one place, as well as n old moustache that had been shaved off, dry lather, etc.

What the Watchers Saw. Knowing that the cellars of several private families in the village had been robbed of such materials, they visited

ALMY IN HIS CELL. these people and found beyond all quesion that the goods came from there, and, further, that some had been taken as recently as Aug. 10. The following Wednes-day night Professor Whitaker and Sheriff Brown watched the premises. At about 2 o'clock, while they were hid in some corn in the garden, a man whom they supposed to be Mr. Warden came toward them to some apple tree to within 10 feets of where they stood. Professor Whitaker says: "I thought it was Warden, but as he came nearer I thought I recognized Almy's walk. He was barefooted, his pants were torn, and he looked pale and thin. He had a bag with him, and filled it while he ate raven-pusly. After a little while he leisurely and unsuspectingly walked back to the barn, and passed around the eastern side. That was the last we saw of him."

They returned to the village, aroused about 40 men, who proceeded to and surounded the building. Sheriff Stevens nd Soliciter Mitchell were on the ground, and the search of the barn began. His Hiding Place. The barn in itself was an immense structure, besides being directly connected with many outbuildings. It is in one of ese that the murderer Almy had his hidg place during all these weeks, while flicers had been scouring the distant ountry. His retreat was so located in the ew mown hay that through a crack he ommanded a complete view of all the novements of the Warden household. A ore neatly situated place could not be magined. A crew was immediately ormed, armed with pitchforks, and the mplete handling over of the hay was begun. Nothing was discovered till about :30 o'clock, when the fork of C. E. Hewitt.

A council was then held to decide on means for taking Almy. A committee was appointed. A majority of the people fa-vored entering the barn, while others thought it best to burn the structure and thus drive him out. Volunteers were called for and 23 brave men promptly responded and the barn was again entered. Ex-Sheriff Bridgman, Solicitor Mitchell, A. R. Smith, a medical student, and John M. Fuller had conferences with the murderer, but he refused to come out from his

Captured at Last. After this the decision was made to catch him unawares and shoot him and put an end to what was becoming a grim farce. When this conclusion was made known it was greeted with yells of delight by the people, who, though strongly inclined to let the law take its course, were fast getting out of patience with the parleying with the assassin, and an attack was made upon the barn by officers with Winchester rifles, Almy answering back with revolver shots, but at last a rush was made and he was captured and conveyed to the Wheelock House, where he was guarded by half a dozen officers with drawn revolvers, holding back an angry

to jail without bail. On Monday, Nov. 16, 1891, at Plymouth, N. H., Almy pleaded "guilty" to the indictment charging him with the murder of Christie Warden. He retracted the plea of "not guilty" made at the time of his arraignment at Woodville, and by so doing placed his case in the hands of the judges instead of the hands of a jury.

On Nov. 19 he was sentenced to die on the first Tuesday in December, 1892. His ounsels, arguments had no weight against the cold and matter-of-fact construction by the district attorney. The prisoner was not at all cast down by the result of the Varnishing, you know, is process of brightening up a picture that may have been a little marred or scratched house wife, the shop girl, the by shipment or handling. Some of the foreign artists are so particular about this varnishing that they have come all the way to America to do it themselves, or here it was built to stand. It is practically have sent men whom they know and trust to do it for them. One is not surprised that the art department was not quite complete on the opening day. It is such a tremendous aggregation of the work of may be found to preserve it from the get painters, sculptors, etchers and carvers People who should know whereof they peak in such matters say the world never fore saw such a collection of art works Imagine, if you can, five acres of pictures

d statuary. Some one has taken the dreds of the works shown here are price ouble to calculate the distance a visitor must walk if he would see every piece of spacious annexes, and the quotient, if I remember right, is seven miles. This simple figure will give you a clearer idea of the magnitude of the display than could be obtained from any description that I can write. The meaning of it is that if one is in love with painting and sculpture, and means to embrace this golden opportunity to see the choicest products of the world's studios, he must come to this building day after day for at least two weeks, and work hard each day. Whoever oes this will be well repaid.

A year or two ago it was the general bught that while the Chicago fair was obe great in all things material—in its buildings, its machinery, its industrial ap-pliances and products—it was not to be ich in the fine arts. The theory was that America hasn't enough art of her own to make a big show with, and foreign artists would exhibit only sparingly. display of foreign works is considered the st complete that has ever been made while the American exhibit is a revelation to many people who have not appreciated n this country. Never before has there peen such a showing of American art-for merican artists have finally established listinct school of their own. Of course our painters and sculptors imitate more or less one or other of the European their distinctive method. After this year it probably will not be denied anywhere that there is an American school of paint ing, and one of which Americans may well

As to the foreigners, their displays are four years ago. Nor are the British artists as well represented here as they were at But the Germans are here in splendid form, and they were scarcely known at all at the 1889 exposition. Several other nations are doing better at Chicago than they did at Paris, and with a single exception the representatives of all the art nations asked for more space than could be assigned them, the exception be-ing in the case of Mexico. Inasmuch as the space in this Art palace is much larger than was ever before devoted to the same purpose in an international exposition and there was such demand for this space that every nation but one has found it necessary to economize room by sending only the best of its works, it follows inevitably that this is the greatest international assemblage of fine arts ever known.

The chaplain was pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is—one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

SECRET IS BURIED

No One Knows Almy's Relations With Christie Warden.

A TERRIBLE INHERITANCE

Is Left by the Murderer In an Unknown Son.

CONCORD, N. H., May 17 .- Almy's exconcord, N. H., May 17.—Almy's ex-ceution was the quickest that ever took place in this state, and many think it was unnecessarily abrupt. Almy was given no chance to talk while being conducted from the matron's room. He called for the chaplain, but Mr. Wilkins had left his side for a minute, and what he wanted will never be known. The law says that a murderer has the chance to make a speech on the scaffold, but the sheriff put the noose around his neck and adjusted the black cap without a second's hesitation.

Almy's body lies on a hemlock board in uncommunicative, but said that religious services would be held today.

Warden Colbath informed the reporters

The former would not grant a respite in response to her telegram, and the railroads ran such poorly constructed engines. She said if the locomotive had held together she would have saved Almy. As usual, she asserted, the wrong man had been hanged, and averred that Almy had talked with her and would have been

was a romantic one; and he described it as similar to the Oklahoma boom—"all done with a rush." They lived happily to gether, but his stealing propensities were the same as when a boy; and, although he got into numerous scrapes, his wife died without the knowledge of her husband's crimes. It is not known except to one person where the boy is; but Almy said he was in good hands and where he thought no living person could communicate to him his father's awful crime at Hanover.

From hints dropped by Almy it is sup-posed that a family in an out of the way place in lower California is bringing up the boy. It was immediately after the death of his wife that Abbott, alias Atwood, alias Aimy, "struck" east and appeared in Grafton county. He maintained that he had cleverly covered up his trail and that the young son will never know of the ter-rible end of his father.

The Exact Relations between Almy and Christie Warden, it is said, died with the murderer, and will never be revealed by the one to whom the disclosures were made.

John Adams Smith, who left Plymouth left he said he would write how he got along. He was absent years before he wrote; but at last a gentleman who recently moved away from that town received a letter from him.

He wrote that he had once lived a merry life and had come across a few eastern people in his wanderiugs. He mentioned a man who had told him he came from Vermont and gave his name Frank C. Atwood. Another letter came a year after-ward, in which he wrote that he had seen Atwood again, but expected that he would not see him again right away, as Atwood told him he was going toward New Mexico to see a young lady whom he had met a few months before.

The next letter to the Plymouth man from Smith read like this: "Atwood has gone and is married probably by this time, as I heard he was making arrangements for the wedding ceremony.

Coming, as does this story, with the statement of a responsible man, who says Almy made this statement since confine ment, there can be no doubt of its truth.

On May 22 the congress of editors meet at the Art palace, as part of the World's fair auxiliary, and this association will be sponsible for the program for two out of the 12 sessions.

ON HER TRIAL TRIP.

Cruiser New York Start, on Her Journey to New England's Coast.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The armore cruiser New York is on her official trip. With the rain falling in torrents she left the ship yards of the William Cramp & Sons company, and after being turned around by two tug boats started 10 minutes later down the Delaware river. Not a hitch of any kind attended the departure

The cruiser dropped the lines of the tugs as soon as her bow was turned seaward and she proceeded majestically down the river under her own steam. The salutes of passing craft were returned by the hoarse whistle of the cruiser, and the offieers and others on the huge craft waved their hats in response to salutations from the shore. Four hundred persons were aboard the cruiser, including the naval board of inspection, appointed by the secretary of the navy.

The New York has been stocked with provisions for 10 days and has 1000 tons of coal aboard. The expense of the trip will be $30,000, and the official triol will consist of two cruises over a measured course be tween Cape Ann, Mass., and Cape Porpoise, Me. Should she maintain the record made on the unofficial trip she will earn premiums of nearly $200,000 for her builders.

RUSSELL SAGE SUED

For Injuries Received by a Clerk While

In His Office. NEW YORK, May 17.-William Laidlaw of John Bloodgood & Co., who was injured in the Arcade building by the bomb thrown by Norcross in December of 1891 will begin suit to recover $50,000 damages from Russell Sage in the supreme court. Laidlaw was in Mr. Sage's office at the time of the explosion, and he alleges that the millionaire broker pushed him between the bomb thrower and himself.

His injuries are said to be permanent He underwent a physical examination yesterday, when it was developed that an eardrum was broken and his nervous system shattered beyond repair. His employers said that he still suffered greatly and was unfit to transact business of any kind. Mr. Sage himself, according to the affidavit of his attorneys, completely recovered from the shock. There has been no evidence of a disposition to compromise the case.

CARLISLE'S PLANS.

He Intends to Make Room For Able Democrats.

REMOVAL OF STURTEVANT

Was Made For the Best Interests of the Department.

WASHINGTON, May 17 .- Secretary Carlisle, speaking again upon the persistent manner in which certain journals in New England and New York are assailing him on account of the removal of Sturtevant, chief of the stationery division of the treasury department, remarked:

"I am surprised at the course of these newspapers. I found on examination, when I took charge of the treasury department, that as regards the 84 chiefs of livision they were all Republicans, with but one or two exceptions. As a matter of administrative expediency, as well as of politics, I made up my mind that these officers, as a general rule, should be in harmony with the policy which it is my purpose to pursue.

"The earliest letters I received officially called my attention to Mr. Sturtevant, in charge of

The Stationery Contracts. His was one of the most important positions in the department. These letters complained of his method of conducting this branch of the treasury business and award-ing contracts for paper, which were large and in which he had a certain amount of discretion, to favorite manufacturers. I considered it in the best interests of the department to make a change." "I propose," added the secretary, "to make other changes just as rapidly as I can and shall put competent Democrats in the vacant places. In order to secure such a class of men I have prescribed a departmental

System of Examination which must be passed before the appointment is confirmed. By adopting this ourse I expect to secure the services of a high order of men who belong to the party in power.

"The idea that the administration cannot make changes in this class of appointments without being abused and criticised is absurd. The late administration turned everybody out, as is shown in every office not in the classified service being filled with Republicans. We are simply pursuing the same course, and I shall not be diverted from my purpose by newspaper

Changes In the New York Herald Affairs. NEW YORK, May 16.—The fact that the New York Herald is to pass from the proprietorship of James Gordon Bennett to that of a corporation set all the old-time journalists talking yesterday. As Mr. Bennett will hold all except two or three of the $100 shares this makes little difference. At Mr. Bennett's death The Herald property will be divided. Part of it will go to his sister and her children, the re-mainder to James Gordon Bennett Bell and daughter. Mr. Bennett has taken his name off the editorial page.

Decision of the Local Directory of the World's Fair.

CHICAGO HAS A COMPLAINT.

The City Greatly Interested In the Gate Receipts.

CHICAGO, May 17 .- The Sunday closing at the end of the sixth. The score: question has taken a form. The local directory, after consultation with the judiciary committee of the national commission, has decided to pass another order opening the whole exhibition on Sunday, and to submit the order regularly to the national commission for their approval. This eliminates the question of their having exceeded their power in passing the first order. It also eliminates the opinion of Attorney Walker to the directory, that only the grounds can legally be opened.

What action will be taken by the commission when the order comes up regularly for approval is doubtful, but it is hard to believe that it will be favorable to Another Interesting Development in the situation is the announcement that the city of Chicago, through Corporation Counsel Adolph Kraus, will on Friday institute proceedings in equity to prevent the closing on Sunday.

Sunday opening.

The plea is that financial loss is suffered and that the park belongs to the city The city, it must be remembered, stands good for $5,000,000 of bonds in the fair and these bonds must be paid out of the gate receipts, no provision having been made for the payment by taxation.

Cash Coming In Slowly. Yesterday was the 16th day of the World's fair, and more bleak, disagreeable discouraged accordingly. The average paid attendance so far has not been much over 17,000 daily, which is far below the number necessary to meet even the operating expenses of the exposition.

Discontent Is Apparent among the laborers on the grounds and janitors of the different buildings because their salaries are not forthcoming. The carpenters and staff workers who are erecting a pavilion in administration plaza, who struck Monday for back pay, are still out. The men have not been paid for three or four weeks, and another month's pay will be due on the 26th. It is said the contractor will not be paid anything until he has finished the job. The contractors tell the workmen they cannot get their money from the treasury. There are about 2000 janitors and helpers on the ground who have not received their pay.

Guard Likely to Lose His Job. Chief Allison, head of the Manufactures building at the fair, was arrested late at night through the stupidity of a guard, who found him in the building and refused to accept his explanation. Allison was locked up nearly three hours.

Boston to Chicago by Water. Boston, May 17 .- Commodore Forbes' auxiliary steam yacht Wild Duck left Boston yesterday bound for the World's fair by way of the St. Lawrence river and the sail from Boston, but as some of the party are rather afraid of salt water they will proceed to Montreal by rail and join the vessel there. The yacht will go to Montreal under the charge of Captain Collins and the crew.

From the Bostons.

BOSTON, May 17.—Boston put up a gilt-edged game, both in batting and fielding. Rusie and McMahon were pitted against Stivetts and Ganzel, and Amos fared very hard indeed, his curves being batted in every direction, while "Happy Jack" was a complete enigma to the Giants.

The champions batted terrifically, 13 hits with a total of 20 being made, while the New Yorks could make but two in all. The features were Stivetts' grand pitching, Ganzel's catching and throwing, the nitting of the Hubbites, a beautiful stop by Davis and Tucker's fielding. Boston, May 17 .- When the 54-hour bill came up in the house an amendment was offered to permit women to work full time if so disposed. Mr. Ross moved to weather it would be hard to find anywhere substitute his bill for 56 hours. There was at this season. The attendance in the a warm debate on the bill. The first morning was lighter than it has been for many days, and the exposition people are discoursed and the exposition people are discoursed as a substituted—82 to 43—and was then ordered to a third reading-96 to 46. Mr. Farley of Lowell presented the peti-tion of 1638 women and minors in the Lowell mils in favor of the 54-hour bill.

Mr. Myers moved to reconsider the rejection of the bill to repeal the collateral inheritance tax. The vote was 75 yeas to 84 nays. A rollcall was ordered and there were 80 yeas to 104 nays. The finance committee reported ought to pass on the resolve for electric lighting at the Concord reformatory; ought not to pass on the bill for the appointment of advisory medical inspectors of health throughout the state. By a vote of 90 to 106 the house refused to reject the bill to regulate the prices charged for gas and to regulate the candle power of the same, as recommended by the committee on manufactures.

The senate sustained the governor's veto of the bill to divide the town of I meadow after a long debate. The "drunk" law was amended and the purity of artificial ice was established.

POLITICAL MUDDLE.

Republicans and Democrats Wrang ling In Rhode Island.

REVOLUTIONARY TACTICS.

The State Constitution Was Set at Naught.

PROVIDENCE, May 18 .- Another all-day session of the house, and one packed full of political legislation, was recorded yes-

This was the day when the Republicans were to go on record for or against the 58 our law which the wage workers had

T ... was a provision in this bill which probibited women and girls from being employed more than Fifty-Eight Hours a Week in the large mercantile houses. This was asked for by the female clerks in the dry goods and millinery houses, where they were kept at work late every Saturday

The Republicans first moved to postpone the consideration of the bill for another week, then to indefinitely postpone, and finally, having a majority, they struck out the mercantile employment clause, and in other ways "pulled the teeth out of the bill," as one of their number expressed it, and then passed the bill.

Immediately was taken up Representa-tive Wilson's bill to govern the next committee. It is even More Strict and Harsh toward the Democrats than was intimated, for it declares that when in the constitu-tion, public statutes or public laws of the state it is provided that any act or business shall be done by the grand committee, such grand com-mittee shall consist of a majority of all the members of the senate and a majority of all the members of the house of representatives, duly assembled pursuant to an invitation from one of said bodies which has been con municated by message to the body in which such invitation originated, and each house shall be attended by its secretaries and clerks; that when the senate and house of representatives are assembled pursuant to such invitation the presiding officer Shall Order the Roll of the senate to be called by the clerk of the senate, and if a majority of all the members of the senate answer to their names he shall order the roll of the house of representatives to be called by the read ing clerk thereof, and if a majority of all the members of the house answer to their names the presiding officer shall declare

A Quorum of the House Present and therefore a quorum of the grand committee present. He shall then cause the invitation to meet in grand committee to be read, and shall declare the grand com-mittee to be assembled and ready to transact the business specified in the invitation, and no business shall be proceeded with un-til all of the provisions of this section have been complied with. There is the further provision that no business of any kind shall be done in grand committee other than that distinctly specified in the invitation, and by virtue

All the Members of the House, and unless they are so present no business of any kind shall be transacted, and, to make the act all the more binding, there is a special provision that it shall be manda-

This is to Get Around Two Recent Decisions of the supreme court, which were favor able to the Democrats. The Republicans applied the "gag" rule and forced the act through; but they were informed by the Democrats that the act was not worth the paper it was written on, and that the Democratic house which meets at Newport would ignore the law. MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING AFFAIR.

A Young Man Found Near a Public Gar den, Wounded In the Head.

BOSTON, May 18.—At 12:35 o'clock this morning officers of division 16 heard a pistol shot coming from the direction of the public garden, and a moment later a sec-ond shot was heard. Rushing in the direction of the reports, the officers saw a young man making his way to the entrance of the garden at the corner of Boylston and Charles street, and caught up with him just as he reached the sidewalk. The man was bleeding from two bullet wounds— one in his chin and the other in his head behind his right ear.

The ear had been penetrated by the bullet, which had entered his head. The young man gave his name as Barnett Mil-

After a Great Batting Contest New York Boston, May 18.-After two days of miserable weather Old Sol showed his smiling face yesterday afternoon, and gave an ideal day for ball playing. About 3000 were present to witness the last game of the present New York series.

As both King and Staley had been bat ted freely so far this season it was anticipated that yesterday's contest would be full of base hits, but hardly a person looked for such a veritable "slugging" match as took place. Both teams hit the ball on the nose, and "homers," doubles and a triple were intermingled with single hits Such hitting will be rarely seen this year again. Duffy, Tucker and Tiernan contributed "homers," Long a triple, Connor a double, while Nash, Ward and Doyle made two doubles each. To the right, center and left sailed the ball and 13 runs were earned.

The features, besides the hitting above ntioned, were a magnifitent double play by Tucker, Merritt and Lowe, fine base running by the Bostons, notably Long, elegant stops and throws by Davis and Nash, the catching of Merritt and the fielding of Tucker.

To Be Asked to Resign by the Commissioners.

CHICAGO, May 18.-Yesterday was the hird day of the World's congress of vomen, and the sessions of yesterday were the most largely attended of the week. Six thousand men and women, for the men are not barred from the proceedings, filled the two big halls, while 15 smaller rooms vere used by various organizations. Among the societies, the proceedings of which were inaugurated yesterday, were the National Christian League for the Pronotion for Social Purity, the National Women's Christian Temperance union, the International Kindergarten union, the Woman's National Indiana society and the National Association of Loyal Women of American Liberty. The Thomas Investigation.

By a vote of 39 to 19 the Columbian comdissioners yesterday adopted the report of the second committee appointed to investigate Director of Music Theodore Thomas. There were many strong speeches made on both sides of the question. missioner Lannan brought up his report

ALGERIAN VILLAGE. Commissioner Massey said he did not wish to be misunderstood in the case, but Could Not Vote For the Report ecause he did not thing the commission having delegated its authority to the council of administration, had any authority to act on the question.

ioner Tousley thought that the commission had jurisdiction. General St. Clair made a speech in behalf of Thomas. He said he did not believe that the report of the committee presented sufficent facts to Warrant the Dismissal. He urged that the clause calling for the resignation be eliminated, and instead that Thomas be given to understand if he did not do as the commission required he must quit. He added that a serious error would be made were the report adopted. He told of what Thomas had done for the music feature of the fair, and said it would be impossible to get anyone to fill his place, and, moreover, that if Thomas left Tomlins

Commissioner Hoadley then offered the following resolution, to be added to the committee's report after the word "resignation": Unless Professor Thomas does agree to comply with the findings and conclusions therein arrived at.

Commissioner DeYoung moved that the amendment lie on the table. The commission so voted, and General St. Clair insisted that defeating! the amendment defeated the proposition to be amended.

Commissioner Walker said that a director of music Mest Be an Absolute Autocrat if he expects to be successful. He must be Commissioner De Young then called for the previous question, and Mr. Lannan, as chairman of the committee, was given the floor to speak in behalf of his report.

LAST THREE DAYS Quincy People

Do not need to be told the many advantages of owning a summer cottage at one of the picturesque shore resorts in their own pleasant little city. They know more about it than we can tell them on a whole page of the LEDGER. But we come forward once more to call their attention to the many claims to preeminence as a summer resort possessed by

HOUGHS NECK.

The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it 328 now is—one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

RESULT

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than 12 three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893, a church to be built very soondesirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by a public-spirited citizen-a dozen new buildings now going up and as many more contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land advancing steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished in a legitimate and permanent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of prices, and

THE END IS NOT YET.

Look ahead three years and consider the possibilities of this resort if the mprovements continue at the same rate, and you will see a town rivaling Winthrop on the opposite side of the harbor.

A prettier or more enjoyable ride on a pleasant day can not be had than by taking an electric car at City Hall, and making a journey to Boston. Cars leave City Hall every half hour and make close connections at Neponset with the electric cars of the West End street railway for Boston. Returning cars on the West End leave Franklin street, Boston, every 15 minutes and a ride of 50 minutes brings you to Neponset, where close connection is made with cars of the Quincy & Boston street railway for Atlantic, Norfolk Downs, Wollaston, Quincy center, South and West Quincy, Houghs Neck, Quincy Point and North Weymouth. The distance from Boston to North Weymouth being 13 miles, while the fare for the whole distance is but 13 cents. BANKS DEFRAUDED.

New Swindling Scheme Introduced In New England.

SEVFRAL TOWNS "WORKED."

Gang Believed to Have Headquarters In Boston.

Boston, May 19.-The banks and bankers of various New England cities are evi from, and all tell the same story.

Chief Inspector Coulter has several times been notified of the work, the operators seemingly belonging in this city, and his men have been looking up the matter. It has been found impossible to do any thing thus far.

Yesterday the chief received a communi cation from the president of the Barton National bank, in Barton, Vt., which shows fully the manner in which the swindlers are working. The game is a new one in their vicinity, and one which it will Do Well to Look Out For.

In the communication, it was stated that several days ago the bank received a communication from Boston which was head has been accepted by the government communication from Boston which was written on a letter head which read as fol-

The letter reads as follows:

Boston, May 8.

To the Barton National Bank, Barton, Vt.:

GENTLEMEN—We have mailed to our traveling salesman, Mr. Levi Metzger, a check for ing salesman, Mr. Levi mees, eighty-five (85) dollars.

Mr. Metzger will be in Boston this week.
The inclosed is his signature.

Cruiser New York Will Make Her Trial Trips Next Week.

BOSTON, May 19.—The trial of the cruiser New York will not take place until next week, although the crowning glory of the American navy rides at anchor four miles south by east from Boston light. A prea trial heat to measure the endurance of the giantess for the final flight that pays.

If the weather is favorable the Cramps will give the word Monday, if not, the next fair day. The Vesuvius' which is to participate in the test, has broken one of her pipes, causing not a little annoyance to Admiral Belknap and the others, and that fact is in part responsible for the postponement.

The New York dropped anchor off Boston light at just 12:05 o'clock and was speedily gained by the tug Vester from Boston, sent out to carry Rear Admiral Belknap to Gloucester. It is given out that the broken pipe on

BLUE AND THE GRAY.

Conclusions of a Lynn School Director Do Not Suit Yeterans. LYNN, Mass., May 19.—The members of post 5, Grand Army, held a lively meeting last evening. It was voted to recommend to the public school board that the "Memorial Day Patriotic Selections," written by Harriet Matthews and Elizabeth Rule, be used in the public schools. The old soldiers were nearly unanimous on this motion.

Dr. Hazlewood of the school beard had objected to this book, on the ground that it contained a verse on the "Blue and Gray," speaking of them as if they were brothers. He said in a recent meeting of the school board that God did not look upon the blue and gray alike. This awoke a feeling in the breast of the Grand Army men in this city, which they appressed in Dr. Hazlewood of the school bcard had men in this city, which they expressed in the next mention in the

STILL A MYSTERY.

None but Trusty Officials Know Where Almy's Body Is Buried. CONCORD, N. H., May 19. - The mystery of

Almy's burial remairs complete. Indeed, it is not known whether the body is buried or not as yet, though it is supposed that it is. The certificate of death has not been handed in to the city derk, nor has a burial permit been issued so far as is known. The law is strict in these matters, but there is no doubt that the authorities

> Likely to Be a Division. NEW HAVEN, May 14.—The present week is expected to end the long state prison investigation. It seems probable that the report will be two fold and the division of the commission will be on party lines. Should the matter fall into partisan politics again there can be little doubt that the management of the state prison will be completely reorganized.

Marblehead Is Happy. MARBLEHEAD, Mass., May 19 .- A letter received from the navy department states the will be ordered to this port to receive the set of colors the town voted to present. Preparations will be made to receive her in royal style, and a demonstration of considerable magnitude will take place.

It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is—one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

RESULT

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893; a church to be built very soon a desirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by a "The Indian welcomed the White Man, and for that public-spirited citizen—a dozen new buildings now going up and as many more Catlin says: "The word of an Indian can always be relied upon." contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land ad steadily year by year. THE PRESBYTERIANS

Numbers Annual Meeting.

PROFESSOR BRIGGS'

And the Revision of the Creed Are to Be Considered.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The general asembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, representing 800,000 communicants and 7000 ministers, met here in its 105th session. The 225 local presbyteries of the 30 synods are entitled to some 600 commissioners, as the delegates are called, in part clerical, in part lay, and the importance of the chief matters to be conidered has brought many men of influce in the church to Washington as spec-

Doubtless the most prominent in the gathering were those connected with the famous Briggs case, in its trial before the New York presbytery. First and foremost of these, of course, was Professer Briggs himself, aggressive and confident. The literary lights of the church shone in full measure upon the assembly. Colored Presbyterians were sprinkled about over the church. Every nook and cranny of the New York Avenue church was filled, and had the capacity of the church been twice as great it would not have accommodated all who desired to be present. On the platform were the officers: Moderator, Rev. Dr. William C. Young of the Danville (Ky.) seminary; Rev. Dr. William H. Roberts of Cincinnati, clerk; Rev. Dr. William Alvin Bartlett, chairman of the executive committee, in charge of all arrangements for the gathering. The Sessions of the Assembly will continue for 10 days or a fortnight, for the routine of denominational work requires due and sometimes long consideration. Over shadowing all other questions, like the revision of the creed, the relation of the general assembly to the theological schools of the denomination, and the affirming resolution of the absolute inerrancy of the scriptures, inherited from the assembly of last year, and affecting the de-cision of them, is the disposal of the case of Dr. Briggs, virtually acquitted at his trial last December by the New York presbytery. The prosecuting committee, in theory, at least, the creature of this presbytery, lodged an appeal with the general assembly against the decision of its

The Chief Objection to the entertainment of the appeal is more likely to be that such a step would override the synod of New York, the next higher judicial body to the presbytery, be-fore which the case, were it less vital and extraordinary, would normally come. Dr. Briggs, too, may return to his repeated objections to the sufficiency of the original charges against him and the ecclesitical competence of the prosecuting mmittee, all warned in the trial of last ecember, and to the mine of technicalities and electricity by cities and towns, in order astical competence of the prosecuting that the book of discipline affords.

If the general assembly refuse to enterautumn, as a year ago at Portland, Or., it commanded the New York presbytery on a similar appeal summarily to make Rideout spoke warmly and at length in eive the appeal, it may finally dispose of was ordered to a third reading almost the case on the spot or order a hearing and virtual trial before a committee—a course that would probably carry the decision to fessor, the case would surely Come Before the Final Court conservative majority in the present body is likely to press for a speedier decision. The similar trial for heresy of Professor H. P. Smith of Cincinnati will hardly come directly before the assembly.

For three years now the revision of the Westminster confession has been before Westminster confession has been before the Presbyterian church and affected, as the question has come to be, by the case of Dr. Briggs and the widening differences between the liberals and the conservatives, there is small likelihood of any material progress. A committee, with the presi-dent of Princeton as chairman, was origi-nally appointed nally appointed preserving strictly its Calvinistic integrity, and its labors so far have pleased neither the extreme conservatives, who wish for no change at all, nor the extreme liberals, who advocate wide variance from the Westminster standards. The committee, last year, laid some 30 projected changes before the general assembly that it, in turn, transmitted to the individual presbyteries for acceptance or rejection.

Many less than the necessary two-thirds

Many less than the necessary two-thirds of the whole number have approved the changes, concerning chiefly "the elect" and the "non-elect," "effectual calling" and the like Calvinistic dogmas, and in the like Calvinistic dogmas, and in the change the whole matter returns to the change of the legislature. They voted 6 to 6 general assembly. Meantime, the adoption of some short, simple, working and not minutely doctrinal statement of belief, of the Bay State company. as lately proposed by the New York pres-bytery, has found, at least in the east, in-

Mg.ny Divisions.

Apparently, the assembly will be divided into almost as many groups as the French chamber. There are the ultraliberals, so called, warmly supporting Dr. Briggs, if not directly accepting his teachings, and favoring a broad revision of the creed, on the one side; and on the other the ultra-conservatives, stronger in numbers, who cling tenaciously to the standards, if not to the practices, of Calvin himself. These two groups are the men, especially the ultra-liberals, who have lately talked the loudest, should Dr. Briggs be severely condemned, of a possible schism in the denomination

Between these two extremes are two more groups, one holding to a moderate and less persecuting conservatism; the other refusing to approve specifically the opinions of Dr. Briggs, yet maintaining quietly and firmly the right to reasonable lifference of opinion on doctrinal matters within a broad and liberal church.

Poor Fielding of the Bostons Results In Boston, May 18.-It was only last week that the Bostons pounded George Haddock out of the box. Yesterday they could do but little with him. The game was a gift on the part of the Bostons, poor fielding by Nichols, Nash, Long and Stivetts carrying the Brooklyns to victory. The features of the game were Haddock's fine pitching; the batting of Nichols, Burns and Griffin; the fielding of Tucker, Foutz, Daly, Nash, Corcoran, Shoch and Stivetts, and the work of the two catchers. But for Stivetts' poor judgment in hitting the Bostons might have won.

In the scented soft May breezes
Forests don their kirtles green;
All is melting, nothing freezes,
Flushes with auroral sheen;

Breaking, Hearts laugh out, with love aglow, May, sweet May, will have it so.

Wintry bosoms, ne'er so dreary
But the sunshine thrills them through: Heavy spirits, ne'er so weary But are twinkling in their dew;

Laughing, Quaffing, Life in measure full, I trow, May, sweet May, will have it so.

No more wax and wane and changing Let there be in love that's true; Seasonless and never ranging, Such, dear love, my love for you, Yearning.

Burning,
Or, as brook in even flow,
May, sweet May, will have it so.
—Ulrich V. Lichtenstein.

A Scene In the Attorney General's Office. Representative Wilson of West Virginia, whose distinguished position in the house entitles him to the utmost reany Democratic official, entered the office of the attorney general. The room was crowded with applicants for offices, and Mr. Olney was very much harrassed. Mr. Wilson stepped forward to the attorney general's desk. Mr. Olney turned savagely upon him.

"Sir," he said, "you have come up out of your turn. You are doing an injustice to those who have been waiting here, and you will have to go back to the foot of the line and await your turn."

Mr. Wilson, who is an exceedingly mild mannered gentleman, looked at the attorney general in amazement. Hedid not show his temper, however, but with chiding politeness inquired: "Did I hear you aright? Did you say I must go back and await my turn?"

"I did, sir," replied the attorney gen-

"Very well, sir," said the West Virginian haughtily, "I shall go back, but I shall not return. When you desire to see me, you can send for me."

It was not until Mr. Wilson had departed that Attorney General Olney learned who it was that he had affronted. -Washington Cor. Cleveland Plain

The Correct Boutonniere. The question of "buttonholes" is probably one which does not vitally affect the condition of the community. At the same time it is satisfactory to learn on excellent authority that coats of fashion will not this season be adorned with multicolored and built up arrangements of flowers. Simplicity is to be the order of the day. A la France rose, a gardenia or a Malmaison carnation, reposing in its own foliage and with a stalk as long as possible, is to be carelessly thrust through the aperture which no tailor ever meant to be confronted with a button. In short, the innocence of the directoire days is presumably to be reestablished. In any case the movement should be supported if only for the reason of suppressing the unnatural nosegays which have for so long waxed fiercer in wealth of wire.-London Tele-

The Maple Sugar Crop.

"The maple sugar crop of Vermont," says Colonel B. B. Smalley of that state, is going to be very short this season. I know that this is a sad fact to communiertheless unfortunately true. They need cold, frosty nights and warm days to make the sap flow, but unhappily all conditions have been against a good crop. I am also informed that the pear crop of Georgia will be short, while if the peach crop of Delaware also peters out the country at large will indeed be in a deplorable condition."—New York Tribune

The plans and front elevation here shown and a clubhouse combined. It is of course ing is supported upon piles, which are driven to secure bottom. The tops of the piles are sawed off, after being driven, to the desired height, and heavy timbers securely fastened to the piles, and the whole thoroughly braced to make secure. The lower ends of the posts of the building rest upon the sills and are held in place with fron dowels. They should never be mortised and tenoned, as the water will get in the mortise and keep the timber in an alternately wet and dry condition, thereby causing it to rot.

FRONT ELEVATION.

The floor of the boathouse is of thick plank laid edge to edge without matching, so that the air may freely circulate. The building is timber framed and braced, with strong girders and floor beams properly distributed to securely support the second floor and balcony roof, etc.

The building is designed in the Swiss style of architecture, with a low, pitched roof, open timber work, wide projections of cornice, heavy brackets and ornamental work. The walls on the outside are covered with wide novelty siding, nailed horizontally upon the studding. The second story is sheathed and shingled in the usual way to the level of the plates. In the gables matched boards are nailed on vertically. The roof is sheathed and covered with waterproof paper and shingled. In the first story plan, in addition to the space for the storage of boats, are a tollet room and a closet, with a stairway on each side leading to the second story.

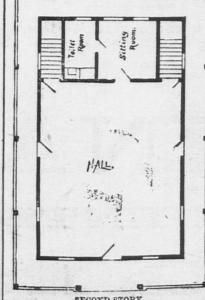

The second story is fitted up as a summer clubroom. The floor is constructed as fol-lows: First, a surfaced spruce or hemlock floor is nailed on top of the beams; on top of this floor laid a 1%-inch tongued and grooved yellow pine floor, well driven to-

A toilet room and sitting room, with a side balcony extending entirely around the building, complete the accommodations in this story. The balcony is protected by the overhanging roof of the main building and is supported on strong ornamental brackets and neatly turned columns. The building is further embellished by an ornamental railing.

The hall is abundantly lighted with a sufficient number of windows and sash doors, which lead out to the balcony. The inside walls and ceilings of the main hall, toilet room and sitting room are covered with tongued and grooved and beaded yellow pine ceiling, the door of white pine, and the whole left the natural color of the wood. You enter the building from the shore by means of a strong plank bridge. On the water front is a water tight "float," which serves as a launching and landing place. There are heavy folding doors at both ends of the building secured by strong padlocks, to which as many duplicate keys as may be desired can be provided for different members of the clul.

SECOND STORY.

The building is painted two coats outside. It can be erected for about $1,500 without plumbing. If a less pretentious structure is desired, the clubroom in the second floor may be left unfinished and the orange peel oil in proportion of 50 pounds building made smaller, using the same de-JAMES DUNCAN.

When he did come down stairs, the husband caught the savory odors of fried ham and the aroma of coffee. But he had lost a collar button and his temper, and he brought into the dining room a rumpled and collarless shirt and a terrible scowl.

Never suspecting, the head of the house held the flower garden up to his gaze, saying, "There, Jim, don't you think that's perfectly stunning?"

Jim's reply turned her sweetness into bitterest gall, for he said, "No, I don't, nor do I think much of you or any woman that'll take a man's money and spend it for such trash!"

Upon the table was a dish containing a half dozen eggs ready for frying, but they never reached the pan. By way of accent to her sundry remarks she hurled the eggs one after another with unerring sim, and Jim's face soon looked like a variegated sunflower streaked with crimson. Jim pushed his wife aside, crumpled the bonnet in his hands, wiped the gore and broken eggs from his face and then kicked the stunning thing about the

The Twin Screw Era.

The fact that the Campania is the first ressel built by the Cunard company for the Atlantic service in which twin screws and duplicate machinery have been adopted in itself inspires, in view espeshafting, a considerable degree of professional interest, although even now one may correctly enough speak of the present as the twin screw era in the history of Atlantic navigation, when such ressels as the Paris (City of), New York City of), Majestic, Teutonic, Augusta Victoria, Fuerst Bismarck, etc., are dong constant service. The twin screw period was inaugurated in 1888-9 with the four first named vessels, and at the present time there are built and buildng as many as 35 twin screw steamships of over 5,000 tons, the Lucania making the sixteenth vessel to be produced of over 5,000 tons.—Glasgow Citizen.

Penang Chinamen Want Home Rule. Four thousand Penang Chinamen have petitioned Lord Ripon and addressed epresentations to Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Labouchere to the effect that they object to being governed from Singapore. They wish to secure a separate Penang administration, and maintain that a cabinet pledged to home rule should at least send a royal commission to inquire into their claims. The legislative council recently rejected a similar motion.

The Straits Times declares that the petitioners chiefly consist of ignorant persons, who are influenced by agitators and encouraged by some Penang mer-chants who desire to pledge the government's credit for harbor schemes .- Singapore Cor. London Times. Soldiers In English Prisons.

Dr. A. T. Sanden, Dear Sir:—Four years ago I suffered such pain from rheumatism that at times it was immossible for me to get around, and I always carried a cane for support. A. E. VOSS, Musical Director, 309 St. Mark's Place. 2,020 to 1,590. Does He Play Poker?

Judge Gresham not only loves poker but knows how to play the great American game, according to a leading member of the United States senate, whose name can be quoted if necessary. He said a few days ago, "I know that Judge Gresham sits up nights playing poker with George Pullman and other men of that kind and that they lose to him very steadily."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

NEW

WESSAGUSSETT

The Seashore Tendency

Each succeeding year finds more people at the seashore. It is coming to be a necessity that during the summer months a man should get his family out of the town or city, into the more invigorating atmosphere of the coast. This annual change becomes a really paying investment. There is less sickness because the wife and children go home almost new creatures in strength and health.

Wessagussett

We ask a consideration of it because it seems to present a variety of features that make it very interesting as a summer resort.

Its Historical Associations

Second only to Plymouth is Wessagussett to the people of New England. In 1623 a party of settlers sailed up the coast into what is now Boston Harbor, attracted by the beauty of a spot at the mouth of a river on the south shore. They made a trade for it and established there the second settlement of white men on the New England soil. Here in the following year Myles Standish came with eleven men and rescued this infant settlement by fighting his battle with the Indians, made famous by Longfellow in his "Courtship of Myles Standish."

Its Location

At the mouth of the Weymouth Fore River, on the shore between Quincy and Downer Landing, 10 miles from Boston, within five minutes' walk of North Weymouth with its churches and stores. Get off electric cars, corner Sea and Bridge streets.

The Flats

Many otherwise attractive shore resorts on the coast and in Boston Harbor have this one drawback. Part of the day the tide leaves exposed a wild expanse of mud flats. Even when this odor is not offensive it is always a source of offence to the eye and an inconvenience to yachtsmen. Wessagussett is fortunate in having a deep water channel, close to shore and no flats whatever.

Yachtsmen

Will find this specially attractive combined with its nearness to Boston. Its a great thing to be said in favor of any place on the shore, that at any tine of day a sail is a possibility, that there will be no waits for high tide either to get out or in.

Boat Pier

We have just completed at a cost of $1000 a pier which gives us four feer of water at dead low tide, with good anchorage for yachts just off the head.

Beach

Is specially good for bathing, sand and fine gravel. The sheltered and enclosed location makes the water warm and attractive to people who usually keep out of cold water. The beach will be reserved for general use.

Mosquitoes

At some places they make life miserable for the summer inhabitant. The proprietor of the Bay Side House says: "I've lived here ten years and never had a screen on my house."

Beauties of Landscape and Water

The location of the Wessagussett on two hills gives it splendid views of Boston, the Islands of the Harbor, Hull and Quincy.

Accessibility

Within two minutes' walk of the

Size and Cost of Lots

The lots vary in size, but are generally 40x80 and range in price from $200 to $600. $25 first payment, balance weekly or monthly with four years to pay the whole, without interest or taxes.

Restrictions

Many otherwise desirable places along shore are disfigured by very cheap houses. We allow nothing built that costs less than $800 and those already being built range from $1200 to $2000.

Our Steamer "Miriam" makes a trip to Wessagussett every day for the accommodation of persons wanting to see this property. Make up a party of friends and take this trip down the Harbor with us, and see what is one of the most desirable shore resorts near Boston. Send for plans.

AN INDIAN'S ORATION.

Flying Cloud's Masterly and Thrilling Speech.

The Indian is the most poetic race in the world, in their relations with their own; in their habits when not on the warpath; in their customs, songs, dances; in their be conceptions of the Great Manitou. The following is an extract from the speech of Flying Cloud, a famous Kickapoo medicine

lief in the happy hunting ground, and in their "Children of the Great Spirit, whose form is in the air, though invisible, I am here to tell you of our wrongs and of our rights! "Four hundred years ago a Great White Man sailed from Spain to find a New World-to find a New World-That World was the Red Man's. Then all went well with our Forefathers from the upper waters of the Hurons to the Great Warm Gulf that kissed the land of Fruit and Flow-ers, where the Sim-inoles hunted and fished. The Park reservation, shown on the new map published by the Park Commission, borders Montclair on the north.

The Park in front of Montclair, including the Neponset river, will be over a mile in width.

This will make Montclair the most desirable suburb south of Boston. The nearness to the heart of the city (only 15 minutes' ride on the Old Colony) is another point in its favor.

The Board of Survey has laid out a thoroughfare 80 feet wide, connecting with Marine Park and crossing the Neponset river at Montclair. When these improvements are made, the lots we now offer for 6 and 10 cents per foot will be worth 25 and 30 cents, and even more.

We offer for sale this spring 50 desirable lots on easy monthly payments.

If you care for an investment or want a place to live, it will be to your interest to see Montclair at once.

HOUGHS NECK.

The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is-one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

RESULT

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone. fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893, a church to be built very soona desirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by a public-spirited citizen-a dozen new buildings now going up and as many more contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land advancing steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished in a legitimate and permanent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of

THE END IS NOT YET.

Look ahead three years and consider the possibilities of this resort if the improvements continue at the same rate, and you will see a town rivaling Winthrop on the opposite side of the harbor.

We think we are safe in saying that we are offering

Better Lots at Lower Prices

Than can be had at any other seashore resort within the same distance from Boston and as easily accessible as this.

Quincy is now fast recovering from the serious setback occasioned by the great strikes of last year, and a new era of prosperity is dawning on the historic old town. Our many customers here will testify that during the shut down we did not crowd them at all for payments on the lots bought on easy terms. We waited for better times, confident that our forbearance would be appreciated, and are pleased to say that our confidence was not misplaced. We are anticipating a good business in Quincy during the coming season, and feel sure we shall not be disappointed.

We shall hold regular sales every Saturday afternoon all summer, and special sales on all the holidays. Salesmen will also be on the property on Sunday to show the lots, and our terms will be the same as heretofore,

$5 Down and $5 a Month,

With liberal discount for cash. The chance for investment is still good, as our prices are still reasonable, and good lots can yet be had for anywhere from five to ten cents per foot or from $200 to $400 a lot.

THE APOLOGY.

- Chide not if here you haply find The rough romance of country love; I sing as well the brook and wind The green below, the blue above.
- Here shall you read of spreading cress,
 The velvet of the sparrow's neck;
 Sometimes shall glance the glowing tress
 And Laura's snow without a speck.
- The crab that sets the mouth awry, The chestnut with its domes of pink, The splendid palace of the sky, The pool where drowsy cattle drink,
- The stack where Colin hides to catch
 The milkmaid with her beaded load;
 The singing lark, a poet's match,
 That travels up the great blue road;
- The cherry whence the blackbird bold Steals ruby mouthfuls at his ease, The glory of laburnum gold, The valiant piping of the breeze—
- All, all are here. The rustic Muse Shall sing the pansy and the thrush. Ah, chide not if she sometimes choose The country love, the country blush!

THE BLACK PEARL.

The harbor of Acapulco is an ideal one for shelter, and after the steamer is once at anchor it is a source of mystery to the passengers who have not been on deck now she ever entered the quiet little bay. The high, blue mountains in the background, the tall palms and tropical green down to the water's edge, along the shore the tiled and thatched houses among the oldest on the coast-and on the rising ground to the right the ancient fort and military prison-all these make a sight that fills a lover of the picturesque with enthusiasm.

The waters about the steamer are thick with the boats and dugouts of the bumboat women and dirty native boys pedlling fruit, shells, pearls and a world of indescribables, all keeping up a constant din of jabbering jargon, that, with the hundreds of half naked natives passing from the ship to the lighters discharging cargo, makes an exciting scene, in sharp contrast to the peaceful outlook on the

From the ship the city seems but a collection of small adobes, scattered here and there along the hillside, with an oceasional long, low white building in view. But no sooner has the traveler passed the gates of the custom house than a little city of 12,000 inhabitants lies before him under the shelter of the hill.

They did not notice the native police, not uniformed, but armed, following some distance behind as the Americans dogged the footsteps of the first conquest of the amorous Warren, nor did they know their custom of "running in" the foreigner on any pretext whatever for the revenue of the paltry fine. Muriella Narvaez knew full well that her new admirers were close behind, and so did her tall lover. He bade her good night as Warren and Sanford passed, and went back toward the plaza. A New Class of Compounds.

The "nitro metals" are a new class of ompounds discovered by Sabatier and Senderens. They have found that reduced copper absorbs, in the cold, the tapors of nitrogen peroxide, heat being lisengaged during the process. The product is a maroon colored compound, the composition of which is represented by the formula Cu2NO2. This is nitrocopper. A similar compound has been btained with cobalt.—New York Jour-

Comment on Political News.

It is with extreme regret that the men who are urgent for the reform of the civil service read of the wholesale reit was against the same policy under Clarkson, and prominent men who supported Cleveland have no more charity for the evil under a Democratic than unwhence after much delay she brought der a Republican administration. In forth a package carefully wrapped and fact, the assurances which have been sealed. "You must not undo this, senor," given of the purpose to extend the civil service rules and to follow the spirit of the civil service law makes such doings as Maxwell's all the more exasperating.

One of the active Mugwumps of the campaign of 1884, who has supported Cleveland ever since, speaking today of Maxwell's policy, said that "he ought to be snaked out of his office." It is already proposed to enter a formal and vigorous public protest against this policy of removal for political reasons, and unless there is a change the administration will ose rapidly in the good will which it evoked when it was said that the claims of office hunters would not be suffered to interfere with the public business .-Springfield Republican.

Nepotism is bad enough, but there is a practice that has worked its way into the government which is worse. It is nepotism in its most reprehensible form. It is the practice of senators, representatives, cabinet officials and government officials in general of fastening their relatives upon the public treasury. An example is the United States senator whose wife's mother, sisters and a lot of cousins are all in the departments. There are several similar cases, besides cases relatives into the public service in a variety of ways.

Cabinet officers have their sons thus fastened upon the treasury. It is bad enough for senators to make their relatives clerks to senate committees and otherwise provide for them in document rooms and other places, where they will be remembered in at least one of the numerous appropriations at the close of the session, but the practice of colonizing them in the departments is the worst kind of nepotism.—Washington Letter.

Would Die Rather Than Testify.

Mrs. Carrie E. Welch, about 25 years of age, entered station 2, Cambridgeport, late Tuesday night and dropped a note on the captain's desk. It was an announcement that the writer intended to take her life rather than testify in the divorce case of her parents, which was to be called the following day. "You will find my body," said the note, "in the Charles river near the Western avenue bridge." A policeman was sent after the woman, who had hurried away, and in a short time he overtook her and carried her back. When they reached the station, physicians were sent for, and it was discovered that she had taken poison. She was finally pronounced out of danger and was placed in charge of the matron of station 1 for the night, and the next day was taken to her home -Boston Transcript.

Cheap Apartment.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., May 20. - Rosy Crepeau, 23 years old, died at Woonsocket yesterday under circumstances which strongly point to foul play.

She was a red-cheeked, prepossessing girl before her last sickness. She died in the rooms of Philias Brouillet, in Brown's building, 92 Main street.

About three weeks ago she came from Providence and took up her quarters in Brouillet's rooms, where he had hardly any furniture, except a lounge and a table upon which were a number of bottles which appeared to have contained drugs. During the past week tenants of the

All the leading consumers of brick in this market have received a circular conaining the announcement of the consolidation. The announcement was also made, in reply to all inquiries from consumers, that the price of hard brick would hereafter be $9 per 1000.

At least 100,000,000 brick must be used in this market during the remainder of the year, which means that wherever brick is employed in construction there will be a total increase of cost of construction of $100,000, unless the builders succeed in breaking the combination.

Woman's Danger. No man can ever know the devoted martyrdom of many

Unselfishly a woman works and suffers that home and loved ones may be happy. When it seems as though her back would break, when she grows irregular, faint, irritable, loses all interest in society, gets the "blues," is crushed with that indescribable feeling of "bearing-down," she "drags along," day after day, suffering agonies that would appal a man.

The cause of all her trouble is some derangement of the uterus or womb, perhaps the development of a tumor, or at the Wesley church. Delegates from cancerous humor, - anyway, give it instant attention. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-

FIVE BAD BROTHERS

They Have Operated Extensively in Boston Suburbs.

WALTHAM, Mass., May 22.- The adjoinng town of Weston has been infested with a gang of thieves for a number of weeks past, and numerous breaks have been reported to the local police. A few days ago Charles to the local police. A few days ago Charles able conditions, and that an additional quarter knot is a question of the eleentered and a new bicycle taken. Inspector McKenna was detailed on the case, and he inally located the bicycle in Danvers, where it was left by the gang that the police of that place had such a terrible light with last Thursday.

After escaping from the officers the gang tole another bicycle to take the place of the one they left, and immediately came the one they left, and immediately came back to this vicinity. Last Friday the local ously injured her. police were notified that they were hiding in the woods in Wayland, about five miles from this city. Inspector McKenna and Sergeant Taft went to Wayland Friday ight and scoured the woods till daybreak, but could find no trace of the men.

A Family Affair. West Newton, and the officers of that place were requested to keep a sharp lookout for the appearance of any of the men in that city. City Marshal Richardson detailed Officers Davis and Shannon to watch the City Marshal Richardson detailed barn, and last night they were rewarde by seeing two of the brothers drive up to the barn. The officers quickly placed the men under arrest, and at the station they were identified as Harvey and Charles. A search of the barn revealed a lot of blankets and clothing, which was after-started for Wayland yesterday to search for the other three brothers. The officers learned that the men had gone to Concord, and would probably be found at the home of a farmer named Clem.

The Capture. The police then started for Concord and notified Chief of Police Craig of their errand. Chief Craig accompanied them to the house of Clem. As the party drove up to the farm they saw Charles Elderkin and sumed by fire. WORCESTER, Mass., May 22.—The Howe factory in East Douglas was totally con sumed by fire. dem coming from the barn, and three officers soon captured Charles, while three other officers started for the house where George Elderkin was.

He saw the officers coming and made a dash for liberty by jumping out of a window, but as soon as he struck the ground Sergeant Taft grabbed him. Elderkir mad a desperate resistance and ne was knocked down several times before he was finally subdued. There is another brother named Frank, the oldest of the gang, who is still at large. The prisoners were brought to Waltham and locked up. Upon being searched at the station eorge had three watches and a pocket book containing a Freemason pin, a pin and $17 in money. Charles had in addrtion to a pocketbook containing considerable money a set of steel knuckles. The

Took Their Arrest Coolly. The gang, which is by long odds the worst that has ever operated in these parts, is wanted in Weston, Sudbury, Newton and Danvers, and the chances are that it will be a long time before they regain their

BIG FIRE IN PROVIDENCE.

Property Bounded by Three Streets Is

Reduced to Ashes. PROVIDENCE, May 22.—Shortly after 1 o'clock last night fire was discovered in the 2-story wooden building known as the old skating rink, on Salem street. An alarm was at once sent in, which was followed by three others in quick succession.

The burned district belongs to the Slater Mill and Power company, and is bounded on Aborn, Salin and Mason streets, 280 feet long and 80 wide, two-thirds of which is a 2-story wooden building, and the balance 4-story brick building.

Fire started in the American Tubing and Webbing company's works on the second floor of the wooden building, which was totally destroyed. The brick building was partially gutted. The fire communicated to the School for the Deaf and enement houses, but was quickly extinguished. Firemen had several narrow

A SENSATIONAL SERMON.

New York Clergyman Scores Directors of the World's Fair. NEW YORK, May 22.-Rev. S. B. Rossiter of the Presbyterian church preached a sermon yesterday on the "Religious Crisis Which Will Be Precipitated by the Opening of the World's Fair on Sunday." He said the decision of the board of local SHIRT WAISTS, commissioners to open the fair against the wishes of the Christian people of this country would precipitate a religious crisis. The act was an open defiance of Christian sentiment as well as of teachings of Almighty God. It was a crime greater than that of the Jews, which brought down the ire of Jehovah.

He would not be surprised at anything that might happen at the fair. He would not be surprised if God in his righteous wrath should cause an electric shower to fall, which would raze to the ground all the World's fair buildings and leave Jackson park a scene of desolation. And ever if nothing should occur the opening of the fair and the desecration of the Sabbath would produce a moral turpitude from which Chicago would never recover. The time has come for religious people to declare their faith. Something ought to be done quickly to prevent those atheistic directors from carrying out their evil de

Eleven Men Lose Their Lives In a Michigan Lumber Camp.

DETROIT, May 22.-A dispatch from Cadillac gives particulars of the burning death of 11 men at Sands' lumber camp. The men were assembled at dinner and a forest fire entirely cut off all escape. When the men rushed out of the building in which they had been sitting, the smoke so blinded them that they became bewildered. They ran hither and thither, unable to find a means of escape and their horses stam-peded, adding to the confusion. Eight of the men jumped into a well to escape the fiames and there died of suffocation. Others rushed to the woods and some of them thus escaped, but the bodies of two of them were afterward found burned to a

PROSPECT OF A BIG "KICK" Which Will Affect 30,000 Cigarmakers

In New York. NEW YORK, May 22.-Delegates to varius cigarmakers' unions in this city met yesterday and continued the convention that had for its object the reorganization of the cigarmakers throughout the city.

The session was a secret one.

It is understood that the chief points of lissension between the cigarmakers and the bosses are the giving out of insufficient stock, so as to keep down the output and a man's wages, the compulsion used by employers in making new men live in their greed for gold at their expense.

As a result of small wages, which they claim do not average and week per man throughout the city, they are compelled to take work home to their wives and as many members of their families as can possibly work. The movement is a Straw Hats orewarning of a general kick among the 30,000 cigarm thers in New York city.

Quincy People

Do not need to be told the many advantages of owning a summer cottage at one of the picturesque shore resorts in their own pleasant little city. They know more about it than we can tell them on a whole page of the Ledger. But we come forward once more to call their attention to the many claims to preeminence as a summer resort possessed by

HOUGHS NECK.

The older residents of Quincy can remember—not so many years ago when the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick G. B. Bates Heating Co. communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is—one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

RESULT

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the QUINCY. . MASS. Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893, a church to be built very soona desirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by a public-spirited citizen-a dozen new buildings now going up and as many more contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land advancing steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished in a legitimate and permanent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of prices, and

THE END IS NOT YET.

Look ahead three years and consider the possibilities of this resort if the improvements continue at the same rate, and you will see a town rivaling Winthrop on the opposite side of the harbor.

We think we are safe in saying that we are offering

Better Lots at Lower Prices

Than can be had at any other seashore resort within the same distance from Boston and as easily accessible as this.

Quincy is now fast recovering from the serious setback occasioned by the great strikes of last year, and a new era of prosperity is dawning on the historic old town. Our many customers here will testify that during the shut down we did not crowd them at all for payments on the lots bought on easy terms. We waited for better times, confident that our forbearance would be appreciated. and are pleased to say that our confidence was not misplaced. We are anticipating a good business in Quincy during the coming season, and feel sure we shall not be disappointed.

We shall hold regular sales every Saturday afternoon all summer, and special sales on all the holidays. Salesmen will also be on the property on Sunday to show the lots, and our terms will be the same as heretofore,

$5 Down and $5 a Month,

With liberal discount for cash. The chance for investment is still good, as our prices are still reasonable, and good lots can yet be had for anywhere from five to ten cents per foot or from $200 to $400 a lot.

SUNDAY OPENING IS DOOMED

Times on Exhibition.

CHICAGO, May 22.-The press congress which assembled in this city this morning at the memorial art palace on the lake front, is a famous gathering of lit erary vorkers. Editors and writers from all parts of the world are there, and with them are women, who, in their lighter sphere of literature and journalism, have done as much as the men have done in theirs.

Great editors, literary celebrities and famous writers are commonplace in Chicago this week if number and variety can make genius commonplace. An elaborate programme has been arranged for the morning and evening sessions of every day during the week. It includes addresse from dozens of men and women whose names are familiar to all the American newspaper reading public and addresses from literary people and editors as dis-tinguished in their own countries as the Americans are in this.

The opening ceremonies were held in The most economical, cleanly and hall 1. This was a public reception to urable Ranges ever constructed. gress had been invited. The reception party consisted of the president and officers of the world's congress auxiliary, president and vice president of the roman's branch, with the committee of arrangements for the world's public press

The national commissioners have been premises is to make such rules and regulations as will tend to the keeping of the their opening.

What Women are Doing. Eighteen ordained women ministers of the gospel, representing 13 different denominations, sat on the speakers' platform at the religious services held yesterday in Washington hall of the memorial art palace, by the world's congress of representative women.

Rev. Jeanette Olmstead invoked the Divine blessing on the work of the congress. Rev. Emily Gordon recited the hymn, "Rise Up, Rise Up, Oh Woman," and Rev. Florence Kollock offered prayer, expressing the hope and the conviction that the congress would be a red letter day in the ory of nations. Miss Catherine M. Fisk then sang the "Creation Hymn".
Mis s Anna H. Shaw delivered the sermon. She took for her text verse 2 of the 68th Psalm, revised edition: "The Lord giveth the word, the women that publish the tidings are a great host."

New England Contributions. Professor Putnam of the anthropological department will not be able to display his museum properly before June 1. The department of construction has made repeated promises to have his building ready, out has delayed so long that several exhibitors have withdrawn. Installation of the New England colonial display in the government building is progressing rapidly under Mrs. Richardson of Boston and Mrs. Grosvenor of Providence The Massachusetts and Rhode Island ections are in order. Some of the most interesting things in the old Bay State collection are the autograph letters of famous historical personages. There is a bible in the Massachusetts collection which was printed in 1559 and brought to America by John Alden in the Mayflower. Then there is a fragment of Flymouth rock, General Joseph Warren's Latin grammar, published in 1720, and a copy of the stamp act of 1765, which was e property of the brother of General

Benedict Arnold's fife and Aaron Burr's tisiting card are in the case alongside a pair of baby shoes, 140 years old. The epaulets and spurs of General Burgoyne, captured in the battle of Saratoga, are lying next the pipe once smoked by Miles Standish. Then there are old fashioned pitch pipes, used by the Puritan fathers before the invention of the tuning fork.

John Hancock's proclamations and silver and glassware from his table are also shown, and Major Puling's snuffbox, with silverware and bronzes made by Paul Revere, for whose benefit Major Puling hung out his lantern when Revere aroused the countryside to arms. SHE MAKES OVER 21 KNOTS.

A Triumph of American Skill and Ingenuity.

BOSTON, May 23.—The quiet city of Bloucester, nestling behind the rocky hills of Cape Ann, was off the port beam of the cruiser New York at 9 o'clock resterday. Twenty-five minntes later a cm and she went over the line making 130 revolutions per minute. The steam pressure was then 165 pounds to the square inch, and the vessel

Making a Trifle Over 20 Knots. In a few minutes the revolutions jumped up to 155 and the steam to 170 pounds, both f which were held throughout the entire trip. Now the great furnace began to roar in the very bowels of the ship and immense lumps of burnt coal were driven out of the funnel by the powerful blowers. Thick and fast they fell until the sur-rounding decks looked like the land at the On flew the great cruiser,

Then came the tug Fortuna at 10:41, the Leyden at 11:05, and finally the historic old Kearsarge at 11:25. The rigging of the corvette was black with men who cheered the warship as she passed. FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Two Men Killed and Others Seriously Injured-Loss on Buildings. KEENE, N. H., May 23.—One of the big boilers at the Beaver mills in this city exploded yesterday, causing what will unoubtedly prove one of the worst accidents Keene has ever known. The entire eastern end of the boiler house was completely demolished, about 50 feet of one of the Beaver mills buildings was wrecked and the north side of the Keene Furniture company's building considerably damaged. Fortunately it was dinner hour and but few of the workmen were in the buildings at the time. The few who remained were all more or less injured. The following is the list of killed and injured:

Herbert G. Halton and Louis W. Starky both I ail turners, the former 30 years old. Frank Droulette, fireman, and George H. Carpenter, employed in the sawmill, are at the Elliott city hospital, the former dan-gerously and the latter seriously hurt. Gregory Carpenter, George W. Piper and William Clark, pail turners, and Michael Roach, carpenters, were all removed from the ruins and taken home. Piper's head and body were badly jammed, and he will

The victims were all taken to the Elliott city hospital, where everything was done to relieve their sufferings. It is supposed that the explosion was caused by the water in the boiler getting low, as the boiler was comparatively new.

The loss on the building is roughly

Clue to Her Identity.

Boston, May 23.—Sunday afternoon at about 5 o'clock persons along the beaches of Lynn and Swampscott made out a burning steamer or steam yacht to the southeast, headed south. She was a small craft, painted white, and carried a single smokestack and two masts, with no sails set. When first observed, bright flashes appeared suddenly from the deck forward.

By the aid of field glasses, flames were seen rising fiercely, sending up dark clouds of smoke and spreading amidship and aft, until the vessel was on fire from stem to stern. No signals of distress were seen nor the putting off of boats with those on board. The Cruiser New York Has Ex- The atmosphere was thick with haze, and even with glasses the view was dim and indistinct. The vessel was watched for more than half an hour, during which time she apparently sank lower in the water, as her upper works burned away, and finally she disappeared. A Man Falls Fifty Feet Down a Trench and Is Killed.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., May 23.-William Markey, 60 years of age, met with a terrible death last evening. He was on his way from his home when he stopped on Central avenue to look at the work being done on the big sewer.

He sat down upon a plank across the trench and looked down for about 10 minutes. He then got up and turned to reach the street, when he suddenly staggered and fell to the bottom of the sewer trench, a distance of 50 feet. When picked up it was found that his neck was broken and his skull fractured.

Mr. Markey had lived in this city for more than 40 years and had held many important offices in prominent temperance organizations. He leaves a family of several adult children. His fall was due to

The Committee on Sabbath Observance Report.

WASHINGTON, May 23.-Rev. Thomas Bracken conducted the half hour's devoional exercises with which the second veek's session of the Presbyterian general ssembly was ushered in yesterday. Promptly at 9:30 Moderator Craig opened the assembly with a word of prayer. Dr. Bartlett, chairman of the committee on arrangements, announced the reception to the commissioners in attendance upon the assembly by the trustees and overseers of Columbia University, from 4 to 6 Thurs day afternoon.

Observance of the Sabbath The report of the special committee on

Sabbath observance, of which the late Colonel Elliott F. Shepard was chairman from its inception, submitted 'its fifth annual report, which was read by Elder W R. Worrell of the New York Presbytery Colonel Shepard's private secretary. The committee expressed sorrow at the deat of Colonel Shepard. The effort to secure the opening of the World's fair on Sun days was recited, closing with a statement of the vote in congress against it. The Briggs Question then came to the front, and it did not mitigate the result of the short struggle to know when it was over children the constant of the short struggle to know when it was over children the constant of the co that it was chiefly the result of a misunderstanding. Dr. Young, chair man of the committee on bills and over cures, announced what had been don with the number of overtures from the resbyteries; 22 of them, relating to the Briggs case, having been referred to the mmittee on judiciary.

Mr. Young had scarcely ceased speaking when Dr. Herrick Johnson of Chicago in uired what had become of the overture om his presbytery on the Briggs case, which besought the assembly to refer this elebrated case back to the synod of New

Dr. Thomas C. Hall of Chicago, in symoathy with Dr. Briggs, made a brief speech in favor of sending all resolutions in the Briggs case to the judiciary committee first, as all would eventually go there. Elder Eudaly of Cincinnati stated that the assembly had to do simply with the law as it is, not as it ought to be. There was a general parliamentary confusion, is commissioners attempting to get the floor, amid which the aunouncement was made that the Chicago overture had gone to the judiciary committee. Water Street Improvements.

Editors of the Daily Ledger: The manner in which the work on Water street is being carried forward by our officials is shameful. The street is now really dangerous for travel and has been ever since last fall when work on paving was stopped for the winter. Early this spring the street railway moved its tracks to the centre of the street, and completed its part of the work some three or four weeks ago. When they commenced work it was naturally expected that the city Sherman and H. H. Faxon. would rush its part of work to completion, but instead of doing that it looks as though at best they can pave but a few feet per so that the side they are at work upon is impassable for teams while the other each other without danger of a collision can pass each other one-of them is obliged to use the sidewalk. Perhaps the commissioner is doing all he can to forward this work, but from appearances it looks very much as though from some unknown reason he was trying to give the few men who are at work at present on the street, a summer's job. It may be all right to find occupation for these men but it seems too bad that the people who are obliged to use this street, and they are legion, should be obliged to put up with the present inconvenience any longer than possible, and as they have already been subjected to it for nearly a year, it is high time that the person who is to blame for the delay should be made to hurry the job along. As the only way to accomplish this is by putting on a large force of men, it is hoped that Commissioner Ewell will do this and have the street put in condition for safe travel. As it is now, should an accident occur there would probably be another suit against the city for damages.

There has been a regular hum and bustle in the refrigerator market since Henry L. Kincaide & Co. secured the agency of the Eddy Refrigerators. In selling these goods at 20 per cent discount they have created a ted. furore seldom approached.

Public Hearings.

From eight to ten, public hearings were given on certain street improvements: For the widening and grading of Adams street there appeared in favor, Messrs. E. H. Dewson, W. B. Rice, Theophilus King,

All contended that it was a muci travelled thoroughfare, particularly on tock of random sizes, so dealers can have they were trying to make a summer's job Sundays. That the width was not uniform rom our works on Liberty Street, South of it. There are but few men at work and and at spots narrow and dangerous. Now seemed a desirable time to widen on the day and that on one side of the street only, Greenough estate as the present owners would give the land. A boulevard was not asked. In fact the petitioners were very side is so narrow that teams can not pass modest, not wishing a particularly wide and again that side is very muddy and is the abutters signified a willingness to give street or a great expenditure. Many of some twelve or eighteen inches below the their land or to do what was right by the railroad tracks so in parts where teams city. The only conditions of the Wollaston Land company is that the wall shall be removed, the land graded a little and a good sidewalk built.

Coddington Street. Only a few came forward in favor of the proposed widening of Coddington street. It was one of those cases where it was a public necessity rather than a personal benefit to anyone. H. H. Faxon wanted to hear from the Committee on Streets and Councilman Anderson presented the situation. Considered the corner at entrance of street very dangerous. It was contemplated to take land on the south side, which would include part of the grain store. Street was becoming more and more a thoroughfare. W. B. Rice as a trustee of the Hospital the committee recommended Walker street and Hall place, he hoped the same would be done under the betterment act as it would not be fair to the tax property in other parts of the city. The people who bought this land knew they had no way to get out. They bought it at a low price on that account.

Charles Cherrington said it was not for a ersonal benefit to open up a large lot of land. If the city should have to expend $2,500, in five years it would be paid for by land that had been opened up and new houses built upon. The land now can be purchased at a low price but cannot in a few years. Hoped Council would give this fair consideration at this time. B. F. Thomas did not think it out of the way for people to be taxed. Ward Six had been taxed for years for improvement of other places. It was quite time to put this street through.

J. E. Drew had lived on Walker street for twelve years. It was for the advanage of the city to complete this street. Many people travel through it every day. If any of the Council will investigate they will see that it is needed.

Councilman Rooney inquired if Copeland teams would go through there.

Mr. Badger thought they would as Copeland street has a rise of land all the way. W. E. Badger did not want to interfere with the aged lady, but thought something should be done. Do not need to be told the many advantages of owning a summer cottage at one of the picturesque shore resorts in their own pleasant little city. HOUGHS NECK

The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is-one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893, a church to be built very somea desirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by public-spirited citizen a dozen new buildings now going up and as many more contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land addition steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished in a legitimate and permanent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of Churches Hustling For Tenors. The church choir directors who are filling their quartets are having a great deal of difficulty in finding tenors. The supply of tenors capable of acceptable church work has always been limited, but at the present time it seems to be more limited than ever. It is estimated that there are 15 churches in this city and Brooklyn whose directors or music committees or clergymen or all three are on a wild hunt for tenors. The Grace church people are perfectly willing to pay a good tenor $1,000 a year, which is equal to $20 a Sunday, or perhaps they may do even better. As for St. Bar-tholomew's church, it is not believed they would refuse $2,000 if they could secure a satisfactory singer. This is believed to be the salary of Franz Remmertz, the bass there.-New York

For a dime we may ride all about the grounds, but we choose to walk, that we may the better see. It is early in the morning of a fine day, and the bracing air of the lake makes us feel strong enough to take in the entire exposition in a single day. So we bravely set out on foot.

The first glance about inspires us to unwonted energy. In the foreground is a cluster of beautiful buildings. There are so many we cannot count them, and haven't time to try, at any rate. Whence came all these miniature palaces, looking so gay and fine in the sunlight, with their great variety of facades and infinite types of architecture showing vividly in the sunlight? Some one tells us they are the state buildings-the individual contributions of the states of the Union to the stituent commonwealths, rises many degrees. So attractive are these state buildings, and so numerous, that we scarcely know which first to enter; and in the end we conclude to enter none, but simply to hasten along and glance at their exterior, coming another day to behold their interiors. It is well that we reached this decision, for when we come to think that all Union are represented, as well as several

The rain and the sunshine cost left of the Fifty-seventh street entrance nothing, and the hours given to gardening, like those spent in the chase, are Kansas on our left hand, and Georgia, added, not subtracted, from the span of Tennessee, Minnesota, Arkansas and Kenhuman life. Everybody can make a gar-den, if only in a window box. The purest of creative pleasures is found in co-oper-twice over the same ground, we behold Utah, Nevada, Idaho, New Mexico and North Carolina, and then turn through the interesting thoroughfare to the south past West Virginia, Virginia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri. Occupying the whole south front of this square are the magnificent buildings of New York and Pennsylvania. As we turn north again through the next street Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island and New Jersey are on our right, Delaware and Maryland on our left. Again reaching the northern avenue we see New Mexico, Arizona, Wyoming, Montana and Iowa on one side, and Connecticut, New Hampshire, Maine

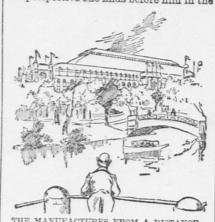

Now we are somewhat tired and sit down near the shore of Lake Michigan to rest. The water, with its moving picture our attention with the splendid view of should it once get headway, will run the Art palace and its annexes behind us. through any of these so rapidly that escape with life will be doubtful; with the Art panter and after an hour's work we have seen nothing but the Art building and the state structures. Yet when we take the map of the exposition and calculate the distance traveled we find we have walked precisely two and a quarter miles. If this is the scale on which this exposition is built, we say to ourselves,

Now we take a rapid run around the sheries building, though a dozen time apted to enter, and cross the inlet canal nd skirt the United States Government uilding. It is not a large building, as buildings go here, but to go around it requires a walk of nearly half a mile. Another half mile jaunt is necessary to see Uncle Sam's outdoor exhibit—the life-saving crew, the marine hospital, the haror and channel buoys and the big guns. We save ourselves a third of a mile by iewing the big brick battleship from the

Finally plucking up courage to leave this matchless spot we note the lateness of the hour and abandon our intentions to walk entirely around the monster buildng, contenting ourselves with a long look but one of the forty-four states of the at the great front which faces Lake Michigan. The afternoon is now well advanced, but we are bent upon carrying out our plan. So we suppress the impulse to stop for a good look at the Indian villages and sun-Anthropological building, and rush through the outdoor exhibit of the French colonies, the windmill display and the cres of agricultural implements, past the great amphitheater in which the horses and stock are to be exercised before the udges and 7,000 people all comfortably seated, and finally emerge through the Venetian screen or arch which stands guard over the southern end of the grand

As far as the eye can see are throngs of people crossing the stately bridges, and the waters of the canal, the asin and the lagoons are alive with gay condolas and swift-moving launches. It is indeed a scene the eye loves to linger on, but we walk rapidly to the west, past the pumping house, the big sawmill, e great boiler house with its long row of our-story steam-makers, the machine hop, the annex to Machinery hall (nearly big as the hall itself), the enormous gas house and gas-making plant, and round into the plaza between the railway tation and the Administration buildir

A half mile walk takes us past the Pennsylvania railway's model station and John Bull how, the immense cold storage warehouse where one may skate all summer on real ce, and several minor outdoor exhibits. Another half mile has carried us past the Mining building, and the Transportion and Paderewski recently dedicated and nearly to the north end of the Horticultural building, itself a fifth of a mile in ength. We do not stop to visit the green nouses nor the Hooden temple which the apanese have erected across the lagoon. A few minutes' walk gives us a view of he Woman's building and of the Illinois way, to be seen on the grounds—and we have completed the grand circuit. We have had a glimpse of every important structure within the enclosure, and are able to say with pride and satisfaction that we appreciate the magnitude and the beauty of the exposition. SHORE RESORT

SPECIAL SALE DECORATION DAY

Each succeeding year finds more people at the seashore. It is coming to be a necessity that during the summer months a man should get he family out of the town or city, into the more invigorating atmosphere of the coast. This annual change becomes a really paying investment there is less sickness because the wife and children go home almost new creatures in strength and health.

Wessagussett

We ask a consideration of it because it seems to present a variety of features that make it very interesting as a summer resort.

Its Historical Associations

Second only to Plymouth is Wessagussett to the people of New England. In 1623 a party of settlers sailed up the coast into what is now Bosto Harbor, attracted by the beauty of a spot at the mouth of a river on the south shore. They made a trade for it and established there the secon settlement of white men on the New England soil. Here in the following year Myles Standish came with eleven men and rescued this infar settlement by fighting his battle with the Indians, made famous by Longfellow in his "Courtship of Myles Standish."

Its Location

At the mouth of the Weymouth Fore River, on the shore between Quincy and Downer Landing, 10 miles from Boston, within five minutes' walk North Weymouth with its churches and stores. Get off electric cars, corner Sea and Bridge streets.

The Flats

Many otherwise attractive shore resorts on the coast and in Boston Harbor have this one drawback. Part of the day the tide leaves exposed a will expanse of mud flats. Even when this odor is not offensive it is always a source of offence to the eye and an inconvenience to yachtsmen. Wessagu sett is fortunate in having a deep water channel, close to shore and no flats whatever.

Yachtsmen

Will find this specially attractive complications of day a sail is a possibity, that there will be no waits for high tide either to get out or in.

Boat Pier

We have just completed at a cost of $1000 a pier which gives us four feet of water at dead low tide, with good anchorage for yachts just off the head.

Beach

Is specially good for bathing, sand and fine gravel. The sheltered and enclosed location makes the water warm and attractive to people who usually keep out of cold water beach will be reserved for general use.

Mosquitoes

At some places they make life miserable for the summer inhabitant. The proprietor of the Bay Side House says: "I've lived here ten years and never had a screen on my house

Beauties of Landscape and Water

The location of the Wessagussett on two hills gives it splendid views of Boston, the Islands of the Harbor, Hull and Quincy.

Accessibility

Size and Cost of Lots

The lots vary in size, but are generally 40x80 and range in price from $200 to $600. $25 first payment, balance weekly or monthly with four years to pay the whole, with interest or taxes.

Restrictions

Many otherwise desirable places along shore are disfigured by very cheap houses. We allow nothing built that costs less than $800 and those already being built range if $1200 to $2000.

Our Steamer "Miriam" makes a trip to Wessagussett every day for the accommodation of persons wanting to see this property. Make up a party of friends and take this down the Harbor with us, and see what is one of the most desirable shore resorts near Boston. Send for plans.

CLEVELAND'S POLICY.

He Wants Support For the Plan to Repeal the Sherman Silver Law.

WASHINGTON, May 23.-There is the best of reason for saying that President Cleveland has announced to no one his intention to recommend an income tax to the coming congress. It is well known, how-ever, that one of his most prominent cabinet officers believes he will do so. The idea underlying this belief is the need of winning support to the plan for repealing the Sherman silver law, unconditional repeal being contemplated.

If a carefully guarded resuscitation of the state bank note system could be substituted for the free silver program of the southerners it is thought that they would accept the change. At this time, however, they are demanding that whatever is done with the tax problem shall be done so as not to saddle the people with a permanent call for revenue to meet the temporary requirements of the pension outflow. Whether the president will conclude to adopt this combination as his own seems to be still an unsettled question, but there is no denying that it will be strongly urged upon him.

The New England Farmer. She chose for her subject, "Three-Fourths of a Century In Farm Journalism," and illustrated that, as agriculture was the first occupation of mankind, so its early papers were the pioneer trade papers. Continuing, she said:

It is unfortunate that the agricultural press has not been able to keep free from the modern top-of-column-next-to-reading abominations and that the deforming blight of position advertising gets in its work on all kinds of papers.

Harry Wright's Men Win by Superior Batting-The Game Protested.

BOSTON, May 23.—The uncertainties of iseball were never better illustrated than in the opening game yesterday with the Phillies. The day was an ideal one for the sport, and 2000 spectators attended.

The hitting was free on both sides, the Bostons making more hits than their op-ponents and batting more to the outfield, but the Phillies' hits were very long ones -four two-baggers, one three and two home runs. In fielding the Bostons excelled Harry Wright's men, only one of their errors aiding the Phillies.

The score was tied-one run each-up to the sixth inning, when a single, threebagger and "homer" earned three runs Then five rattling singles, two errors by Delahanty and a two-bagger by Stivetts netted six runs for the champions. In the first half of the ninth Stivetts weakened, and a "homer" by Boyle, two bases on balls, a two-bagger and two singles gave the Phillies five runs, and the game—9 to 7. The fielding of Nash, Lowe, Allen and Reilly was first class, while Ganzel caught beautifully. Tucker played well, and the Phillies made three double plays. The absence of Carroll weakens the Bostons.

Borden Case.

ARGUMENT OF THE DEFENSE

Will Tend to Show Inconsistent Theories.

These are (1) the alleged burning of a dress by the defendant on the day following the murders; (2) the mysterious robbery of Andrew Borden's safe some months before his death; (3) the alleged strained relations between Lizzie Borden and her father and stepmother; (4) the I'nding of the hatchet with which the murlers are alleged to have been committed; (5) the failure of all other clues except that eading to Lizzie Borden to offer any explanation of the crimes; (6) the lack of opportunity for any other person to have committed the deed.

Regarding the alleged burning of a dress, it is said that the defense will probably not offer a denial, but will put in an explanation felt to be

As to the hatchet, there is no probability that the government will put in any hatchet other than the one shown at the preliminary hearing; and all talk of the recent finding of other hatchets is absoutely without foundation.

In all probability the defense will not put forth with any msistence any explanation of the crimes, devoting ...elf chiady $15,000 and $250 for fees of counsel were to the defense of Lizzie Borden to the the amounts awarded the libellant, May charge against her; but it is extremely likely that the presence of other persons in the neighborhood of the house, Dr. Handy's "wild-eyed man" and other similar points brought out at the preliminary hearing.

Will Again Be Emphasized. The state, of course, will again insist upon the theory advanced previously, that it shows by the process of exclusion that no other person than Lizzie Borden had he opportunity to commit the crimes, and whom any suspicion can rest, that she nust have done it.

The defense, however, will insist that this theory is not consistent with the evidence of the state, which it will undoubtedly argue allows abundant opportunity for some other person to have entered the cuse, committed the murder and escaped

CONGRESSMAN EVERETT.

He Writes a Letter Defining His Attitude on Appointments.

Congressman Everett does not wish to take a hand in displacing government officials. He is willing to forward petitions but will not endorse them. His attitude is clearly shown in the following letter just made public:

The letter is as follows: QUINCY, May 17, 1893. MY DEAR MR. BROWN:

day, as I received your first. I have given it my very best attention, as I did the other. You will readily understand that I have been very busy, and so did not answer it at once. I do not know how to thank you for the kind words you say of myself; I fear I do not half deserve them. I have not the honor of knowing Mr. Walker personally, but I am sure that he deserves all that you say of him and all the kind offices which his friends and other distinguished men are doing him. I have, however, for a long series of years, felt that the custom by which members of Congress take an active part in the distribution of offices is a bad one, and I made up my mind that if ever I was honored by an election to Congress I would, to the utmost of my ability, withdraw from all share in indorsements, recommendations and solicita-

I have not concealed these views; I am generally known as a civil service reformer, and this name means more with me than read the advertisement of John O, Holden perhaps it does with some others. his petition, when sent to Washington, Isle, Me. may not come under the eye of the departments, I am very willing to forward it and, so far, insure its delivery. But, of course, Mr. Walker needs no such meditation. NEW

WESSAGUSSETT

SPECIAL SALE DECORATION

Each succeeding year finds more people at the seashore. It is coming to be a necessity that during the summer months a man should get his family out of the town or city, into the more invigorating atmosphere of the coast. This annual change becomes a really paying investment. There is less sickness because the wife and children go home almost new creatures in strength and health.

Wessagussett

We ask a consideration of it because it seems to present a variety of features that make it very interesting as a summer resort.

Its Historical Associations

Second only to Plymouth is Wessagussett to the people of New England. In 1623 a party of settlers sailed up the coast into what is now Boston Harbor, attracted by the beauty of a spot at the mouth of a river on the south shore. They made a trade for it and established there the second settlement of white men on the New England soil. Here in the following year Myles Standish came with eleven men and rescued this infant settlement by fighting his battle with the Indians, made famous by Longfellow in his "Courtship of Myles Standish."

Its Location

At the mouth of the Weymouth Fore River, on the shore between Quincy and Downer Landing, 10 miles from Boston, within five minutes' walk of North Weymouth with its churches and stores. Get off electric cars, corner Sea and Bridge streets.

The Flats

Many otherwise attractive shore resorts on the coast and in Boston Harbor have this one drawback. Part of the day the tide leaves exposed a wide expanse of mud flats. Even when this odor is not offensive it is always a source of offence to the eye and an inconvenience to yachtsmen. Wessagussett is fortunate in having a deep water channel, close to shore and no flats whatever.

Yachtsmen

Will find this specially attractive combined with its nearness to Boston. Its a great thing to be said in favor of any place on the shore, that at any time of day a sail is a possibility, that there will be no waits for high tide either to get out or in.

Boat Pier

Beach

Is specially good for bathing, sand and fine gravel. The sheltered and enclosed location makes the water warm and attractive to people who usually keep out of cold water. The beach will be reserved for general use.

Mosquitoes

The Sugar Trust at the Capital. As soon as possible after the news of the Hawaiian revolution came to these United States senate by the treaty of annexation, there came to Washington an agent of the powerful Sugar trust. He announced to close friends that the defeat of the treaty and the killing of the whole idea of annexation was his purpose, and he wished to know what was the best way to proceed. The advice was given. In addition the sugar agent was told to do his own business in his own way, and that he should do it on the nerits of his cause in a business light. In due time the annexation scheme was furiously attacked in the senate. It was not long thereafter when the Sugar trust agent was able to say, as he did to inside friends, that the treaty was already dead; that it no longer had the breath of life in

If ever genuine grief was mingled with true fidelity to a departed friend, the combination was exhibited by Charles Mitchell when he heard of the death of Squire Abingdon. The pugilist shed copious tears, blubbered aloud and said between his sobs, "He was good to me, and I'll show what I thought of him by punching hades out of Jim Corbett in six rounds." Who can fail to be impressed by this display of dauntless spirit in the midst of solemnity of a crushing bereavement? As for Corbett, if he is not willing to be punched in such a sacred cause, he is simply a hard hearted monster. — Rochester Democrat and

With Poisoned Gloves.

A tale comes from Russia which sounds like a romance of middle age barbarism. General Count Scheremetieff of the czar's bodyguard died suddenly the other day, and it is given out that he was mur-dered by nihilists. His death, it is said, was decided some time ago by the nihilists' executive committee, and one of its emissaries managed to substitute a pair of poisoned gloves for the ones that the general was wearing and had laid down for a moment. Not observing the change the general put on the poisoned gloves, and death followed shortly.—Exchange.

Peppers Grew In His Midst. Elmer Perrine died recently of consumption of the bowels. Perrine was 26 and leaves a widow and two children. Several months ago Perrine ate red peppers for his dinner. The seeds lodged n his stomach, germinated and made him ill. To remove the peppers he was compelled to take strong emetics. It is said this brought on the disease that ter minated in his death. Upon several occasions he coughed up several partially grown peppers.—Long Branch Cor. Philadelphia Press.

A Word About Press Clubs.

Life is sorry to see the New York Press club engaged in a scheme that savors of blackmailing. A few of the members of the club are reputable newspaper men, and their connection with it enables the organization to come at the the entire newspaper guild.

The demands made in behalf of the approaching fair are not actually accompanied by threats of newspaper retribution, but in most cases the person approached is made generous by an undefined dread of what may happen to him if he isn't. With the demand is coupled the assurance that the Press club is a philanthropic institution, which takes care of its members in sickness and buries them when dead.

This is a humiliating reflection on the their former position, where they were obliged to obey the rules of fashion; that their very freedom from conventionalities would make life more enjoyable.

There is a charm in the eyes of refined natures in the visions of a neat and pretty cottage, well kept, with an abundance of size for far eightness and make their own provithe ends are clipped off from time to time, as well as superfluous branches. I never plant two rows together, preference of the ends are clipped off from time to time, as well as superfluous branches. I never plant two rows together, preference of the ends o things which every real man is expected to do for himself.

There is a growing knowledge among the public that the Press club idea, not only in New York, but elsewhere, is strongly worked, and for their own advantage, by men who either are not newspaper men at all or whose connection with the press is very slight. It will be a good thing when this knowledge becomes general.—Life.

Pneumatic Caissons For a Building.

Pneumatic caissons are being used in preparing the foundation for the new office building which is being erected on lower Broadway by the Manhattan Life Insurance company. This structure is being built on a lot 122 by 67 feet in size and at a place where a rock bottom cannot be reached without passing through quicksand full of water. Fifteen of these issons will be employed, four circular and 11 rectangular. The latter vary in size from 25½ feet in length by 21½ feet in width to 13 feet square. The largest of the circular caissons is 15 feet in diameter and the smallest 10 feet. They Now, here is a cottage in the old colonial style, with but a frontage of 16 feet, and consequently it is well adapted to an ordiry city lot of 25 feet, leaving about two feet from 8 to 10 feet in depth, with a top f space on one side and a passageway of six thoroughly braced with steel beams to support the superposed loads. The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is—one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

RESULT THE

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893, a church to be built very soon—

The people were betrayed—their fateful voice a desirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by a public-spirited citizen-a dozen new buildings now going up and as many more contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land advancing steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished n a legitimate and permenent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of prices, and

Quincy is now fast recovering from the serious setb ack occasioned by the great strikes of last year, and a new era of prosperity is dawning on the historic old town. Our many customers here will testify that during the shut down we did not crowd them at all for payments on the lots bought on easy terms. We waited for better times, confident that our forbearance would be appreciated, and are pleased to say that our confidence was not misplaced. We are anticipating a good business in Quincy during the coming season, and feel sure we shall not be disappointed.

We shall hold regular sales every Saturday afternoon all summer, and in the United States court to a violation numberless smaller streams are being special sales on all the holidays. Salesmen will also be on the property on Sunof the neutrality law, and was fined $1699

special Commission Has Begun to Review New York's Custom House.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The special com-nittee appointed by Secretary Carlisle to avestigate affairs at the custom house, began their work yesterday. It was, however, preliminary, rather than inquiry, and was private. Ex-Collector Magone said that probably the committee's sessions would be public. In preparation for the beginning the committee had ordered the mass of documents received from Washington to be sent to the barge office. In the meantime Mr. Montgomery, the special treasury agent, was engaged in indexing these documents. They were very numerous, but their nature Mr. Magone leclined to indicate, beyond saying that they were confidential treasury papers, and would be useful in the impending investigation.

Messrs. Finlay and Cavanaugh have been detailed to serve the committee in the matter of subpomnas and in any other way mation as to persons already subpoænaed could be obtained.

Historical Spots.

We may expect an influx of people inerested in historical spots, since Mr. Hezekiah Butterworth in his interesting lecture at the New England Conservatory of Music, on "The Early Legends of New England," recommended that his audience to take a day's outing to see the historical places near by. Take a Field's Corner car to Neponset and cross over to Quincy and visit John Adams' home, the old John Adams and John Quincy Adams. Then go to the home of John Adams, an old New England house as it was a generation ago.

Come back from Dorchester via Blue Hill avenue, and on Sherry street, near the Dudley street car stables we find an old mansion called "the Sherry house," now used for tenements, which was built by At a meeting of delegates of the several Gov. Do not need to be told the many advantages of owning a summer cottage at one of the picturesque shore resorts in their own pleasant little city. The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is-one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in But the earliest ball by a forman spedthe shape of an electric road.

Than can be had at any other seashore resort within the same distance from Boston and as easily accessible as this.

Quincy is now fast recovering from the serious setback occasioned by the great strikes of last year, and a new era of prosperity is dawning on the historic old town. Our many customers here will testify that during the shut down we did not crowd them at all for payments on the lots bought on easy terms. We waited for better times, confident that our forbearance would be appreciated, and are pleased to say that our confidence was not misplaced. We are anticipating a good business in Quincy during the coming season, and feel sure we shall not be disappointed.

We shall hold regular sales every Saturday afternoon all summer, and special sales on all the holidays. Salesmen will also be on the property on Sunday to show the lots, and our terms will be the same as heretofore,

The Maiden's Choice. Two youths once lived in a country town,

And one was a giant fair, With a Saxon viking's golden crown And a blacksmith's muscles smooth a When he made his right arm bare.

The other youth was of dapper size. So slender and short was he That he found small favor in maidens' eyes, And the giant boasted in merry wise, "I could lay him across my knee."

These twain both courted the village belle, But short was the race they run; At the giant's feet the manlen fell, And the little man, though he pleaded well, Naught more than her pity won.

They marched away to the wars one day. In haste for the battle's van, And the people cheered when the giant gay Strode stoutly past for the distant fray, And they smiled at the little man.

One drop from the war black skies Passed safely over the pygmy's head, And the giant, who stood behind, fell dead, With a bullet between his eyes.

Then the little map swore, though his sight wadim.

And he bounded gead of them ali,

And the whole great army followed him.

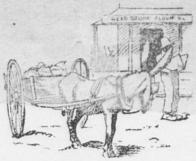

Fill he leapt like a devil, little and slim.

those days. Dimes were things to treasure carefully, and dollars, when they came, were something spoken of with bated breath and hidden away—or paid out grudg ingly. And iron was in demand. The can into requisition, it seemed to me, all the fragments of old cast iron there was in the country. Blacksmiths were paying first a cent, then 2 cents and finally 2½ cents a and the battery was recaptured. "I knew pound, though they did make a difference you would come back, and I saved the flag." whether you "took it out in trade" or de manded cash.

They're 'listing soldiers," said a nervous voice in our ears, and when we surned we found Bill Bradley, wide eyed, excited and reckless. We were surprised, for we knew it was time for dim to be at the forge, and we knew how strict was his employer in the matter of time.

We drove to the backsmith shop with the fragments of iron and found Bill Brad-ley there before us. He was pumping the bellows, and old man Carnalill was rating him soundly for his absence. The red head was a trifle higher, the blue eyes a trifle-wider, and the breath was quicker and more charged with warning. Carnahan should have known. But he didn't. He grew more enraged till at a word of defense from the boy he lost his temper cor pletely and in a fit of exasperation struck

The blow was not a severe one, and Bill could not have suffered a twinge of pain. But his pride was burt, and that blow endat for him, as that larger, later blow ended for 4,000,000 of others, his season of servi-

"I'll quit you," he cried, trembling and almost weeping with excitement and rage.

We left the iron in a pile on the shabby or and followed him with palpitating hearts to the little lobby of the postoffice. He was greeted with a chorus of shouts, as was each new recruit, and a touch of ridicule roust have mingled with the hailing, for it straightened him and stiffened him and sent him to the captain with as firm a front as ever was borne by a novice. If the men were changed by the donning of blue, what transformation was this wrought in our blacksmith boy? He was inches taller and fathoms deeper. He was a man! He stood about with the recruits, his brow darkening a little when Carnahan approached, for he could not yet understand the privilege of a warrior. But more than any other man in uniform he was severed from civil life. He was one of this wonderful legion that was filling the world with comment—and filling the homes with woe. We came to town that Saturday when the troops were mastered in and watched them drilling. We saw our blacksmith boy and wondered how we ever had addressed him he was a being so different from all he had been before. We saw the march by twos and fours and company front, the double quick and the charge. And we heard the fieldgling officers swear with strange oaths at the men they were later to push into conflict. We fancied Bill Bradley would conflict. We fancied Bill Bradley would make a modest beginning in business and to comfortable success. He march to the depot and then wept, I fear, at the passionate goodbys. There were fathers and younger brothers and desolate wives. But the saddest of all were the Abandon of their tears.

"Tha have mad me a corprl." God knows how proud he was of that-prouder of it than were the thousands who had other things to comfort them. And God knows how near us he seemed to come as the weary months went by and the fight ing began again. Once fix your mind on a man in the distance and a man who stands front face with danger night and day and never flinches, and it is wonderful how com-pletely he will fill your sky. You imagine all manner of great things about him, dread all manner of terrible things, and end at last by loving him. So, when that other battle was fought by the general who believed in sturdy blows, and when Vicksburg laid down her arms at the feet of a victorious army, we read again in the terrible lists of the killed and wounded the name of our blacksmith boy. This time, too, it was among the wounded, in the longest column, but it bore a prefix that surprised us. It was "Sergeant Bradley" now. The meager details of that time did not help us to all the information we wanted. We did not know how badly he was injured, but we sent a box of jellies and pickles and things that are not issued with the rations and got another letter telling of the battle. And it makes no difference how many of those re ports you read in the paper, this letter from a man who was in the thick of the fight was far more aut! entic. It was far more real. But Sergeant Bradley was sorely wounded this time. We found more about it later when a letter from the captain was printed in the county paper detailing the events that had been important from a subaltern's standpoint and boasting of the prowess o his men. In this was told the story of the charge led by that fragment of a Mississippi regiment, those tigers of the southcharge that was met by the tattered rem nant of the Indiana brigade. He told of the clashing of man against man and the loss nodded at us with the cheerlest sort of a of the banner over and over again—that smile. It was a thing to remember with pride when a town boy honored us with the blessings of a thousand women when Corinth fell. And it told how, when the Money was mighty scarce in our house howling, shouting, shashing, shricking le gions swept the northerners back for a mo ment and the guns were taken and not a nons made those first years of the war called and rolled with it right under the gans that

It was a man, and even in the darkness of night we ould see it was not familiar. For the matter of that, the figure of a man at all those days was not a common thing. Men were away in the south as a general rule. But this figure grew stranger as it came nearer. Presently the gate swung open and the watchdog gave challenge. We silenced him and rese to make a limiting swaving figure in Federal blue. He said with that grinning insh couth man to wish we might remember bim. NEW

WESSAGUSSETT

SPECIAL SALE DECORATION DAY.

Each succeeding year finds more people at the seashore. It is coming to be a necessity that during the summer months a man should get his family out of the town or city, into the more invigorating atmosphere of the coast. This annual change becomes a really paying investment. There is less sickness because the wife and children go home almost new creatures in strength and health.

Wessagussett

We ask a consideration of it because it seems to present a variety of features that make it very interesting as a summer resort.

Its Historical Associations

Second only to Plymouth is Wessagussett to the people of New England. In 1623 a party of settlers sailed up the coast into what is now Boston Harbor, attracted by the beauty of a spot at the mouth of a river on the south shore. They made a trade for it and established there the second settlement of white men on the New England soil. Here in the following year Myles Standish came with eleven men and rescued this infant settlement by fighting his battle with the Indians, made famous by Longfellow in his "Courtship of Myles Standish."

Its Location

At the mouth of the Weymouth Fore River, on the shore between Quincy and Downer Landing, 10 miles from Boston, within five minutes' walk of North Weymouth with its churches and stores. Get off electric cars, corner Sea and Bridge streets.

The Flats

Many otherwise attractive shore resorts on the coast and in Boston Harbor have this one drawback. Part of the day the tide leaves exposed a wide expanse or mud flats. Even when this odor is not offensive it is always a source of offence to the eye and an inconvenience to yachtsmen. Wessagussett is fortunate in having a deep water channel, close to shore and no flats whatever.

Yachtsmen

Will find this specially attractive combined with its nearness to Boston. Its a great thing to be said in favor of any place on the shore, that at any time of day a sail is a possibility, that there will be no waits for high tide either to get out or in.

Boat Pier

We have just completed at a cost $1000 a pier which gives us four feet of water at dead low tide, with good anchorage for yachts just off the head.

Beach

Is specially good for bathing, sand and fine gravel. The sheltered and enclosed location makes the water warm and attractive to people who usually keep out of cold water. The beach will be reserved for general use.

Mosquitoes

At some places they make life miserable for the summer inhabitant. The proprietor of the Bay Side House says: "I've lived here ten years and never had a screen on my house.

Beauties of Landscape and Water

The location of the Wessagussett on two hills gives it splendid views of Boston, the Islands of the Harbor, Hull and Quincy.

Accessibility

Size and Cost of Lots

The lots vary in size, but are generally 40x80 and range in price from $200 to $600. $25 first payment, balance weekly or monthly with four years to pay the whole, without interest or taxes.

Restrictions

Many otherwise desirable places along shore are disfigured by very cheap houses. We allow nothing built that costs less than $800 and those already being built range from $1200 to $2000.

Our Steamer "Miriam" makes a trip to Wessagussett every day for the accommodation of persons wanting to see this property. Make up a party of friends and take this trip down the Harbor with us, and see what is one of the most desirable shore resorts near Boston. Send for plans.

A minority of the state house committee, Messrs. Cromwell, Bacon and Nutting, dissent from the senate bill for reconstructing the front part of the state house for these reasons:

1. The state has already expended so much during the last few years for state house construction that it ought not to spend any more at present. The items of appropriation during the last five years for extending the state house and grounds and for purposes immediately connected therewith are as follows: 1. The state has already expended so much

2. It is bad financial policy to pass this bill, requiring a loan of $1,500,000 at the present time, when, if the project were postponed 25 years, the mere saving of interest on public debt would alone pay the expense of the improvement at the end of that time. The interest on $1,500,000 for one year at 3 per cent is $45,000. The interest for 25 years at the same rate is $1,125,000. This is the result at simple interest. At compound interest the total in 25 years amounts to $1,657,653.37.

3. The expenditure is unnecessary at this ime. Within a few years an examination of time. Where its Interest Lies.

By a unanimous vote, a joint special ommittee of the Legislature has cleared the management of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road from the charge that the provisions of its charter have been violated. To assume that the Consolidated road has any interest that is not closely allied to the welfare of Boston and New England would be to imply that the management of this great railroad line has other ends to seek than the development of the section from which it derives patronage and support.

There is certainly no warrant thus far n fact for any such assumption. On the contrary, those who are intrusted with the duties of directing the road show every other important points on the line

The Hub a Gainer to That Extent by a Decision In the Franklin Fund Case. Boston, May 26.—The case of the Franklin heirs against the city of Philadelphia in an attempt to secure the fund left by the will of Benjamin Franklin to that city, and also a similar fund to the city of Boston, was decided in Philadelphia against the heirs. The decision applies to the fund in Boston as well as the one in Philadelphia, and means that the city will get the whole sum, which in February ast amounted to $414.799. It is understoon that no further legal steps will be taken by the heirs, and the cision will stand as rendered. The case has been pending in one form and another since 1891, when the city was enjoined from using the accumulated fund for the payment of the debt incurred in the pur-hase of the West Roxbury park (now branklin park) on the following May.

As w have said before, one trouble is that peo ple are good natured, and when their friends want places under a new admin istration-that is, places not vacant and only to be made vacant by the demand of the office seekers—these good natured people allow themselves to become par of the pressure for the places by their recommendations and solicitations. I must sometimes look to the appointing and demanded not civil service reform but positions in the civil service. There is such a thing as rushing a re

But it is the duty of every citizen to do his share in eliminating no only the spoils system, but the spoils idea, from politics; to press upon the au thorities the necessity of continually ex tending the merit system, and of acting according to its spirit outside of the classified service. For it is no exaggera tion to say that the evils of the spoils system are illustrated in every sinister career in the history of modern American politics; every disgraceful "success" is to be laid at its doors; every corrupt charges were filed.

Do not need to be told the many advantages of owning a summer cottage at one of the picturesque shore resorts in their own pleasant little city. They know more about it than we can tell them on a whole page of the LEDGER. But we come forward once more to call their attention to the many claims to preeminence as a summer resort possessed by

HOUGHS NECK.

The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is-one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

RESULT

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893, a church to be built very soona desirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by a public-spirited citizen-a dozen buildings now going up and as many more contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land advancing steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished n a legitimate and permenent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of prices, and

THE END IS NOT YET.

Better Lots at Lower Prices

Than can be had at any other seashore resort within the same distance from Boston and as easily accessible as this.

Quincy is now fast recovering from the serio setback occasioned by the great strikes of last year, and a new era of prosperity is dawning on the historic old town. Our many customers here will testify that during the shut down we of ices. did not crowd them at all for payments on the lots bought on easy terms. We waited for better times, confident that our forbearance would be appreciated, and are pleased to say that our confidence was not misplaced. We are anticipating a good business in Quincy during the coming season, and feel sure we shall not be disappointed.

We shall hold regular sales every Saturday afternoon all summer, and special sales on all the holidays. Salesmen will also be on the property on Sunday to show the lots, and our terms will be the same as heretofore,

$5 Down and $5 a Month,

With liberal discount for cash. The chance for investment is still good, as our prices are still reasonable, and good lots can yet be had for anywhere from five to ten cents per foot or from $200 to $400 a lot.

SUNDAY OPENING QUESTION

United States Court.

CHICAGO, May 26.-C old, which seemed bitter in the extreme, prevailed at Jackson park yesterday. The wind from the lake blew hard all day, and the boats on the lagoon were very poorly patronized. In consequence of the weather the attendance was not good.

There were no openings of special attractions to make a great bid for a good crowd, and it did not come. The visitors stayed in the buildings as much as possible and came out only when the bands from the German village marched up through the plaisance and the grounds to the opening of the German section in agricultural building. Dull and lowering clouds hung over the city during the afternoon, and the crowds which usually come

A LARGE CONTRACT. Showers and a gale made the formal opening short of success. A fine illumination, however, was given by means of the dazzling effect. No attempt will be made to start the electric fountains until all the machinery is in working order. The buildings were brilliantly lighted.

The officials are proceeding with their reparations for opening the fair next Sunday, and are encouraged by the reports from other cities convenient to Chicago of great interest in the first opening. There is an increased demand for tickets, and if it is not opened there will be many disappointed persons. The idea that the matter would be taken to the United States disrict court seemed to meet with general favor. The advocates of both sides of the case are confident of success.

The adjourned meeting of the board of directors that was to have been held yes-terday was declared off. Its purpose was the consideration of the Sunday opening matter, but the directors, deeming that ssue finally settled, do not see the need of getting together the national commission.

oston Reds Looked Upon Them as Easy Victims But Were Mistaken. Boston, May 26.-One very peccliar aseball feature noticeable during the past two or three years, is the fact that the Bostons put up a strong game against the big teams, and a weak one oftentimes against the lesser ones. The game yesterlay was anticipated as an easy victory for the Reds, but it proved otherwise.

The Senators were accorded a hearty reception, and all the old Boston favorites were received royally. Sam Wise, Jim Will Probably Be Settled by the O'Rourke, Paul Radford, Charley Farrell and Joe Sullivan came in for much applause. TOILET SOAPS.

Low priced Toilet Soaps are made generally of cheap material like soap grease and other refuse, then perfumed highly to mask the true odor, often causing an endle s amount of skin diseases which are attributed to other causes. We have conceived the idea of having a soap made up for us of Pure Olive Oil, unscented, from the Holy Land which we positively guarantee strictly pure and healthful for the toilet and bath; just the soap to wash the baby with, making the skin healthy and the complextion fair.

This Soap we shall sell for 5 cents per cake or 50 cents for a one dozen b x. Be sure and see that our name is stamped on each cake as all others are spurious.

On Decoration Day. Not no! No roses for that grave, Not hothouse blossoms gay! No other flowers he cared for, save The gentle wild ones did my brave— My boy who marched away.

And blushes like a girl,
A lip that darkened downywise,
And taper hands a maid might prize,
And soft brown hair a-ourl.

He loved to haunt the forest dells Where shady ferns are best, And foxgloves with their dainty bells, And where the timid violet tell A fairy's lips have prest.

The simple daisy queen, And happiest, from a baby, rolled Amid its foam of white and gold On summer's waves of greet

And on that ever echoing day The little town and I Saw our dear lifeblood drawn away, And eyes were set, and lips were gray, And trumpets blaring high.

And kissed him once and wrenched apart And looked again and saw him start— A soldier with the rest.

The flower he loved the best,

I pinned above my boy's heart

My country asked my all, and I-I gave as mothers may.
The daisies withered with July, And when the August fields were dry They brought me back—some clay.

A stiff, soaked letter on his breast With crumbling petals in,
A brow that bore the kiss of rest,
And lightly to its treasure prest
The fingers pale and thin.

At home I tend a shabby flower That pined the winter through.
It seemed to shrink from hour to hourPerhaps, in place of Nature's shower,
It drank too bitter dew.

One little starving bloom it bore, But timely did its part, And while today the roses pour My boy shall have his own once more-A daisy on his heart!

THE MUSIC OF 1861.

WARTIME BANDS HELD CARNIVAL ON THE POTOMAC'S BANKS.

With Drums and Trumpets the Boys In Blue Awoke the Echoes In the Virginia Hills - Sweet Old Melodies Heard on Many a Bloody Field-The Reveille.

While McClellan was organizing the army around Washington in 1861 and matters were comparatively quiet on the Potomac there was abundant opportunity to observe the variety in style and composition of the music furnished by the bands of the various regiments stationed about Chain bridge. Almost every state from Maine to the Mississippi was represented, and even California was there.

It was considered a great thing in those days to have a drum major or a veteran fifer who had been through the Mexican war and was master of all the old army service calls and marching tunes. We enjoyed our bands, of course, and looked forward with eagerness to the afternoon con-cert, for regularly every fair day when 4 o'clock came around the really good bands would be assembled, and then the banks of the Potomac seemed bathed in a flood of martial melody. First the band of the Sixth Maine would strike up and favor us with some stirring quickstep. Then over by General Smith's headquarters on the roadside north of the new fortifications (Forts Ethan Allen and Marcy) the band of the Third Vermont would chime in with another the instant the echoes of the first had died away, and before the applause for their effort was stilled the "silver cornets" of the Fifth Wisconsin would be uplifted, and the woods would ring again.

But the field music-the drummers and fifers, the buglers and trumpeters—had we always, and after all the music that seemed to make the most lasting impression and to be most intimately associated with soldiers' life was that which they gave us. I shall north of the bridge They used to rout us out bright and early a those days—the cooks first, an hour before dawn, so that there might be coffee ready for every man-a "stand off" against the malaria. Then just as the first faint flush of coming morn could be traced upon the eastern sky the corporals of the guard would come raiding through the company grounds, turning out the boy drummers and fifers and getting heartily "cussed" by many a growler for making so much noise about it as to disturb their comrades of the ranks. And then in their shoddy greatcoats the boys would gather under the eye of the drum major and brace their batter heads and blow through their fifes, and then all of a sudden, as it began to grow light enough to see across the valley, somebody would let drive up near the Vermont brigade headquarters, and in less than a mina growler for making so much noise about gade headquarters, and in less than a minute double quick, squeak and pipe, loud and shrill, rattlely bang, hoarse and rearing, the rollicking notes of the reveille would go echoing up and down the heights, and even the fog banks seemed to reverberate with dozen regiments of infantry, the blaring bugle of Mott's battery, all "letting go" at Reveille, with variations! First the lively "tumble up," and then the medley of melodies so popular in the old army, the

Every command that had an "old regular" for drum major or fifer had Moore's melodies or the songs of Scotland by heart. The boys of the Second Vermont would be trolling out "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon," their comrades of the Third Green Mountaineers beginning their march to "I'd Mourn the Hopes That Leave Me," the Sixth Maine tumbling up from its blankets to the plaintive notes of "Willie, We Have Missed You," the Second Wisonsin swearing at the racket of a thundering performance of "Yankee Doodle," the Highlanders turning out to the tune of "Bonnie Dundee," the Californians across the ravine shouting the chorus of "Finne-gan's Wake," over on the earthen ramparts of the new fort the Nineteenth Indiana boys attempting an artistic performance of "The Dawn of the Day," which neat and appropriate effort was drowned out by those iconoclastic ruffians of the Fifth Wisconsin howling in unison with their fifes and drums the touching cords of that classic ditty, "Joe Bowers:"

At last I got a letter from my dear brother Ike. It came from old Missouri and all the way from Pike.

Up on the heights Mott's buglers were braying, "Can't get 'em up; I can't get 'em up in the mo-orning," and over on the plateau the Sixth Wisconsin—talk about the Siegfried "motif"—the signal of his bugle horn that is carried through all the grand music of the Wagner operas-why, ever since the Mexican war every drum and fife corps, in the west at least, has been hammering away in "two-four time" at a quickstep that in their exact order conland knows it now. Verily, we had a concours of sweet sounds to get up and dress by in the early war days.—St. Louis Republic

BEAUTIFUL ARLINGTON.

The Sacred Spot Where Slumber Thousands of Our Loyal Dead. Nor shall your glory be forgot
While Fame her record keeps
Or Honor points the hallowed spot
Where Valor proudly sleeps.

-O'Hara.

Arlington holds within her emerald bosom 16,000 heroes. Like an Egyptian queen in mournful majesty, gazing on the eternal waters of the Nile, Arlington rears her ro-mantic head to the sky and bathes her feet in the murmuring waters of the Potomac The gnarled oak, the cedar and sighing pine echo back the cry of the raven and the song of the wild bird, and through the morning sunlight and evening twilight the ing heavens and its altar candles the watching stars of God. As the years glide away and coming cenuries usher into life millions of human beings Arlington shall be a mecca for the unalterable principles of truth, and around its undulating vales and green hillocks the spirit of love and loyalty shall kneel at the vespers of nationality and swing perfumed ensers at the holy shrine of prayer and patriotism. Monuments of marble, granite and bronze lift their modest or pretentious heads, appealing to the memory of those who wan-der near the lowly bed where valor sleeps, but when these emblems of love and re membrance have crumbled into impalpable dust the truth for which they died shall shine out like the rising sun and e as lasting as eternity.

The home of romance and wealth has become at last the sepulcher of the dead, and the laughing, musical voices of the proud past are but a memory in the columned mansion of General Lee. Sheridan of the army and Porter of the navy sleep their last sleep in front of Arlington mansion, and the stars and stripes floating from a tall staff throws its glinting shadows over the heroes that rest below. Long, reginever forget the morning reveille along the heights overlooking the Chain bridge. Already the automn frosts had begun to touch the woods with fire and tinge the tolinge with crisis on and gold. The mists billowed upward from the silent reaches of the stream and its bordering canal and hung like some never drop curtain between the ares. Over on the Virginia side the great mass of the force was in camp or bivouac, while the reserves were still occupying for drill purposes the broad plateau porth of the bridge. framed in by the rolling hills of Maryland. The brave hearts that slumber forever at Arlington, as well as those dear comrades at Shiloh, Chickamauga, Fredericksburg and Gettysburg, dedicated their lives to and Gettysburg, dedicated their lives to liberty and immortalized their devotion by death. Who will care for their loved mounds when we are gone? Who will then strew roses and plant bright flowers in the Maytime of nature? Other patriotic hands of brave men and fair women will take up the roll of duty, and even when all but liberty has perished from the earth the rolling and

A Daring Escape.

"It has been calculated that for every 300 bullets fired during the civil war a man was killed, but I saw a regiment of Mississippians who prided themselves on their the lively clamor.

Just fancy it! All within hailing distance one of the other, the field music of a lame and fail to get him," said Major James Huxley to the writer. "We were at James Huxley to the writer. "We were at Corinth and had captured a smooth faced spy and sentenced him to be hanged. He was marched out of camp to where a rude gallows had been hastily erected, and the egiment detailed to see him well into the next world formed a hollow square. The prisoner was a slight, girlish looking fellow with a babyish face, and I felt that he should be spared and sent home to his mother instead of being strung up as a spy I expected to see him break down and beg or his life and was nerving myself for i when we were treated to a spectacle of ite a different kind. Just as he mounted gallows with a guard on either side of him and two behind him he slipped his small hands through his jewelry and let out right and left, knocking the first two guards sprawling. The two behind him stood two steps below him. He turned, vaulted over their heads, and before the are could come to a charge bayonets had broken through it and was running like a scared wolf. The regiment broke into an impulsive cheer, and it was nearly a minute before the order to fire upon him was obeyed. Then a scattering volley was sent after him. I don't know how the others aimed, but I can make oath that my bullet did not come within a dozen rods of him. We gave chase, but it was like try ing to run down a streak of lightning Once the young daredevil turned and waved his handkerchief, then fled on toward the Federal lines."-St. Louis Globe

Songs of the War.

Outside of "Dixie" the south had hardly a war song of their own, while the north was affluent. "Tramp! Tramp! Tramp!" Memories That Will Live.

As delicate flowers spring from the moldring sides of old graves, so there grow out of the memory of the war many things that are good and pleasant at this time to look back at and ponder over. It would be hard to find the veteran whose eye does not glow with a merrier light when he tells of things hat happened during that long and sul hurous time. Yet few of these things of which the soldier loves to tell have been re orded. Many histories, colored as various y bright and somber as the chameleon have been written, and these have set forth the broad facts of the war. Thus the his tory of the civil war will live for all time.-New Orleans Times-Democrat.

SPECIAL SALE DECORATION DAY.

Each succeeding year finds more people at the seashore. It is coming to be a necessity that during the summer months a man should get his family out of the town or city, into the more invigorating atmosphere of the coast. This annual change becomes a really paying investment. There is less sickness because the wife and children go home almost new creatures in strength and health.

Wessagussett

We ask a consideration of it because it seems to present a variety of features that make it very interesting as a summer resort.

Its Historical Associations

Second only to Plymouth is Wessagussett to the people of New England. In 1623 a party of settlers sailed up the coast into what is now Boston Harbor, attracted by the beauty of a spot at the mouth of a river on the south shore. They made a trade for it and established there the second settlement of white men on the New England soil. Here in the following year Myles Standish came with eleven men and rescued this infant settlement by fighting his battle with the Indians, made famous by Longfellow in his "Courtship of Myles Standish."

Its Location

At the mouth of the Weymouth Fore River, on the shore between Quincy and Downer Landing, 10 miles from Boston, within five minutes' walk of North Weymouth with its carches and stores. Get off electric cars, corner Sea and Bridge streets.

The Flats

Many otherwise attractive shore resorts on the coast and in Boston Harbor have this one drawback. Part of the day the tide leaves exposed a wide expanse of mud flats. Even when this odor is not offensive it is always a source of offence to the eye and an inconvenience to yachtsmen. Wessagussett is fortunate in having a deep water channel, close to shore and no flats whatever.

Yachtsmen

Will find this specially attractive combined with its nearness to Boston. Its a great thing to be said in favor of any place on the shore, that at any time of day a sail is a possibility, that there will be no waits for high tide either to get out or in.

Boat Pier

We have just completed at a cost of $1000 a pier which gives us four feet of water at dead low tide, with good anchorage for yachts just off the head.

Beach

Is specially good for bathing, sand and fine gravel. The sheltered and enclosed location makes the water warm and attractive to people who usually keep out of cold water. The beach will be reserved for general use.

Mosquitoes

At some places they make life miserable for the summer inhabitant. The proprietor of the Bay Side House says: "I've lived here ten years and never had a screen on my house.

Beauties of Landscape and Water

The location of the Wessagussett on two hills gives it splendid views of Boston, the Islands of the Harbor, Hull and Quincy.

Accessibility

Size and Cost of Lots

The lots vary in size, but are generally 40x80 and range in price from $200 to $600. $25 first payment, balance weekly or monthly with four years to pay the whole, without interest or taxes.

Restrictions

Many otherwise desirable places along shore are disfigured by very cheap houses. We allow nothing built that costs less than $800 and those already being built range from $1200 to $2000.

Our Steamer "Miriam" makes a trip to Wessagussett every day for the accommodation of persons wanting to see this property. Make up a party of friends and take this trip down the Harbor with us, and see what is one of the most desirable shore resorts near Boston. Send for plans.

MEMORIAL DAY.

We are going to have a big sale of land and want every one who is interested to come down. By applying to any of our lot owners in Quincy, they will get your free tickets on the electric cars to and from Hough's Neck. We can interest you after you get there and before you come back just take a look over the property with one of the salesmen. We will show you the lots and give you prices, and you can go home and think it over a few days. Don't fail to come, and come prepared to own a lot this summer.

Quincy People

Do not need to be told the many advantages of owning a summer cottage at one of the picturesque shore resorts in their own pleasant little city. They know more about it than we can tell them on a whole page of the LEDGER. But we come forward once more to call their attention to the many claims to preeminence as a summer resort possessed by

HOUGHS NECK.

The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is—one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

RESULT

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire alarm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper during the summer of 1893, a church to be built very soona desirable and sightly lot having been given outright for the purpose by a public-spirited citizen-a dozen new buildings now going up and as many more contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land advancing steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished n a legitimate and permenent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of

THE END IS NOT YET.

Look ahead three years and consider the possibilities of this resort if the improvements continue at the same rate, and you will see a town rivaling Winthrop on the opposite side of the harbor.

We think we are safe in saying that we are offering

Better Lots at Lower Prices

Than can be had at any other seashore resort within the same distance from Boston and as easily accessible as this.

Quincy is now fast recovering from the serio setback occasioned by the great strikes of last year, and a new era of prosperity is dawning on the historic old town. Our many customers here will testify that during the shut down we did not crowd them at all for payments on the lots bought on easy terms. We waited for better times, confident that our forbearance would be appreciated, and are pleased to say that our confidence was not misplaced. We are anticipating a good business in Quincy during the coming season, and feel sure we and Mrs. Elizabeth Farren have been liv-

In Introducing Chinamen at $100 a Head.

Boston, May 29 .- Two Chinamen have been placed under arrest in Vermont by special officers of the government for fraudently introducing their fellow countrymen into the states. They were Frank C. Park of St. Johnsbury and Chin Poy of Lydenville, the latter transacting business under the assumed name of Charlie Wah Kee.

These men were lodged in jail at St. Johnsbury. Charles L. Smith has also been arrested at Charleston by United States Marshal Fairley and placed in jai at Newport, Vt. Warrants have been is-sued, and officers are in hot pursuit of Frank Ross, also Wilts Hopkins and wife and their arrest is hourly expected. It appears that some months ago Specia Agent of the Treasury Department Con verse J. Smith of Boston obtained in formation that Chinese laborers and laundrymen were being smuggled in large numbers into the United States, and ac-

The charges upon which warrant is is sued are that when the Chinamen were taken from Montreal they were delivered to one Frank Lee, also a Chinaman and laundryman, at Sherbrooke, P. Q., who secreted them for 10 days or two weeks in order that no trail might be obtained of the men, and then under cover of the night they were taken by carriage by A. F. Miles to his residence at Stanstead, near the border.

Miles, so it is said, had fitted up his house for accommodation of these me and here they were also detained for a time and then forwarded again by night to one Charles L. Smith at Charleston Vt., who in turn delivered them to Chinese laundrymen at Lydenville or St. Johns bury, Vt., some 60 miles from the border and at these points the Chinamen have taken trains to Lowell, Lawrence and other cities. Frank Ross and Wilts Hopkins, also Mattie Ross, a daughter of the former, who was united in marriage to Hopkin two weeks since, all residing at Charles-ton, have also, it is charged, fraudulenty introduced Chinamen and acted as car riers between the points mentioned. Several of these parties have also, it is be lieved, been engaged in smuggling opium and other merchandise. The number of Chinamen thus frauduit is known to be large, as a great number of tickets have been purchased at St. Johnsbury and Lydenville by the mer now under arrest.

It is believed that Miles and others re ceived $100 for each Chinaman thus carried across the line, and the Enforcement of the Geary Law Means Termination of All Relations. WASHINGTON, May 29.-J. Hubley Ashon, one of the counsel for the Chinese government in the recent test case before the supreme court as to the constitutionality of the Geary law, said that the new Chinese minister would arrive here in about a month. When asked if the statement was correct that the minister was delaying his departure in order to bring an ultimatum rom the Chinese government as to the Geary law and its violation of treaty obligations, Mr. Ashton, replied: "Oh, I think not. The Chinese govern ment has already informed the state de partment that if anything is done under he Geary law, all relations with China diplomatic, commercial and otherwise may be considered as terminated. The Americans now in China will be ordered to withdraw, and what trade we have with China will stop. There is nothing further o be said on the part of the Chinese government.'

SHORE RESORT

WESSAGUSSETT

DAY. SPECIAL SALE DECORATION

Each succeeding year finds more people at the seashore. It is coming to be a necessity that during the summer months a man should get his family out of the town or city, into the more invigorating atmosphere of the coast. This annual change becomes a really paying investment. There is less sickness because the wife and children go home almost new creatures in strength and health.

Wessagussett

We ask a consideration of it because it seems to present a variety of features that make it very interesting as a summer resort.

Its Historical Associations

Second only to Plymouth is Wessagussett to the people of New England. In 1623 a party of settlers sailed up the coast into what is now Boston Harbor, attracted by the beauty of a spot at the mouth of a river on the south shore. They made a trade for it and established there the second settlement of white men on the New England soil. Here in the following year Myles Standish came with eleven men and rescued this infant settlement by fighting his battle with the Indians, made famous by Longfellow in his "Courtship of Myles Standish."

Its Location

At the mouth of the Weymouth Fore River, on the shore between Quincy and Downer Landing, 10 miles from Boston, within five minutes' walk o North Weymouth with its churches and stores. Get off electric cars, corner Sea and Bridge streets.

The Flats

Many otherwise attractive shore resorts on the coast and in Boston Harbor have this one drawback. Part of the day the tide leaves exposed a wide expanse of mud flats. Even when this odor is not offensive it is always a source of offence to the eye and an inconvenience to yachtsmen. Wessagussett is fortunate in having a deep water channel, close to shore and no flats whatever.

Yachtsmen

Will find this specially attractive combined with its nearness to Boston. Its a great thing to be said in favor of any place on the shore, that at any time of day a sail is a possibility, that there will be no waits for high tide either to get out or in.

Boat Pier

We have just completed at a cost of $1000 a pier which gives us four feet of water at dead low tide, with good anchorage for yachts just off the head.

Beach

Is specially good for bathing, sand and fine gravel. The sheltered and enclosed location makes the water warm and attractive to people who usually keep out of cold water. The

Mosquitoes

At some places they make life miserable for the summer inhabitant. The proprietor of the Bay Side House says: "I've lived here ten years and never had a screen on my house.

Beauties of Landscape and Water

The location of the Wessagussett on two hills gives it splendid views of Boston, the Islands of the Harbor, Hull and Quincy.

Accessibility

Size and Cost of Lots

The lots vary in size, but are generally 40x80 and range in price from $200 to $600. $25 first payment, balance weekly or monthly with four years to pay the whole, without

Restrictions

Many otherwise desirable places along shore are disfigured by very cheap houses. We allow nothing built that costs less than $800 and those already being built range from

Our Steamer "Miriam" makes a trip to Wessagussett every day for the accommodation of persons wanting to see this property. Make up a party of friends and take this trip down the Harbor with us, and see what is one of the most desirable shore resorts near Boston. Send for plans.

Incident In Connection With the Bay State Building.

CHICAGO, May 29.—One hundred and twenty-five thousand people after a week but two hours old when the people began o arrive at the grounds. All modes of ransportation brought their quotas, and came long lines of people. But the masses did not begin to arrive until afternoon. Beginning at 2 o'clock the multitudes flocked into the grounds at every gate, and pany came in for some strong criticisms as by 4 o'clock 60,000 people were inside the

The people kept on coming the entire afternoon and evening. After dark the grounds were lighted up, and this atracted still more. When the crowds were ready to go home a conservative estimated placed the number for the day and evening at 125,000. The doors of 15 states and territorial buildings were locked for this day only, and visitors were generally informed to that effect by cards. Missouri, Deleware, New York, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Dakota, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland and Massa-chusetts were among the buildings which the people only obtained an outside ton Given a Third Reading. BOSTON, May 29.—Contrary to the usual istom, the senate was in session all day Saturday in order to facilitate business and lessen the eight page calendar, which embodied much important legislation. After a lengthy discussion the bill to place all wires under ground in the streets of Boston was given a third reading, with amendments to exempt low tension wires running over house tops used mostly for messenger, burglar alarm and other light

The following bills were passed to be engrossed: Senate bill to protect persons, associations or unions of persons in their labels, trademarks and forms of adver-tising; house bill in addition to several acts making appropriations for expenses of toil, visited the World's fair grounds authorized the present year, and for ceryesterday. The report of the committee on manufacturers, reference to the next general court, on the petition of the mayor of Boston for legislation enabling said city and other cities and towns to obtain gas and electricity at cheaper rates by compelling corporations to pay for the location of pipes and wires, and by other means, was accepted.

Senator Lawrence advocated his amendment to the house bill to prevent foreign corporations from issuing stock or other securities upon the property or franchise of domestic corporations, that nothing contained in this act shall be construed as affecting the right of corporations, its officers and agents thereof, from issuing bonds and stock on fulfilment of contracts now existing or entered into on the faith of laws heretofore enacted, under which said issue or issues may lawfully be made. The amendment was adopted and the bill referred to the next general court.

Senators Shaw, Fitzgerald and Horton were appointed a committee of conference upon the disagreement with the house or the bill to authorize the organization of insurance companies to insure against loss or damage to property by accident.

VICTIM A YOUNG WOMAN.

The Horrible Deed Shrouded In Mystery.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 31.-The city is in a state of intense excitement, due to the discovery last night of an atrocious murder, rivalling in many respects those of Mr. and Mrs. Borden.

The victim was Miss Bertha Manches ter, aged 22 years, a former student in the high school, and a descendant of one of the oldest families in this section of New England. Miss Manchester lived at a farmhouse, four miles from city hall, on what is known as the New Boston road, very near the Wilson road.

THE SOUTH BOSTON RACE.

Several of the Quincy Boats Enter-Good Showing by the Beatrice.

The open regatta under the auspices of the South Boston club on Memorial day opened the yachting season.

A muzzling sou'easter was blewing over the course, says the Boston Advertiser, when the preparatory gun for the first open regatta of the season was given. Yet not a reef was taken and, with lee rails buried well under, the 50 or more yachts that were entered in the five classes began to move to their various positions for the start with all the grace of participants in a nautical Vanity Fair. The courses of the first, second and special, third and fourth classes were 15, 11, 7 and 4 miles respectively, and every race was fought out in the gamiest manner by all the amateur skippers. The Handsel won first prize in the first class, the Climax taking second. The Exile and Thrush took the honors in the special class, the Wapiti, Awilda, Ustane and Good Luck in the second. Magpie, Egeria and Arab in the third, and Tantrum, Laurel and For a term of five years from June 5, Princess in the fourth.

By the corrected time the order of the boats was as follows:

First class,-Handsel, Climax, Beatrice, Minnie R., Quissett, Hiladee, Mattie, Stanley, Violet, Annie Maud, Joseph N. Randolph.

Special Class,-Exile, Thrush, Romance. Second Class,-Wapiti, Arvilda, Ustane, Good Luck, Sinbad, Black Cloud, Adolph, Judith, Gypsy, Odd Fellow, Julia, Helen, pupils of that school. At 2 o'clock a number of pieces of the Quincy band played "Marching through Georgia" and the pupils marched out and took a position facing the main building.

Dr. J. A. Gordon, sub-committeeman was then introduced and addressed the pupils. He told them why they were celebrating today the glorious deeds of these who 32 years ago went to the war and were killed or died. He told of the lessons Memorial day should teach the children and of the flag and what it meant.

At the conclusion of Dr. Gordon's remarks, a new flag, which had been presented to the school, was flung to the breeze by Comrades Brown and Loud of the Grand Army.

The remainder of the programme consisted of concert recitations by the several classes of the school, singing by the school and music by the band. There was also a short address by Comrade James F. Merrill, who gave several war reminiscences, exhibiting during the course of his remarks a blanket which had been pierced; by a rebel shell also a mortar in miniture made from rebel bullets. Miss Clara F. Dutfield gave a pleasing recitation entitled "Cover them over with beautiful flowers."

The exercises closed with cheers by the school for the flag, Dr. Gordon, the teachers. band and every body.

The Quarry Railroad.

The proposed railroad into the quarry region at West Quincy is to be built as will be seen by the following financial news in a Boston paper:

The Quincy Quarry Company has called 50 per cent. on its subscription, and will begin work on its proposed railroad this week. The mileage will be about five miles, and will connect with the Old Colony road at West Quincy.

Very easy terms. Quincy, April 3.

Quincy People

Do not need to be told the many advantages of owning a summer cottage at one of the picturesque shore resorts in their own pleasant little city. They know more about it than we can tell them on a whole page of the LEDGER. But we come forward once more to call their attention to the many claims to preeminence as a summer resort possessed by

HOUGHS NECK.

The older residents of Quincy can remember-not so many years agowhen the total number of buildings beyond the old Willow House might have been counted on the fingers of one's two hands. It was always considered a pleasant place to go for a day's outing, and it needed only some means of quick | Beach communication with the rest of the world to develop it and make it what it now is-one of the most popular summer resorts for people of moderate means on the whole eastern coast of Massachusetts. Certain shrewd business men in Quincy and Boston foresaw this and provided the means of communication in the shape of an electric road.

RESULT

Every one who has visited the place during the past year knows. In less than three years' time the picturesque farms along the shores of Quincy Bay and the Weymouth River have been transformed into a thriving little summer village of over two hundred summer cottages, with hotels, stores, post office, telephone, fire and arm, electric cars every half hour all summer, city water from Quincy assured, a daily paper the summer of 1893, a church to be built very soona desirable and sightly lot having been some outright for the purpose by a public-spirited citizen-a dozen new buildings now going up and as many mere contracted for, with others contemplated, and the value of land advancing steadily year by year. All these things have been accomplished n a legitimate and permenent way, without any fictitious boom or unwarranted inflation of

THE END IS NOT YET.

Look ahead three years and consider the possibilities of this resort if the improvements continue at the same rate, and you will see a town rivaling Winthrop on the opposite side of the harbor.

We think we are safe in saying that we are offering

Better Lots at Lower Prices

Than can be had at any other seashore resort within the same distance from Boston and as easily accessible as this.

Quincy is now fast recovering from the serious setback occasioned by the great strikes of last year, and a new era of prosperity is dawning on the historic old town. Our many customers here will testify that during the shut down we did not crowd them at all for payments on the lots bought on easy terms. We waited for better times, confident that our forbearance would be appreciated, and are pleased to say that our confidence was not misplaced. We are anticipating a good business in Quincy during the coming season, and feel sure we shall not be disappointed.

We shall hold regular sales every Saturday afternoon all summer, and special sales on all the holidays. Salesmen will also be on the property on Sunday to show the lots, and our terms will be the same as heretofore,

$5 Down and $5 a Month.

With liberal discount for cash. The chance for investment is still good, as our prices are still reasonable, and good lots can yet be had for anywhere from five to ten cents per foot or from $200 to $400 a lot.

Drop us a postal for circulars, plans and prices, and make an appointment to look the land over.
